What an Old Man said to his Wife. Ah, don't be sorrowful, darling, And don't be sorrowful, pray Taking the year together, my dear

There isn't more night than day. Tis rainy weather, my darling; Time's waves they heavily run; But taking the year together, my dear, There isn't more cloud than sun.

We are old folks now, my darling, Our heads they are growing gray; But taking the year all round, my dea You will always find the May.

We have had our May, my darling, And our roses long ago; And the time of the year is coming, my For the silent night and the snow.

And God is God, my darling, Of night as well as of day; And we feel and know that we can go Wherever He leads the way.

Ay, God of the night, my darling, Of the night of death so grim; The gate that leads out of life, good wife, Is the gate that leads to Him.

On the third day, Johnny asked his sister Maud to go with him to look at his trap. They approached it very carefully, keeping behind the rock, and then Johnny, taking off his cap, peeped cautiously through a crevice. An evaluation cautiously through a crevice. An exclamation of joy almost escaped him; but he checked it. and with a motion of his hand hushed his sister and beckoned her to come and look. Johnny took up his trap to carry it home He could hear the imprisoned squirrel scratching and struggling in his fright at being shut up in that strange, dark place, and before he reached home he began to feel some misgivings about keeping that poor little fellow there. "I almost wish he was back in the woodland," said Johnny

Well, so do I: I'm sorry that he should be there in that box, when he has been so happy all day long." " I mean to let him go !" said Johnny.

"Oh, that will be nice !" cried Maud. "But do you think he could find the way from here?"

I'm afraid not; but we can go back to the woodland gate." And back again they went. Johnny set the trap down on the grass; then be lifted the cover a little way and looked in. The equirrel put his nose to the opening, and thrust out one of his pretty, slender paws, as if begging to be let out. Johnny opened the trap wide. The squirrel sprang out, and was off in a twinkling, never stopping to look back till he was safely up in a walnut tree, and then he perched on one of the branches, giving his tail a whisk, as if he would say, "I will never be caught so

That Dr. Ayer's medicines are entitled to public confidence and are of real virtue, our own experience teaches, at least so far as his Sarsaparilla is concerned, and in his case we are disposed to judge all by one. My little boy had for two years a running, loathsome and spreading sore on his face which finally covered almost the whole of it; eyelids so swollen he was almost blind. A skillfal physician gave him Calomel, Rhubarb, Dovers Powders; all without benefit. Lunar Caustic even was applied which turned the mass of corruption a jet black but did not prevent the sore bursting out a fresh. Finally he became so bad that for two weeks he was not premitted to lie down or put his hands to his face, to prevent his irritating it and everybody thought he must die. Ayer's Sarsaparilla was used and with happy effect; two bottles cured the sore completely. He is now healthy and his face is free from sear; as fair and smooth as any childs. After making this statement we need not assure our readers that we hold Dr. Aver Sarsengilla in his

See to your own health, do not trust to the Army supplies although most valuable. These Pills and Ointment have been thoroughly tested, they are the only remedies used in the European Camps and Barracks, for over forty years. Doctor Holloway has supplied all the Armies in Europe, and during the Crimea Campaign he established a depot at Balaclava, for the exclusive sale of these great remedies, many a time his special Agent there has sold dies, many a time his special Agent there has sold over a tou in weight of the Ointment in a single day These terrible and tatal enemies of the soldier in camp. To Arms, To Arms. Do notilet these brave men perish by disease place in their hands these precious remedies, that will enable them to resist the dangerous exposures, the Fevers, the Chills, and the wounds which they cannot avoid, and what is more, cannot requently get succour in the moment of need, whereas if our brave men have only to put their hands into their Knapsacks and find there a sure remedy for all the casualties of the battle field. How many thousands of lives would thus be saved who would otherwise perigh before relief earled be abstrained.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:
