

Place-nomenclature.

- Long Lookum.—Name of long straight stretches of river on the St. Croix, Nepisiguit and Upsalquitch, no doubt a hybrid Indian-English expression.
- Louison.—I have found several references to the use of this name for Indians. Thus the Journal of the Survey of the North line in 1818 shows an Indian helper named Louison.
- Ludlow.—P. 1814. Named no doubt in memory of the brothers, Gabriel G. Ludlow, Administrator of the Province in 1803, and George D., Chief Justice of the Province, both of whom died in 1808.
- Lumsden, in Albert.—Named, as I am told by Hon. A. R. McClelan, in honour of a man with whom negotiations were carried on to bring out settlers to the Province.
- Lynnfield.—Said locally to be so named from the hymn-tune of that name, a great favourite of one of the earliest settlers.
- Maces Bay.—On Sproule, 1786, as Maes's Bay. The origin of this name still eludes me, though I am inclined to believe it is from the Indian Mechescor. It is barely possible it was given by DesBarres. He named many places for contemporary British officers, and there was a Benj. Mace, a surgeon in the 22nd Regiment, serving about that time in America.
- Mactaquac.—Mactaguack on Sproule's map of 1786, and as Mactuquac in the Land Memorials of 1786.
- Magaguadavic.—This is the standard spelling of this word, though its pronunciation is invariably "Macadavy." The retention of the longer spelling is no doubt connected with the constant official use of the longer form through the many documents and maps of the Boundary disputes, as shown in the Monograph on Boundaries, 277.
- Magundy.—I think, without doubt, of Maliseet Indian origin. Apparently an early Indian portage to the Magaguadavic Lakes passed by way of this stream (see later in these Addenda under "portages"). Very likely it is the same word as appears in Magundicook and possibly Mooselemeguntic in Maine, and, perhaps, related to Slugundy, which see. This origin is confirmed by the form Magundic Ridge, 1823, in the Land Memorials, and by the local tradition, which also makes it of Indian origin.
- Mainor Lake.—On Loggie's and Geological Survey maps for a branch of the Little Southwest Miramichi. An interesting example of the errors that can arise simply mechanically through misprints, etc., for locally the stream is called Mains, or the Lake, Branch.
- Mahood Lakes.—A name introduced in 1898 for a group of lakes in Charlotte County, in honour of William Mahood, a prominent early surveyor of the County, and first surveyor of that group. The name, with those of other lakes of the group are explained in the Bull. N. H. S., IV, 57.
