Dear Sir—The Moncton Amateur Athletic Association, of which you have so long been the honored president, heard with the most sincere regret of your contemplated removal from Moncton, and that regret was deepened by the thought that such a step or your part necessarily involved your severance from our association as its chief executive officer. The name of Dr. McCully has so long been so closely associated with all the interests appertaining to every branch of wholesome and recreative amateur athletics in this city, that the unexpected announcement of your intended departure from among us, might well be calculated to call forth that universal regret which, in a measure, finds expression through this address and the friends assembled here this evening.

Twelve years ago the members of the Moncton Amateur Athletic Association, then but a primitive organization, did themselves the honor of selecting you as their president; and so worthily and creditably did you fulfill their expectations that it has been their highest aim and greatest privilege ever since to solicit your continued activity in that position. Your high integrity, affable and genial personality, sound executive ability and unswerving devotion of pure and healthful athletics, brought to the office those most excellent qualifications that are indispensable to an association such as you have ever striven to build up in this city. Therefore do we take advantage of this opportunity now to say with the strongest emphasis that we have appreciated more than words can tell, the great sacrifice you have made, not only in giving so lavishly of your means, but, by contributing in very cover that even though as and than words can tell, the great sacrince y have made, not only in giving so lavishly your means, but by contributing in ve many ways that even those so closely assciated with you in the work know not Although at times there may have seem to be an air of indifference among the me bers of the association, yet we beg to sure you that never have we lost sight the fact that our prestige has been matained by having at our head a gentleman such distinguished social qualifites, and o who has such a high position in his profision and is so highly esteemed by the comunity at large.

who has such a high position in his profession and is so highly esteemed by the community at large.

The Moncton Amateur Athletic Association has not always been in the comparatively prosperous condition in which it is today. You, sir, have seen it at its lowest ebb, and it has been due to your indomitable perseverance that it survived the critical periods of its existence. Yours has ever been the fostering care that nurtured the weakling and reared it to the strong and vigorous association it is today, wielding an influence in the world of healthy recreation and athletics, probably not surpassed by any in the maritime provinces. During the last seven or eight years at least, few associations can boast of more marked progress than ours. Not only with respect to the maintenance and improvement of field and track can this be said, but pardonable pride is felt by this association in the fact that we have always carried off our share of the honors in tests of skill at games or athletics, whenever we have come in contact with competitors from all parts of this broad dominion. And we appreciate the realization that not only has your energizing influence and labors been converged to the best interests of the association, have been exemplified by you in participating in the recreative games on the field. As in all our associations with you, so en the cricket field or on the tennis court, your courteous, dignified and gentlemanly deportment has won our highest respect. Through the life of the association we have seen exemplified by you in participating in the recreative games on the field. As in all our associations with you, so en the cricket field or on the tennis court, your courteous, dignified and gentlemanly deportment has won our highest respect. Through the life of the association we have a departed and the profession of the weakling are too often woven into pleasing it words are too often woven into pleasing it was broads are too often woven into pleasing it was broads are too often woven into pleasing it was b our hearts; and we trust that in the years to come it will ever be our aim to emulate your example in the highest degree.

In this busy world of whirl and rush, words are too often woven into pleasing phraseology today only to be forgotten to-morrow, but we can assure you, sir, that you will ever retain a high place in the storehouse of our memory; and it is no mere interpolation of phrase when we say this association and the community are deeply sensible of the loss they sustain by the aundering of those ties which have given us so large an insight into the high motives that have actuated all your public zeal in behalf of any and every laudable movement with which your name has been connected during your citizenship here. Your successes in the broader sphere to which your eminent attainments in your profession call you, will always be heard of by us with the greatest delight. Our personal interest in your welfare will follow you and we hope that when in the flight of time you are prompted to seek a still larger sphere of action and return to the "Hub" of the maritime provinces, that the M. A. A. A. will not be found to have been recreant to its trust, but will have expanded and kept pace with the age, having for its membership a grateful and influential manhood that will delight to do honor to the return of one who had so large a share in the founding of so grand an erganization for the physical development of our young men.

Our very best wishes accompany your family to your new home. Please carry to Mrs. McCully the very kindest regards of the members of the Moncton Amateur Athletic Association, and permit us to ask you to accept turtherance of our sincerity and best respects, this dressing case and pipe, which we hope will serve as a souvenir of the pleasant relations that have existed between us as president and members.

Wiship you a happy and prosperous New Year, we have the honor to be.

Dr. McCully replied in appropriate terms, giving expression to the pleasure it had always given him to help in the work of promoting amateur athletics and the regret he felt at leaving Manager, though he housed that in his new home in St. John his association with the people here would not be altogether severed.

