Unsanctified Vocabulary.—A bird-dealer had in his shop a taciturn parrot. Day after day it sat silent on its perch, indifferent to every question. At last a Cuban lady came into the shop and spoke to it in her native tongue. The parrot brightened up at once, opened its beak, and emitted a jubilant volley of vehement Spanish words. When the parrot finally ceased speaking the lady turned to the owner and, blushing violently, asked:

"Do you understand Spanish?"

"No," he replied.

"Thank heaven!" she said, and left the shop.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

The Alternative.—They were building a new church and the funds had not come in as fast as had been expected and the priest thought he would simplify matters by appointing a sum of money which he thought proportionate to each man's wealth, and so he taxed Con Hagerty $1,000. Con had begun to feel the religious indifference that sometimes goes with success, and when he heard that he had been mulcted a thousand dollars he was frantic. "I'll never pay it," he exclaimed; "I'll become a Presbyterian and go to hell first."

This Censor Stuff.—Dr. Frank Crane in the New York Globe says: "Before leaving for Corfu on his vacation the Kaiser issued two commands, directing society people how to behave themselves at their own dinner-tables.

"The first order was that they should not sit at dinner more than forty-five minutes; the second, that the gentlemen, instead of lingering for a while alone to smoke and tell man stories, should rise when the ladies retire from the board, and go with them into the drawing-room. It is added that fashionable society is going meekly to obey.

"It is getting to be a nice, fine world, thanks to the zeal of the regulators. Pretty soon the only place where a man can go to commit a crime in any sort of comfort will be out in the barn or down in the furnace-room.

"Indianapolis has a dance censor, a lady who hangs around whenever a dance is given and sees to it that a visiting card can be inserted between the tangoers.

"It is as much as a man's reputation is worth to ride in a crowded street-car. Some pure-minded vestibule virgin is liable to have him arrested for standing too near, or for not standing near enough.

"When you hear a woman scream you'd better make off as fast as you can run. The fact that you have been a church member for forty years and are old, bald, and reputable can not save you from being arrested as a poison-needle. Beat it!"—The Argonaut.

Experienced.—At a negro wedding, when the clergyman read the words "love, honour, and obey," the bridegroom interrupted and said: "Read that again, sah! Read it once mo', so's de lady kin ketch de full solemnity ob de meanin'. I'se been married befo'."

Your Part in a Dialogue.—"Why, Mrs. Codlins, 'ow are you, 'ow are you? I 'aven't seen you to speak to for ages." "No, Mrs. Whidden; no more 'aven't I you, neither."—Punch.

"The Whole Truth."—"You say the prisoner had been drinking," said his Worship. "Drinking what?"

"Whisky, I think," replied the intelligent officer.

"You think? Don't you know the smell of whisky? Aren't you a judge?"

"No, yer Worship; only a policeman."

"There's My Motor"

"The man who built it sure knew just what I wanted—size, price and everything else. No more rowing for me. I'm going to have some REAL fun out of MY rowboat. And I'm going in and get THAT motor right NOW, too. Then when the next good day comes along I'll be READY."

Wisconsin
Detachable
Row Boat Motor

The one absolutely and completely efficient motor in its class. Simple—dependable—economical—powerful—strong. Light—carries grip-fashion. Instantly adjustable to any rowboat. A twist of the wheel starts it. You get any speed—slow, for trolling, or nine miles an hour if you're in a hurry.

Rudder Steering—constant control of the boat, even when motor's still. High Tension Magneto Ignition—never a miss.

A real motor—not a makeshift. Made by the same men who build the long-famous Wisconsin Valveless Marine Engine.
