ANOTHER RESIGNATION?

The rumor of Hon. Mr. Sifton's resignation which reaches us from Ottawa where it was common last night, will, if confirmed, become a matter of the first importance. The rumor was started some days ago and was given an apparently authoritative denial; but the report persists.

Behind the rumor, of course, is the guess, or the belief, that Mr. Sifton, whose rise to national prominence depended in large measure on his stand upon the Manitoba school question, finds himself unable or unwilling at this time to assent to the new provincial arrangement for separate schools which now applies in the Territories.

Although it has been said that this was not to be made a party question, it has been apparent for some days that Mr. Sifton's resignation would not be followed in quick, and the wish attitude of the Toronto Globe, the representative Liberal journal, the Montreal Witness and other newspapers, has given sudden prominence to a controversy that threatens to become bitter and widespread.

The resignation of the rumor concerning Mr. Sifton in these circumstances indicates a tense situation at the capital, with some promise of a storm of national proportions should the rumor prove well founded. Deliberate news that the report is a "land" word, of course, have the opposite tendency. It has been thought that there would be a postponement of any arguments over the autonomy bill at least until it comes up for the second reading.

A WARM SESSION

The presentation of the correspondence regarding Mr. Sifton's resignation, and the speeches of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. Sifton and other members in relation to the matter would not have been made a deeply interesting session at Ottawa, had it not been for the speech of Sir Maclean, the minister of education, yesterday, at a long and stirring debate to Messrs. Fisher and Haggart, who recently reviewed the "case-of-fraternal" incident. Consequently there was a field day in both Commons and Senate, and The Telegraph this morning presents detailed reports of the proceedings in both.

It is, no doubt, too early to accurately estimate the effect of Mr. Sifton's resignation upon the government and the country, but it is already clear that the episode ranks with the most exciting in our recent political history. In Canadian public life for ten years past, and in addition his national stature there is the fact that the question leading to his withdrawal is one over which the country is easily moved. The retiring minister appears to believe that too much was done without consulting him; and he does not approve of much that was done. It is plain now that many side issues will be raised, and that much of the acrimonious discussion to come will not be confined to the constitutional aspect of the autonomy bill.

There is what comes the government will pursue in view of the action of Mr. Sifton. The most significant news from Ottawa came late last night that the education clause of the bill will be modified. A conference of Western members with Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick has apparently resulted in a compromise, which, if agreed to by the Premier, will satisfy the Western Liberals, perhaps even including Hon. Mr. Sifton. The suggested modification, seemingly, would give the new provinces a free hand in regard to educational matters, and would be intended to meet the objection raised that the bill as it stands interferes with provincial rights. In any case there will be a period of considerable excitement, especially when the bill comes up for its second reading.

COSTLY SUSPICIONS

Five years ago France kept her eye on England, her traditional foe. There was the Fashoda incident. The French built battleships; and more battleships. Now there is another boxer man. This time it is the Kaiser. The German naval programme, which is to be completed in 1917, would make the German navy stronger than that of France in the proportion of five to four, provided France were to build at the rate which last year was regarded as satisfactory. France has taken alarm over German activity. In the French Chamber, the other day the new minister of marine used this significant language: "We are not at present on the morrow of a Fashoda, but we must look forward to morrows which will be similar. We were then face to face with a certain enemy; today we have to think of another." This other is Germany. The deputies of all parties, as a result of this discussion, decided to match the German programme ship for ship for the next ten or twelve years.

The present Chamber," as one speaker expressed it, "does not mean to commit the blunder of its predecessor on the eve of Sedan."

The German budget is not only moving France, but Great Britain as well. In the Reichstag last week Herr Bebel, the Socialist leader, demanded to know the meaning of the formidable naval preparations. "Against whom," he asked, "are they directed? England? We can never compete with England on the sea. We have not the money, nor is such rivalry essential to our security. Sea power is necessary to England, but not to us."

It was the Kaiser's betrayal of his purpose to become a leading sea power that caused an extension of the British naval programme and the recent construction of her fleet. France follows the British example by keeping her purse strings. The German move really causes Britain and France to draw together. The United States is not likely to fight, its people think, and its naval officers agree; yet they say if a war did come it probably would be with Germany. Russia is helpless. Neither Britain nor France is in an aggressive mood. Japan is busy. The United States is isolated. Therefore Germany is not likely to be attacked, and there is no apparent reason for her aggressive naval policy. Suspicions are aroused; and the cost of these suspicions is tremendous. Yet overtly as they are it is cheaper to build the battleships than to be found unprepared in case they prove to be well-founded.