A number of the toasts were proposed and duly honored, all the speakers referring in the highest terms to the departing guest

The recovery of Mr. Norman Batty, Hardware Merchant, one of Norwich's oldest and most successful citizens, has excited much comment. For years Mr. Batty has been an unceasing sufferer from Catarrhal Asthma and although no end of time and money was spent, relief was not obtained until Mr. Batty commenced Catarrhozone treat ment, which perfectly cured him. This case is only equalled by that of Mrs. Bannon, wife of J. J. Bannon, Druggist, who was also cured of Asthma gist, who was also cured of Asthma and Hay Fever by Catarrhozone after thirty years' suffering. Fully a hundred persons in this town have been cured of Catarrhal troubles by Catarrh-ozone, which is a remarkable proof of its value. Two months' treatment, Price $1. Small size, 25c. to Prevent Ringing. Growing Belief That Congress of National Trotting Association

Will Suppress Turf Outlaws.

(New York Herald.) Charles M. Jewett, secretary of the New England Trotting Horse Breeders' Association, will advocate, at the coming congress of the National Trot-ting Association, a system of branding fornia are branded under their manes with numbers which are registered in the private catalogue at Palo Alto along with the name, age, description and pedigree of each horse. By means daughters, Mrs. William Walker of Norton and Miss Bell Keirstead of Alto may be easily identified, no difference whether he is found in the grand circuit or in the British army in

The Aetna and Liverpool & London & Mr. Jewett would not brand horses now on the turf, but would require that all green horses starting hereafter Po'son's Narviline Cures theumatism the first time on National tracks, the umber assigned to each animal to be orded at the office of the secretary n Hartford, with full particulars cerning the animal's description, history and pedigree. This plan, Fred G. Spencer of St. John, is one though not new, is regarded as the of the wealthiest merchants of Vicmost effective one ever proposed for wiping out the horde of turf outlaws which infests minor eastern trotting tracks every year, and it will have the support of many horsemen who believe the time has arrived to replace the primitive and ineffective machinery

There is ground for the belief that this or some other plan designed to prevent ringing may be adopted by both the National and American Trotting associations this year. The sys-tem of compulsory registration now in vogue on the running turf is favored by not a few horsemen. Though not so effective as the branding system, it would, it is believed, make the mas-querading of an outclassed campaigner in the slow classes a very difficult matter. Some horsemen have pro to compel the recording of all trotting bred foals intended for racing. But the better opinion seems to be that it would be sufficient to merely register at Hartford a detailed description of every horse hereafter starting on a every horse hereafter starting on a National track, with his history traced back to the man who bred him, in much the same way as horses are now much the same way as horses are now recorded in the export department of the National Trotting Association.

Mr. Jewett advocates also a practical scheme to rid the turf of hoppled pacers without injuring anybody's property interests. He proposes an amendment to the rules providing that after March 1 1902, no green horses after March 1, 1902, no green horse having his legs tied together shall be permitted to start in a race on Nanal tracks. This plan would permit the hoppled pacers now on the turf to go on and finish out their racing careers but by barring the green ones its operation would in the course of a few years eliminate these illegitimate performers from all tracks.

(Willshire, Ohio, Herald, Dec. 12.) Read this article carefully, and i you have been exposed to smallpox or there is danger of smallpox breaking out or becoming epidemic in your community, follow out the suggestions and directions laid down. Dr. Howe, of Atchison, Kansas, is a smallpox expert, and has successfully overcome the disease in several Kansas towns when it was epidemic in its most viru-lent form. The editor of this paper is personally acquainted with Dr. C. F. Howe, and he is reliable in every particular. If interested in this smallpox cure, seek to follow its directions, and mallpox will be eliminated from your family and your neighborhood. The following article is taken from Atchi-son, Kansas, Globe, one of the genu-inely reliable newspapers published in iar acid that is found only in the apple, called melic acid, and which is the active principle, the germ destroyer. To be effective, the vinegar must be strong, and taken regularly, that the system may become impregnated with the acid. The smallpox germs cannot exist in the acid. Some people cannot stand the vinegar treatment unless assisted, so the doctor has arranged to have a vinegar compound put up in pint bottles, being pure apple cider vinegar in connection with a purgative, which assists the stomach in assimilating the obnoxious principles. If vinegar compound is used according to the following directions you will not contract the disease. Dose—One table-spoonful in a half cupful of water, from two or four times daily as required. As a general prophylactic, when the disease is near, but not certain of exposure, two times daily will be sufficient; but to be constantly exposed, four or five times daily should be taken. Children less is proportion. In case of emergency, where exposure has existed a number of days before the nature of the disease is determined, or if compelled to nurse a case of smallpox, the dose should be increased until the bowels move. Dr. Howe is a smallpox expert. He has had the disease, believes he was cured by the vinegar treatment, and will cheerfully give information about the disease, the treatment, and how cases should be handled. While smalljox is in this section, we would advise any one who has been exposed to use vinegar treatment, as it is inexpensive, and is no way injurious. And remember that results are obtained only when pure apple cider vinegar is used.
