HARBOR WORKS TEND TO ADVERTISE CITY

How British Papers are Devoting Space to St. John's Growth—Doings of Norton Griffiths Men.

That the great harbor works soon to be commenced at Courtenay Bay are attracting much attention in the Mother Country, and that the importance of this city as an all-year-around sea port is being realized by the shipping firms of Great Britain is assured by the fact that nineteen of the important newspapers in England and Scotland are commenting favorably upon it. These papers are the London Canada, the Edinburgh Scotsman, the Birmingham Daily Mail, the Manchester Chronicle, the South Wales Daily News, the Birmingham Gazette, the Leicester Daily Mercury, the Glasgow Evening Citizen, the Birmingham Express and Star, the Glasgow News, the Leicester Daily Post, the Western Daily Mercury, the Standard of Empire, the Derby Daily Express, the Cardiff Western Mail, the Midland Daily Telegraph and the South Shields Daily News.

The advantage accruing to this city from these wide spread articles will doubtless be enormous, as both capital and labor will be attracted by them. The articles themselves deal with the land values at Courtenay Bay, and give a good description of the proposed works.

In several of them J. Norton Griffiths, M. P., is quoted on naval affairs relative to the proposed Imperial flying squadron in which Mr. Griffiths' company Canada will take a bold lead.

When seen at the Royal Hotel last evening Mr. Palmer, of the Norton Griffiths staff said arrangements are being made for the firm's office in East St. John will be let on Thursday next. When speaking of the probable situation of the government engineers' office Mr. Palmer said it would be on the Bay View estate abutting on the Red Head Road.

When asked when the plant for the works will arrive, Mr. Palmer stated that arrangements to this end were rapidly going forward and definite information would be had on Tuesday next.

Burton Stuart and P. R. Warren of the Norton Griffiths Company are expected to be in the city by the end of the week. After leaving here Mr. Stuart will go to New York and take the Cunard liner Lusitania for London where he will transact some important business in connection with the Courtenay Bay works.

When asked as to the date of Mr. Griffiths' return to this city, Mr. Palmer said that it would probably be in July, as Mr. Griffiths is in Russia personally overseeing one of his large contracts in the city of Baku.

REDUCES DOMESTIC LABOR ONE-THIRD

This Incredible Saving Effected by Use of One Dollar Gas—Next Demonstration on Friday.

It seems almost incredible that domestic labor can be reduced by a third, simply by changing the fuel used in cooking and the heating of water, and yet, this was shown by Miss Gayton to the delight of the audience yesterday's free demonstration of the advantages of One Dollar Gas, at the St. John Railway Company's showrooms. Miss Gayton pointed out that by the absence of coal and ashes and consequently of the dirt and dust associated with them, not only could much labor be saved but the kitchen could be kept clean and tidy. Among other advantages to which attention was drawn were the ease and rapidity with which the meals could be cooked with One Dollar Gas, which ensures also the most gratifying results.

Another demonstration will be given on Friday afternoon from 3 until 5 o'clock. The subject will be announced in a later issue of The Standard.

TITANIC WRECK MADE THIS BRIDE A WIDOW

Italian Woman Passing Through City Tells Pathetic Story—Honeymoon was Shattered by the Disaster.

Arriving on the Boston train last night was a party of four, from New York on route to Halifax to bring back the remains of relatives lost in the Titanic disaster. The members of the party were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wenger, who are going to bring back the body of S. Rughini, a brother of Mrs. Wenger. The third member of the group was Mrs. Sebastian Del Carlo, who was among the women of the second cabin to be saved when the vessel was about to take the final plunge to her fate. Accompanying her was Rev. G. Morissette, who has spiritual charge of the St. Raphael Society for Italian immigrants, in New York city.

Although still suffering from the effects of the harrowing scenes incidental to the disaster, Mrs. Del Carlo is braving the fatigue and anguish of the journey from New York to Halifax to recover the body of her husband who gave his life that she might be saved. Rev. Mr. Morissette, who accompanied her, said that they had received notification of the identification of the body.

Perhaps all the stories connected with the catastrophe here is the most pathetic. Her husband, Sebastian Del Carlo, came to America about nine years ago. In New York he found employment as a carpenter. During the nine years he labored assiduously at his trade until he had amassed a modest fortune sufficient to make a home for his intended wife, and to bring her from their native village in Italy to share his joys and sorrows. Four months ago, filled with hope, he re-crossed the Atlantic to claim his bride. After a sojourn among friends of his youth he started on his return to this country, taking passage on the Titanic. The honeymoon, commenced with bright hopes of a happy future in the home he had prepared, was shattered when the Titanic struck the fatal berg. His wife, he added in recounting, while he himself perished. With the other survivors she was taken aboard the Carpathia, and landed in New York, a widow and alone, instead of a happy bride.

Following the news of the recovery of the body, she set out accompanied by Father Morissette. In his pocket at the time of his death Del Carlo had all his worldly wealth, with a number of letters which he had secreted in a pocket. Through means of these the body was identified.

Increase in Harbor Revenues. As a result of the increase in trade, through this port this winter, the city's revenues from the harbor properties will be considerably larger than during the last season of winter navigation. Mr. Alward, the port collector, stated last evening that the harbor revenues for the four months of this year would be about $100 more than during the corresponding period last year. The increase is due to the larger trans-Atlantic trade. So far this year, there has not been much trade with the United States, and not a great deal of coastwise business.
