

SUN.

ER. A

ts. The Provinces. WS. HORS.

id. FREE.

FOOD IN 24

When a Child, Closed—

Jan. 30—Lactus

of taken a par-

his stomach for

Tuesday. The

When he was ank a cup of stand his reach. The

to make a bar-

says.

istered and and part of the

When the

of the esophagus and finally it

straw and use-caused tightly, and it the irritation

his life

nourishment

Life. A few and every few list, and when sage was treated at all.

alists treated and after two months a larger quantities and fresh and fresh acquaint-prize him at-

ago Ransom

monia set in.

the esophagus terally starved his

his trade curious choice

his life

could taste.

the folk no food worked every became so probed.

and an expert

BOSTON LETTER.

The Most Winter Like January in Fifteen Years.

Pardon of a New Brunswick Girl

Serving a Life Sentence for Murder of Her Child.

Recent Deaths of Former Provincialists

Montague Chamberlain Elected

Treasurer—General News—The

Lumber and Fish Markets.

(From our own Correspondent.)

BOSTON, Jan. 28.—The month of January has been the most winterlike of any month for fifteen years.

There were half a dozen snow storms

three of them heavy, and as many cold waves. Sunday last was the only real ly mild day since the beginning of the year. A foot or two of snow has accumulated on the ground in Boston all the month, a feature unusual in a Boston winter. Severe weather has been general throughout the northern half of the United States since Christmas, but the storms have not been any worse than the average.

The roundup of burglars in Lynn has been the most winterlike

of any month for fifteen years.

There were half a dozen snow storms

three of them heavy, and as many cold

waves. Sunday last was the only real

ly mild day since the beginning of the

year. A foot or two of snow has accumulated on the ground in Boston all

the month, a feature unusual in a Boston winter. Severe weather has been

general throughout the northern half

of the United States since Christmas,

but the storms have not been any

worse than the average.

The roundup of burglars in Lynn

has been the most winterlike

of any month for fifteen years.

There were half a dozen snow storms

three of them heavy, and as many cold

waves. Sunday last was the only real

ly mild day since the beginning of the

year. A foot or two of snow has ac-

cumulated on the ground in Boston all

the month, a feature unusual in a Bos-

ton winter. Severe weather has been

general throughout the northern half

of the United States since Christmas,

but the storms have not been any

worse than the average.

do, clear wh., $2.10; do, No. 1, $1.50.

Laths, spruce, 1 1/2-2, $2.20 to 2.25.

1 1/2-3 in., $2.40. Clapboards, spruce, 4 ft., ex., $4.40 to 4.50; do, clear, $4.20 to 4.30.

10, 2nd class, $4.00 to 4.10; spruce, exposed to 50; clear, $3.40 to 3.50; hick, clear, 49 to 50.

Salt fish are generally quiet here. Salt meats are unchanged in price, with the exception of hickory, which are higher. Large No. 3 are worth $15.50; early caught No. 2, $17 to 18; Prince Edward Island herring, $19 to 20. Codfish are firm, but quiet. Commission houses ask $7 to 7 1/2 for large shore and Georges; $6 to 6.50 for medium; $5.50 to 6 for large dry hick; $6 to $6.50 for medium. Pickled herring are steady and unchanged at $4 to 4.50 for Nova Scotia large split. No medium herring are in the market at present.

Lobsters are steady with the receipts from the provinces falling off. The supplies from Nova Scotia are expected to be limited until spring. Live lobsters are worth 18 and boiled 30 cents.

Green smelts are worth 15 and 16c, per pound; frozen N. B. extra, 10c to 12c, and No. 1, 8c to 10c.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

UTTERMOST SELF-SACRIFICE

To the Editor of the Sun:

Sir—I can scarcely believe it possible that a community, hitherto principled

in its support of humanitarian principles and acting at least occasionally from noble motives, should demand complete self-abnegation from one, from one whose breast all earthly ambition has been driven out, who merely desires to live and die in the obscure position of a solicitor-general.

"Little and unknown."

"Lowly and despised by all."

But yesterday evening it was announced that our Bayard could not allow himself to be named as the liberal candidate. No entreaties, however transient would be of any avail. He might as well have been a man of straw, and years might go, seasons wax and wane, winds from the north might chill us to the core, or summer breeze fan our forever brows, but no more were politics for him. He was dead.

