CAPTAIN SCOTT IS CONFIDENT

Christchurch, New Zealand, Dec. 7.
—The ship Terra Nova, bearing the British south polar expedition under the command of Capt. Robert F. Scott, is off at last for the south pole, the last bit of the earth to resist the explorer, has been added to the known world.
Over the ice cap at the pivot of the earth, Capt. Scott will be drawn by a pack of dogs that bring together the two ends of the earth. The dogs are north polar dogs, selected for this trip by Capt. Scott on account of their endurance. They were brought from Siberia in the far north, to help capture the south pole.
Beside the dogs, Capt. Scott hopes to solve the transportation problem by a new type of ice motor sledge perfected by himself. If the motor sledges upon which the dogs must be relied upon. If the new motors stand the final test the north polar dogs could be substituted for sausage in a pinch.
Scott has eaten dogs and ponies before, and he says they are not at all bad, although he finds that by adding a little cod liver oil to the dog stew the flavor is greatly improved.

Capt. Scott was the commander of the "Discovery" expedition of 1901, when he reached latitude 82 degrees 16 minutes, 33 seconds, longitude 162 degrees east. Lieut. Shackleton, now Sir Ernest Shackleton, accompanied him on that trip and later beat that record when on Jan. 9, 1909 he got 420 miles further south and within 110 miles of the pole. Scott has not only profited by his own experiences, but has learned from Shackleton, and now he thinks he can get to the pole in December, 1911.
He has a picked crew—27 of the best sailors in England, and 28 scientists. He figures on a round trip over the ice of 1,500 miles, to be crowded into 150 days. Off the final assault upon the mystery of the south he will pick his four best men.
The expedition costs $200,000, which has been raised in England through popular subscription. He has provisions on board the Terra Nova for an almost indefinite trip. Each of the three motor sledges will carry a ton of fuel and a ton of food.

THE PERSIAN SITUATION.

The English Cruiser Prosperine, Whose Crew Had First Scrap With the Per-

The Boy Shah of Persia.

Berlin, Dec. 9.—The most remarkable feature in connection with the anti-British press campaign arising from recent British action in Persia and from the Russo-Persian appeal for protection to the Kaiser, is a statement in the "Cologne Gazette," a semi-official organ.
The journal publishes a telegram from Constantinople announcing that the Turkish government is considering the immediate dispatch into Persia of troops equivalent in strength to the Russian and British forces there.

The immediate object of such an intervention, the "Cologne Gazette" states would be the protection of Turkish subjects. Another consideration is that Turkish Mohammedan interests "cannot tolerate the partition of Persia by Great Britain and Russia." Krupp's Berlin organ, the "Neueste Nachrichten," regrets that the Kaiser does not forthwith proceed to gratify the hopes which the Constantinople Mohammedans pin on "the truest protector of Islam." The "Nachrichten" says "We shall do well not to turn the Constantinople petitioners away too coldly out of regard for English susceptibil-

An Underlying Principle.
The Manchester Guardian, a prominent national English organ, says:
"The Persian question involves the underlying principle about which Germany and England irreconcilably differ. It is the question of the right of world shall continue to be put up with Germany left out. Sunday's Munich correspondent reported the German foreign secretary, Dr. Zimmerman, as saying that Germany was denying. Let her power, and she open to deeds. It is besides negotiating the Turkish loan, Germany will now actively support the Mohammedans, it will create a stupendous influence throughout the world and the silence our detractors for a long time to come."

MACKINTOSH'S WEEKLY LETTER

St. John, December 9.—One of the cheerful features in an otherwise bearish situation has been the action of the Bank of England in not advancing its rates. So far as the proportion of the bank's reserve liability is concerned, the past week has seen little change in the situation. The general money market seems to be easy.

The New York Market.
The past week has seen some of the lowest prices since the July decline. The market on Wednesday sold down to 185.4 but towards the close of the day's trading had a substantial rally. Tuesday's market saw United States Steel down to 71.15.
In the general list of rails the bond stocks seem to have been very weak.
This has been a noticeable feature of the market situation for some time past. The Hill stocks, such as Great Northern and Northern Pacific, have also been in for a rather severe decline and no doubt the great railway builder's pessimistic interview of some weeks past was in a measure responsible for this condition. Thursday's market, however, saw quite a change in Wall street sentiment, many of the stocks opening strong. All the market leaders have made fair recovery, due chiefly to short coverings and due to the fact that there has been a favorable decision in regard to the case against the Anthracite coal trade brought by the Government. This suit was brought in an endeavor to prove restraint of trade between the roads and the mines and all cases, with but one exception, have been won by the moneyed interests. This afternoon's market has been rather strong with a fair volume of trading.
At the close today United States Steel has gone back to 72.15, Union Pacfic 169.35, Reading 147.35, Amalgamated Copper 64.15 and American Smelters 74.15. Lehigh Valley is rapidly becoming one of the best traders in the market, its fluctuations giving many opportunities for profits on quick turns.

