

BRIGHT MISS OF 16 IS FUGITIVE'S ESCORT; LEADS FOX INTO ST. PETER'S CONVENT

Two Girls on Their Way to an Excursion Into the Country Respond to Fox's Inquiries and One of Them Goes Out of Her Way to Show Him How to "Get here."

Sister Bridget Gives Fugitive a Kindly Welcome and Shows Him Around a Pleasant Institution—But is Greatly Amused When He Tells Her About "Mrs. Seafoam," Sister of "Mr. Seabright," and How Her Husband Was Killed.

FOX THE FUGITIVE
Most of Us Will Quickly Recognize at a Glance Friend from Rear.

Two Misses of sweet sixteen formed an escort for the Fugitive up in that sector of the city where the Fugitive puts himself into greatest danger whenever he leaves the seclusion of his hiding place.

The Magazine street girl and her friend Hazel were escorted by a stranger as they were passing the large brick school building on Elm street, where the girls of St. Peter's parish are educated. Could they tell him where he could find the entrance to the office of the Sister in charge of the school, they were asked.

One of the girls wearing a white helmet-shaped hat and a cloak of mixed black and white pattern, having a large blue collar, smiled amiably and asked the gentleman wanted to find.

"I want to see the Sisters—this school is taught by the Sisters of St. Peter's parish, is it not?"

"Yes," she replied.

"Well, I want to know what entrance will take me to the Sister in charge of it?"

The young lady hesitated for a moment in replying, and I thought I ought to make plain the object of my request.

"I want to see about getting my sister into school," I explained.

"Perhaps you had better go to the convent. You will be able to see the Sisters there."

"Can you direct me how to get there?"

"Why, yes. We are going that way. You can go along with us. Hazel, you run on ahead."

"Fine, I thought, as I fell into step with the little lady. How thoughtful, I said to myself, to send Hazel on ahead."

What Two Girls Missed.

Hazel, at the word of command, had started off on a run and was quickly around the elbow where Elm street turns sharply to meet Main street.

And my conductress who had so kindly responded to my request was now walking elbow to elbow with Fox the Fugitive, the man who is being hunted by thousands of people anxious to get the aggregate of over one hundred dollars in rewards.

"Do you live up this way?" I asked.

"Yes, we live on Magazine street."

I got the impression that she and Hazel are sisters. I didn't press the little lady to give me more specific information about herself.

I thought she was real considerate to make it two instead of three—for three is said to be a crowd. I made some reference to Hazel running on ahead and she replied.

Why Hazel Went Ahead.

"Oh, she has gone on to meet her friend—and I'll join them."

saylums, etc. I like to give them a chance for the money.

May this young woman have seen me in a Montreal Convent, I was thinking—and remembered the Fugitive? The sister Bridget, who has sharp eyes took in every detail of my personality I said to myself, did the other one give her a hint or post her.

But I was in for it, so I plunged into my story. My sister at Bangor, Me., intending to locate in St. John, desired me to look up a parish where she would make her church home and the school connected with it where she could place her two daughters.

Fugitive Sharply Scrutinized.

Very nice, indeed! How old are her daughters? Is she coming right away? She is going to reside in St. John? Each of which questions I answered in its turn. But Sister Bridget never took her eyes off mine.

"What is her name?" she asked.

Now she had reached my climax. If she "tumbled" I thought, I may meet my "Waterloo."

"Mrs. Seafoam," I replied, speaking as earnestly as I could with the command over myself that I hardly possessed.

"Yes! And pray, what is your name?" This hit me rather hard, for it would greatly promote her suspicions if she had any. But I stood on my ground firmly.

"Mr. Seabright," I replied. If I had dropped my glance or batted my eyes—well, I don't know what would happen—with a reward of over $100.00 outstanding.

Fugitive Makes Her Laugh.

Just for an instant she gazed intently into my eyes. Then her lips trembled just a bit and with a laugh she exclaimed:

"Seabright! Seabright!" Then she gave way to merriment. For a moment she laughed, throwing her head forward in vain effort to check her merriment. Without entirely recovering herself she listened to what I had to say. With great effort I had myself under control.

