Dame Helen Gwynne-Vaughan,
Commandant,
Auxiliary Territorial Service for Women,
War Office,
LONDON, England.

Dear Madam:

I am greatly obliged for your letter advising me that you would be glad to accept me in the Auxiliary Territorial Service if I am able to pass the necessary medical examination. I am quite sure that I can because I had an examination not long ago and I am going to take the precaution of having another.

I have applied for my passport which is necessary before I can go over and just as soon as I get my passport I will arrange to leave for England on the first ship available.

Thanking you very much for your letter and hoping that I may have the privilege of joining the service, I am,

Yours sincerely,

Florence Patterson,
