Freight Cars Wrecked.

Four cars of an eastbound Wabash freight train were smahed and several rods of track was torn up about a mile west of Glencoe Sunday afternoon, caused by the trucks of one of the cars near the centre of the train leaving the rails. No one was hurt, but traffic was blocked for several hours. A westbound passenger train had but a few moments before passed the point at which the accident occurred. The track on which it was running was forced aside and piled up with wreckage for a considerable length. The Grand Trunk Eastern Flyer picked up sectionmen all along the route from near Windsor to Glence to help clear up the wreckage. One of the cars destroyed was loaded with starch, which covered the ground like a fall of snow and took some labor to shovel away.