NOTE AND COMMENT

There are terrific signs of spring in Manitoba.

A big thaw would involve much discomfort in the country districts. New Brunswick could not afford many winters like this one.

Premier Whitney does not give his temperance supporters much comfort. There is a difficult problem, and it will be difficult as long as they are in the minority, and longer.

There are but nine Roman Catholic schools in the Territories now. Advocates of the new school measure say it would not decrease them. Opponents say it would. But nobody knows.

It is estimated that Washington's population will be 250,000 more than usual on inauguration day. Some windows commanding a view of the inaugural procession have been rented for $1,000 each.

The "democratic simplicity" which is to mark the inauguration of President Roosevelt is to cost more than any two or three previous inaugurations. In reality that event will smack strongly of the ceremonial of the Empire.

Ottawa is evidently expecting a compromise. The Manitoba Free Press, Hon. Mr. Sifton's organ, advises the government to modify the school clause of the Autonomy Bill. The Toronto Globe and Montreal Witness give similar counsel.

A London cable says stock market forecasts, or the most optimistic of them, are for an armistice before the end of April and a peace protocol before the end of July. Japanese bonds steadily improve, and the correspondent says these securities "owe the recent rise not to the British expectations of peace so much as to the favorable reaction following Japan's splendid display of military capacity and statesmanship. Bonds that were originally at low prices because Britons feared lest the expectations of the Mikado and his advisers might be exaggerated have sought steadily the higher level to which a vindication of the wisdom of those expectations would logically send them. If they go higher still, the cause will be the same, rather than the persistent belief of London that the end of the war will be reached well within 1935."

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR

It's very dangerous for a girl to be so innocent she won't admit she flirts.

A girl has a lot of fortitude to go along with her when she is admitting her complexion.

A father is very cold-blooded not to be able to see the hints in the baby's hair that its mother can.

Anyhow, if men didn't get married they would make just as big fools of themselves some other way.

A woman may need a shopping purse to hold her money when she goes shopping, but she doesn't need any coming home.

TAKEN AT HIS WORD

Dr. William Oker, now or late of Johns Hopkins and presently to be of Oxford university, should not try to be as funny as he can, for fear that he may be fatally funny. In his recent address, which has attracted wide attention, he advanced the idea that men were comparatively useless above forty years of age and of little use above sixty. So far he appears to have been serious, but of fortitude to go along with her when she is admitting her complexion.

A woman may need a shopping purse to hold her money when she goes shopping, but she doesn't need any coming home.

THE SITUATION AT OTTAWA

Something like a calm succeeds the storm at Ottawa, and while other detractors from the cabinet ranks are not expected, there is, doubtless, more excitement to come when the Northwest measure is brought up again. Mr. Sifton, it appears, knew that the other Western Liberals would not accept the education clause of the Autonomy Bill as it now stands; but while a modification of the bill in some particulars may satisfy them it is believed that Mr. Sifton is out for good. There is no considerable opposition still, but moderation and a compromise are evidently expected by Liberals.

As showing how serious the situation appeared to Liberal newspaper correspondents at Ottawa on Wednesday night, and even yesterday morning, the Toronto Globe's Ottawa dispatch mentions an unconfirmed rumor that Messrs. Fisher and Fisher were likely to follow Mr. Sifton's example, and give it as a fact that Hon. Mr. Green, very is expected to "adopt as strong as attitude as Mr. Sifton." The St. John Globe's Ottawa correspondent does not mention Hon. Mr. Fisher but couples Hon. Mr. Fielding and Sir William Malcol as likely to remain in the cabinet in case the Northwest measure is modified sufficiently to meet their views. The modification suggested would continue but not extend the school system now in use in the West. The Toronto Globe's explanation of the proposed change, which may be made in deference to the views of party leaders and followers who are protesting, is explained in this way:

"The report is that the present clause will be replaced by the educational clause in the Northwest act of 1873 without any restrictions whatever, and that the subsection of the present act which has been construed as involving a diversion of funds plainly intended for public school purposes to the use of separate schools will be dropped."

Mr. Sifton, it is reported, will not be satisfied with this but will maintain that the new provinces should have complete control of their educational policy in every way.

Mr. Walter Scott, M. P. for West Assiniboia, who is spoken of as Mr. Sifton's successor as Minister of the Interior, is one of the younger but also one of the more prominent of the Western delegation. Born in Ontario thirty-six years ago he grew up in 1885, when he was a boy, and grew up with the country. He was a printer by trade, and is now publisher and proprietor of the Regina Leader, and also of the Moose Jaw Times. He made his start in politics in 1890 when he defeated the late N. F. Davis by 233 votes. At that time he was the youngest member in the House. On his return to the West at the close of last session he was tendered a banquet by his friends representing a big district.