"It is a curious coincidence, isn't it? My name Seabright and my sister married a Seafoam? Did you ever hear anything so funny? I had to establish my bluff."

Fugitive Under Third Degree.

"I never did," she replied. And the tone of that reply showed me that she had no suspicion of my identity—that I was the Fugitive. But she gave me the third degree.

"How do you spell your sister's name?" Evidently she was probing to see if there was a catch.

"S-e-a-f-o-m-e!" spelling in that way, to give it more of a foreign expression.

"Ah!" she exclaimed.

After looking at me for another moment she asked me to spell "your name."

"S-e-a-b-r-i-g-h-t," spelling it slowly.

"I never heard of Seafoam," she said. "Why, nationality? Say, but the shrewd Sister was going into this pretty closely."

"It is—well, I presume Finnish." That came to my mind and I let it go explaining that the name came from a maritime people. In an instant I saw my blunder. Fins are not a

Black as Dirt About the Eyes

Liver Was All Upset and There Was Pain Under the Shoulder-blade—Two Interesting Letters.

Toronto, Ont., June 7.—So many people suffer from derangements of the liver that we feel sure these two reports, just recently received, will prove interesting reading and valuable information to many readers of this paper.

Mrs. F. L. Harris, Keasley P. O. Sask., writes: "I was suffering from liver trouble—had a heavy pain under one shoulder blade all the time, and was nearly as black as dirt around the eyes, so I concluded to try some of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and before I had taken one box the pain had left me and I commenced to gain in flesh, and by the time I had taken two boxes I was completely cured and felt like a new person. My trouble was caused by heavy work out-of-doors, and, of course, heavy eating and constipation. I would advise anyone suffering from kidney or liver trouble to give Dr. Chase's Pills a trial."

Mrs. Charles Terry, Tweed, Ont., writes: "Before I was married I was troubled with enlargement of the liver. My liver became so enlarged that you could detect the swellings on either side, and it was only with difficulty that I could get my clothes on. A friend advised me to get Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and take them. I commenced this treatment, and used nine boxes, which cured me at that time. Then, about two or three years afterward I was troubled again with the swelling, but only on my right side. I secured some more Kidney-Liver Pills, and took them, which finally cured me. I have not been troubled in this way since. I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to anyone having kidney or liver trouble."

"We have also found Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine excellent for coughs and colds. In fact, any of Dr. Chase's medicines which we have used have been good."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills one pill a dose 25c, a box 5 for $1.00, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Fugitive Feared Suspicion.

I got the impression from the Sister who opened the door that there might be a lurking suspicion in that one's mind as to my identity and the underlying object of my call.

In many cities and towns in Canada it has been my custom to peddle the description of the Fugitive among the good people who give their time to public institutions of various sorts. And in some places at parochial schools, boarding schools, convents, maritime nation. If she noticed it she said nothing. And we went into a serious discussion of "my sister's" plans for the future.

How "Seafoam" Was Killed.

I told her that my sister was a widow. Her husband had fallen from the masthead of his vessel and "broken his neck."

"How horrible!" she exclaimed in a really sympathetic tone. She showed me the chapel and gave me a glimpse of the fine gardens in the rear and the sitting room where groups of the Sisters were gathered.

When I spoke of seeing the living rooms above, she smiled and assured me that would be in violation of the rules.

She said she would look forward to Mrs. Seafoam's arrival, and hoped she would come and see her as soon as possible. And that is as near as she came to getting the $100.00 for the institution.

RUSSIA NOTLOOK BETTER.

Special to The Standard.

London, June 7.—Rouble exchange continues very weak, the quotation being over 196 roubles for £10.

Nevertheless, Russian securities on the London market closed harder yesterday on more favorable accounts from Petrograd, indicating that order is beginning to be seen out of general chaos. Much is expected here from Senator Root's visit.