This road being vitally interested in the Anthracite coal case decision, it opened very strong this morning with a noticeable advance over the close of last night.

Market advances from our New York brokers today, however, do not seem to point to any prolonged advance, although as above stated the action of the suit covering and favorable court decisions, coupled with the satisfactory condition of the money market, must be construed as bull factors.
Laidlaw & Co. advise that they are bearish on this advance.

The Montreal Market.
The feature of the Montreal market the past week has been some activity in Montreal Street. The activity this time, however, has been in the opposite direction from the recent apparently rise in this security. Street
to the selling of a large block of 1,500 shares by a local religious institution.
It is worthy of comment in this connection to note that the Canada Power crowd have absorbed this stock and immediately the immediately decided to have run its course, started to bid this stock up again. C. P. R. has been quiet and weak during the past few days and today sold at the close at 192. Two banks during the week have made favorable statements. The Bank of Commerce shows an earning capacity of over 18 per cent, and on the strength of this showing stock has strengthened and at present writing 110 is being bid for it. Eastern Townships Bank which has been paying an 8 per cent. dividend regularly since 1904, has now increased its dividend rate to 9 per cent. There has been no news of interest and very little movement in Cement (Cm. or Pld.)
these selling at 22 to 23 for the commer and 25 to 26 for the latter. Dom-Steel Coal stock remains firm around 60. There has been considerable buying of this Toronto stock and the price today is 102. Favorable news continues to come from Cobalt mines. Tomorrow there will be a meeting of the directors of La Rose in regard to the declaration of dividend. It is not expected

CLOSING COTTON LETTER.

By Direct Private Wires to J. C.
Mackintosh and Co.

New York, Dec. 9.—Yesterday's census giving figures appeared to have weakened the confidence of many people in a small crop and led to further speculating liquidation throughout the session up to the time of the government crop estimate at 2 p.m. The census figures also had the effect of causing many shorts in the market to
"stand pat" on their position, so that when the government's estimate of 11,125,000 bales was read the market was in an unusually strong technical position. That the small showing was not a total surprise was evidenced by the average estimate of 11,557,000 by all the members of the exchange this morning. As one member said, however, it was the psychological effect of the figures below the 12,000,000 mark that did the work. In the twinkling of an eye May cotton was 30 points above the quotation previous to the report and a few minutes later sold at 15.50 or 64 points above last night's closing and 10 points above the present high record made on Nov. 28. The bull leaders were ostensibly heavy buyers, but it was widely supposed that selling for this account under cover was largely responsible for the subsequent reaction of 30 points. The market grew stronger toward the close after it became apparent that urgent short covering had been completed. Final prices were about 25 to 26 for the commer and 25 to 26 for the latter. Dom-

New York, Dec. 9.—It is entirely probable that the stock market would have enjoyed a further rally today without the intervention of good news.
The market had already declined from 5 to 10 points with little recovery and it was reasonable to expect that when liquidation had run its course a rally of fair proportions would be in order.
This morning, however, the buyers' technical position of the market was further fortified by the decision of ment's suit against the anthracite roads. The decree sustained the gov-

St. John, December 9.—One of the
money market seems to be easy.

The New York Market.
The past week has seen some of
the lowest prices since the July de-
stantial rally. Tuesday's market saw
United States Steel down to 71.15.
In the general list of rails the bond
in Wall street sentiment, many of the
stocks opening strong. All the mar-
strong with a fair volume of trading.
has gone back to 72.15, Union Pac-
fic 169.35, Reading 147.35, Amalgamated Copper 64.15 and American Smelt-
becoming one of the best traders in
turns.

last night.

tory condition of the money market,
must be construed as bull factors.
bearish on this advance.

The Montreal Market.
The feature of the Montreal market
posite direction from the recent apparently rise in this security. Street
to the selling of a large block of 1,500
shares by a local religious institution.
It is worthy of comment in this con-
and immediately the immediately de-
ing 110 is being bid for it. Eastern
Townships Bank which has been pay-
these selling at 22 to 23 for the com-
Steel Coal stock remains firm around
60. There has been considerable buy-
to come from Cobalt mines. Tomorrow

CLOSING COTTON LETTER.

By Direct Private Wires to J. C.
Mackintosh and Co.

ment crop estimate at 2 p.m. The
when the government's estimate of
all the members of the exchange this
30 points above the quotation previous to the report and a few min-
points above the present high record