WARM RECEPTION BY MAIDEN LADY TO AN INTRUDER

Was Reading in Bed at 3 A. M. When She Discovered the Man—Filled Him Full of Bird Shot, and He Will Likely Die.

Lexington, Mass., Feb. 29.—Edward Barrow, aged 21 years, of City Mills, was shot and probably fatally wounded by Miss Ottiline S. Alderman, upon being discovered in the latter's bedroom early today. Barrow was removed to the Massachusetts General Hospital at Boston where it was said tonight that his condition was critical, though there was a bare chance of recovery.

The police and physicians were summoned to the Alderman home just before 3 o'clock this morning, and found Barrow seated on a bed, and a woman, Miss Alderman's room, groaning with pain. An examination convinced the physicians that his condition was critical, and at their advice he was removed by the police to the hospital.

Miss Alderman, who is about fifty years of age, lives with her mother, Mrs. Franklin Alderman, and a sister, Miss Cora Alderman. She told the police that she was lying awake in bed reading, when her light was suddenly extinguished. She is quite deaf, and did not hear the intruder, but, feeling sure of his presence, reached for a small brass-loading single barrel rifle which she kept by her bed. She then fell a hand on the bedcoverings above her feet, and exclaimed: "It is time for you to be going, if you are going."

An instant later she discerned the outlines of a man's figure crouching near her bed, and believing that the burglar was about to spring upon her, she fired. A charge of birdshot entered Barrow's abdomen and he sank to the floor. Miss Alderman then told her mother and sister, who had been awakened by the shot, of the shooting, and leaving the house, went to the home of her brother, Dr. Harry J. Barrow, who was notified by the police.

Barrow explained that he had entered the house by mistake. The police say that the entrance was effected by climbing to the roof and walking there, and stepping to the roof of the hall, from which the man crawled into the window of Miss Alderman's chamber. If Harrow lives, he will be held for burglary.

A WEARISOME PROTEST

We observe by the Washington Star that the State Department of the United States is giving an example of the colored man which distinguishes our neighbors.

Last November Charles Thompson, the negro valet of Prof. Graham Bell, was arrested on a charge of shooting at several of the leading ladies in Sydney (C.B.). Both the man and his master were very much offended, and we do not blame them; a respectable valet who would not be denied a commendation at a hotel in November, anyway, Dr. Bell, however, very foolishly urged his servant to make a formal complaint, as a result of which the State Department, as already said, has taken the matter up with our own government.

If the State Department had an atom of the saving grace of ridicule by taking any such action. If Dr. Graham-Bell's servant attempted to get into a hotel in the United States, except in the capacity of an employee, his complaint would probably prevent him in the kitchen range. By today's despatches we observe that Berea College has been fined $1,000 for admitting negro students. If the negro meets a white on the sidewalk in the Southern States he must get out on the street to pass. If they attempted to ride in the same car with whites they would run the risk of being shot. And the American State Department has the nerve to make a protest because Sydney hotel—probably in deference to their American guests—refused to admit a negro.

AMHERST.

Amherst, N. S., Feb. 28.—(Special)—Owing to the absence of President N. Curry, of Rhodes, Curry & Co., Ltd., the meeting which was to have been held at Amherst has been postponed until tomorrow.

At the meeting of the town council last evening, Andrew McDonald was appointed city inspector, in place of Chas. R. Cuddy, resigned. At the request of Mayor Lowber, by unanimous vote, the council has assured the new inspector that they will stand by him in the strict enforcement of the act.

Office Abolished.

John Thomas, assistant commissioner of the U. The notice was very short. It is not taken to mean that Mr. Thomas will quit the service, but it appears that a reorganization is being made.

John Clarke is the Canadian commissioner and E. J. Wallace assistant inspector, with offices at Montreal. There are about 200 inspectors in Canada.

Married in Baker City, Ore.

Miss Elsie W. Hatt, who has resided in the city for the past few months, was married Wednesday evening at Baker City to G. J. Raymond, representative of a wholesale leather firm of Portland. They passed down the O. R. & N. yesterday en route to San Francisco. G. C. Hatt, manager of the Western Union office here, and a brother of the bride, attended the wedding and accompanied them this far on their way to San Francisco. Miss Hatt made many friends during her brief stay in Portland. She is a vocalist of more than ordinary ability and took part in several concerts while here.—Daily East Oregonian, Pendleton, Ore., Feb. 17.