Such privations were forever past. But now, at the call of his party, he is going to the front. He is going to do it justly; but all who know him

THE MAD FERRYMAN.

A Tale of the St. John, Written for the Sun by E. S. Kirkpatrick.

On the noble river St. John, in New Brunswick, which rolls in majesty through some of the fairest land in a fair country, the traveller may behold many things of startling beauty.

Many are the tales told by the winter's friends of the experiences through which some of its early settlers have passed; and legends abound by the score of the province's falling off. The

supplies from Nova Scotia are expect-

ed to be limited until spring. Live lob-

sters are worth 18 and boiled 30 cents.

Green smelts are worth 15 and 16c, per

pound; frozen N. B. extra, 10c to 12c,

and No. 1, 8c to 10c.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

UTTERMOST SELF-SACRIFICE

To the Editor of the Sun:

Sir—I can scarcely believe it possible

that a community, hitherto principled

in its support of humanitarian principles

and acting at least occasionally from

noble motives, should demand complete self-abnegation from one, from

one whose breast all earthly ambition

has been driven out, who merely de-

sires to live and die in the obscure

position of a solicitor-general.

"Little and unknown."

"Lowly and despised by all."

But yesterday evening it was anounced that our Bayard could not

allow himself to be named as the liberal

candidate. No entreaties, however transient would be of any avail. He might

as well have been a man of straw, and

years might go, seasons wax and wane,

winds from the north might chill us to

the core, or summer breeze fan our

forever brows, but no more were politics

for him. He was dead.

Such privations were forever past. But

now, at the call of his party, he is going to the front. He is going to do it justly; but all who know him will, with me that his secret was sadly misunderstood.

How little it was to be expected that I should ever learn his secret. I knew that he had one. I knew that he had

one. I knew that he had one. I knew that he had one. I knew that he had

one. I knew that he had one. I knew

that he had one. I knew that he had

one. I knew that he had one. I knew

BRIGHT'S DISEASE

BEATEN AGAIN.

Mary Malcolm's Life Was Measured

by Days and Hours.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Had Her Able to be out in a Week.

ANOTHER REMARKABLE CURE

BROUGHT OUT BY THE COL-

LINGWOOD AND EGLIN-

TON CASES.

TORONTO, Jan. 28.—(Special.)—The interest in medical circles here over the cures of Mrs. Adams, of Colling-wood, and Mrs. Philip, of Eglinton, of Bright's Disease, has been given fresh fuel by another and yet more startling cure of that same terrible ailment.

This latest case is that of a young girl,

Mary Malcolm, who has been given parents at 199 Marlborough Avenue, this city.

DEATH SEEMED SURE.

This cure is little short of miraculous. Miss Malcolm was in the clutches of Bright's Disease from May last September, and had sunk so low that she was measured by days if not by hours. Hope had given place to a certainty of death, and her friends had turned to the sad task of preparing her grave clothes. These last ghastly garments were in a house, but Mary Malcolm is a strong hearty maiden who can look on them without even a shudder of fear. Dodd's Kidney Pills restored the change. Here is the story as told by the girl's mother, Mrs. J. R.

Malcolm:

"My daughter, Mary, who is now fourteen years old, was taken suddenly ill with Bright's Disease in May, 1903.

We had the doctor and continued with him till September, 1903, when he said he could do nothing more for her.

She was so weak with Drury's as to be almost unrecognizable.

CURE WAS QUICK.

"From a book dropped in at the door, we learned of Dodd's Kidney Pills and as a last resort determined to try them.

They gave her relief from the very beginning, so much so that in one week she was able to take her out to Munro

Park for an afternoon.

"After taking four boxes she was entirely cured and she has never had the slightest relapse. We can never say too much for Dodd's Kidney Pills and they certainly saved my daughter's

AS TO SANITY.

Strange Case of Mrs. Molloy and Little Daughter.

BOSTON, Jan. 28.—Mrs. Bridget G.

Molloy and her 12-year-old daughter,

Mary, arrived in town yesterday morning from Pittsburg on their way to Galway, Ireland, and for several hours following their arrival they were hustled about from the railroad terminal to the police station, thence to a hospital,