Coughed Almost All Night WITH THAT DRY, TICKLING SENSATION IN HER THROAT.

How many people have lost a good night's sleep by that nasty tickling sensation in the throat? The dry, hard cough keeps you awake, and when you get up in the morning you feel as if you had had no rest at all. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is a specific for just this kind of a cough, as it is composed of the most soothing and healing expectorant herbs, roots and barks known to medical science.

Mrs. Joseph Hilley, Orangeville, Ont., writes: "Just a few lines to let you know that Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup did for me. I took a severe cold, and coughed almost all night with that dry, tickling sensation in my throat. The first bottle did me so much good I thought I would try the second one, and I am pleased to say 'Dr. Wood's' resulted in a complete cure."

There is nothing that can take the place of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. There is nothing "just as good."

"Dr. Wood's" has been on the market for the past twenty-five years. It is put up in a yellow wrapper three pine trees the trade mark; price, 25c and 50c.

Y. W. P. A. A well attended meeting of this society was held last evening in the Loyal Order of Moose rooms. In the absence of Miss Grimmer Miss Alice Fairweather presided. The speaker of the evening, Lieut. Beigne, was unable to attend but many of the members related interesting incidents and reports were heard from the various committees. Mrs. Murray Long sang two splendid patriotic songs in a most charming manner. Miss Bigelow acting as accompanist. Several branches of work were taken up and it is felt that the results of the members' enthusiasm are beginning to take effect.

The executive of the Canadian Club met yesterday morning at the residence of Mrs. Richard O'Brien. Final arrangements were made for Dr. Sexton's lecture on "The Restoration of Disabled Soldiers for Citizenship." This is a burning question, and this meeting will be an excellent opportunity to get a new view point. The Knights of Columbus have generously offered their hall for this occasion, Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. A communication was received from Thos. Walker, M. D., member of the Hospital Commission, asking that this meeting be thrown open to the public. This was unanimously passed. A demonstration of good will for 6th Battalion will take place this morning at the armory at 11 o'clock.

While Lent is Here. The remains of boiled fish can be utilized in a baked fish pudding, made in this way:

Carefully remove the flesh from the bones, cut it up into small dice, and have an equal bulk of mashed potatoes. Put both into a basin and mix together, then melt butter and pour it in, mixing well; add salt and pepper and a few grains of cayenne pepper; beat up an egg and add it last; mix all well together; put it in a pudding dish, smooth and score it neatly on the top. Bake for half an hour.

I suffered with an abscess on my face," writes Mrs. Herbert Cox, of Port Maitland, Ont. "I tried everything and received medical treatment for some time, but in vain. Finally the doctor advised an operation, which was performed, but instead of improving, the sore became worse. I had despaired of ever finding a cure, when a friend recommended Zam-Buk. I tried it, with the result that, before long the poison was drawn out and the sore began to heal. Persistence effected a complete cure, and now not even a scar remains."

Zam-Buk is equally good for eczema, blood-poisoning, ulcers, boils, piles, burns, cuts and all skin injuries. All druggists, 50c. box, 3 for $1.25, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

Opera House.

Blue Beard was the pantomime for last night at the Opera House. These little plays are all entertaining and everyone whom I have spoken to has enjoyed them. Little Kathleen Barnes is a great favorite and her enthusiasm in catching, the drills and dances are pretty and much enjoyed by the audience.

The musical numbers were as follows:

Opening chorus, "Shout My Lads, Hurrah!" company.
"To the Feast," Joe Burkhart and Marie Rossley.
"I'm a Chap with a Beard of Blue," Percy Orth.

"He's Going Now," Quaker Girls and Sunshine Girls.

"Pilgrims of the Night," Joe Burkhart.

"Dancing Statues," Sunshine Girls.

"Thunder Man," Company.

Chorus, "Dread Blue Chamber," Terma Nova Girls.

"Cherry Blossom Time in Japan," "Love Me While the Loving is Good," Bonnie Rossley, Gertrude Kennedy.

"Paddy Boy," Kathleen Barnes.

"On the 5, 15 a Squad," Kathleen Barnes.

"Has Anybody Here Seen Me?" Jack Rosaley.

"Bugler Boy," Bonnie Rossley.

"Kitty, the Telephone Girl," Clara Squires and Eliza Earle.

"Red Breast Robin," Joe Burkhart.

"Ratline Wedding," Marie Rossley and Percy Orth.

"To Too," Sunshine Girls.

"Back to Carolina," Company.

The Unique.

I must tell you about the new dress of the Unique, and you must go and see for yourself. The advertisements say "bigger and better than ever," and by a clever scheme of decoration the whole inside of the theatre seems to have broadened out and lengthened. The walls have been painted just the right shade of red, neither too bright to be glaring, nor too dark to be dull. The red is lightened wherever possible by white paint, and the entire ceiling is done in white. The stage has a pretty railing around it which adds greatly to the whole appearance of the auditorium. The windows are decorated in gray outlined with black tracery, and the same design is seen in the electric light fittings. Altogether the Unique presents a fine appearance, and is not only repainted, but is to have many "features" on the screen. Throughout yesterday afternoon and evening slides of welcome were shown and also notices of fine plays to come.

The picture chosen for the re-opening of the Unique was "The Craving," featuring William Russell, who fights against his craving for strong drink and gave it the same knockout blow as he gives the bullies he meets. This production leans strongly towards the melodramatic. The college scenes are good in reproducing the distinctly college atmosphere.

William Russell has the chameleon ability to blend with his surroundings. On the campus he certainly gives the rah-rah impressions, but in the rough mining camp that he subsequently visits he is still in harmony with the picture. His husky physique serves him well in a smashing good fight with the villain.

Robert Miller, a small boy who has heretofore appeared in "bits," has a fine part. He does not have the mop of silky golden hair usually affected by child actors, but he differs from his aristocratic contemporaries in another respect—he is a clever actor.

"Croaky" acts as "Posters" Guardian Angel on several occasions.

roles compose the balance of the cast, and all of them are excellent.

The ending is effective, possessing a welcome touch of comedy. This is a very good picture, full of interest and having a fine theme.

Rufus Gilmore's Human Puzzle.

AN ESSAY BY V. L. S. E.

Who killed Cornelia Alster?

This is the problem that baffles the most skilled detectives.

It puzzles all spectators and keeps them keyed up with excitement and wonder until the end of the photoplay.

The grim finger of suspicion points at five persons.

You are sure it is one, then another, who has committed the crime.