NEW WORKERS WINE OFF A THREE TON RHINOCEROS

New York, March 2.—The Canadian Camp ate a rhinoceros dinner tonight at the Hotel Astor. The guests, among whom were included many women, numbered 250. At its dinner a year ago the camp dined on Afronadack "bear." The menu cards tonight announced that "diet of rhino" had been prepared from a rhinoceros presented to the camp by Prince Henry of Prussia. Other dishes were Indiana racoon, West Park mocha pie and menagerie ice.

The Rev. Henry Van Dyke was toast master and at the table for the guests of honor sat many prominent sportsmen, including William Wallace, the Labrador explorer; Alfred D. James, the South American explorer; and Harry V. Bradford, the secretary of the camp.

Mr. Bradford declared that the rhinoceros was genuine. "The rhino" was served, hick, hore, woods and tall. It weighed a little less than three tons. It arrived from the Berlin Zoo a week ago and was hauled to the hotel in a four-horse truck.

The diameter of the femur—there are two of the new Canadian rhinoceros. It is so great that they are laid on their sides a couple of locomotives could pass abreast. In height they approach the Nelson column in Trafalgar square, London.

BIBLE SOCIETY

Annual Meeting of Local Auxiliary--Address by Principal Shaw of Montreal.

The eighty-fifth annual meeting of the New Brunswick auxiliary of the British & Foreign Bible Society was held Thursday night in St. Andrew's church and was largely attended. George E. Fairweather was in the chair and with him on the platform were Judge Forbes, secretary of the local auxiliary, Rev. Principal I. Shaw of Montreal, Rev. Dr. Gates, Rev. J. C. B. Appel, Rev. J. A. Richardson, Rev. D. Lang, John E. Irvine and Dr. W. S. Morrison.

After devotional exercises led by Rev. Dr. Gates, Judge Forbes, secretary of the local branch, read his annual report. Among other things this showed that in Canada there had been raised during the last year $14,000 for the century fund of the home society. The local finances were in a healthy condition and a small balance on hand. The Canadian auxiliaries have amalgamated under the name of the Canadian Bible Society to take up the work in this country.

A resolution was then introduced, expressing hearty thanksgiving to Almighty God for the wonderful success which He has granted to the parent organization in the past 100 years, and supplicating a continuance of His favor in the new century.

Rev. Dr. Shaw, speaking to the resolution, said the Bible began with Paradise in Eden, and passed on through Bethlehem and Calvary to Paradise regained.

"You may safely challenge the world," the speaker continued, "to produce such an other work. The sacred books of the Hindu and the other ancient peoples are more or less local in their character, but the Bible is as wide as the universe in its application." After alluding to the wonderful way in which the Bible had been preserved, he said: "One other peculiarity of the Bible is that its truth stands in quiet consciousness of its divine message. There is no need of being alarmed by the higher criticism or any other kind of criticism. The Bible has fewer enemies today than at ever has."

"There are some of the factors among the many which the Bible has commanded our highest admiration and why we should be willing to help send it to others who have it not."

This resolution was seconded by Rev. J. C. B. Appel. A second resolution was that this society co-actively approve of the steps taken towards organizing a Canadian Bible Society in affiliation with the British and Foreign Bible Society, and pledged its hearty support to the work in its application." After alluding to the wonderful way in which the Bible had been preserved, he said: "One other peculiarity of the Bible is that its truth stands in quiet consciousness of its divine message. There is no need of being alarmed by the higher criticism or any other kind of criticism. The Bible has fewer enemies today than at ever has."

WHAT IS ANTI-PILL?

A somewhat Peculiar Name Explained--How Dr. Leonard Came to Call His Famous Prescription "Anti-Pill."

Dr. Leonard found in his practice that chronic constipation and its kindred complaints were the result of a dried-up condition of the mucous membrane lining of the stomach and bowels. He investigated further and found that this condition was invariably brought about by the use of cathartics, which alluring, especially before the eyes, red, thick, or watery deposit in the urine, or anything wrong with the urinary organs, when your kidneys are affected?

He made a special study of such medicines a reason why he did not produce a medicine for a stomach and bowel derangement which would centrally free from all restrictions.

After long experiment he succeeded, and to emphasize the difference between his treatment and the old-fashioned treatments, he gave it the name "Anti-Pill."

Anti-Pill will cure dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation perfectly and for ever—sure to stay cured—with no pill habit left to overcome later.
