BOARD OF TRADE WAS ORGANIZED LAST MONDAY

In Village of Tweed: Excellent Addresses by Representatives From Belleville

(Tweed Advertiser)

Monday night witnessed a very pleasing and profitable sequel to the Citizens' banquet held on the evening of Feb. 17th, at which about 80 of the citizens of Tweed and district were present. It will be remembered that the banquet was of a twofold nature, viz. to do honor to the guest of the evening, Dr. Matlock, who was removing from Tweed, and to get expression as to the advisability of forming a local Board of Trade.

The town hall was comfortably filled with citizens from the village and surrounding country and a spirit of enthusiasm prevailed because of the success attendant upon the labors of the committee and in anticipation of establishing an epoch for a forward movement in industrial activity in this district.

Besides the chairman, Mr. R. F. Houson, the Reeve and Barrister Collins there were seated on the platform the following gentlemen representing the Belleville Board of Trade who had generously accepted an invitation to be present and address the meeting—Past President John Elliott, Pres. H. F. Ketcheson, Secretary Col. Ponton, and County Clerk, A. M. Chapman.

MR. KETCHESON

The speaker furnished corroborative testimony to the chairman's reference to cooperation by saying that every community requires cooperation, through which a great deal can be accomplished. A few years ago the citizens of Belleville would hardly recognize each other, but after getting together that spirit disappeared and they learned that their success depended upon unity. Rivals in business should be friends, not enemies; they should go hand in hand, which will make business more successful. The speaker referred to the habit of out of town shopping. This the city was trying to combat by endeavoring to educate the people that they can do as well at home, and the Board of Trade issued monthly circulars condemning home patronage. The benefits derived from the establishment of a Board of Trade in Tweed will be manifold. If any matter comes up affecting enterprise the Board takes the question up and gives it full investigation. Like Belleville and other places where they are in existence, the whole district will benefit. In closing the speaker expressed delight at being present at the organization of Tweed Board of Trade and assured the meeting that the local organization in every way possible.

COL. PONTON

Was the next speaker. He was brim full of enthusiasm, so much so in fact that it seemed an effort for him to keep from biplaning over the audience to more fully impress upon them and the wonderful results that could be achieved through the organization. Being Secretary of the Board of Trade the Colonel was on the ground floor, so to speak, being familiar with every detail and the information and advice passed along by him should serve to influence the most skeptical. He was sanguine that Tweed would come back to its own and speaking of the wonderful mineral resources adjacent to our village he enthusiastically remarked that when Cobalt is forgotten Hungerford will still be running. He predicted that within three years Tweed would experience a big change and it was the duty of Belleville Board of Trade in every way possible the interests of our village organization. Tweed is a live municipality and with its excellent railways should become a power house and this could be fully realized by our citizens pulling together. We were getting together not only to form a social organization but were instituting a great statutory creation, something that would give the town a prestige it never enjoyed before. The speaker referred to Ontario as the premier province of Canada, and how it had been drained to the West, but was gratified to know that a reaction had taken place and our population was now fast increasing. The Colonel spoke of the local newspapers as prime factors in any movement for

FOSSAL BALM

Goes Right to the Spot

If you have a cold in the head—if your nasal passages are inflamed, stuffed up, smarting—or if you suffer from chronic nasal catarrh—you can get quick relief by using Fossal Balm.

This is an antiseptic, healing salve put up in a collapsible tube so formed as to make its return easily to use. When the elongated cap is removed it uncovers the nozzle-shaped end of the tube, about half an inch long. This is inserted in the nose and the tube squeezed gently, depositing a little of the balm well up in the nasal passages. A little rubbing of the nose, and the inflamed membrane, the germs of disease. The latter it kills—the former it soothes and heals. The smarting irritation disappears—the nostrils are cleared, making breathing easy—and the catarrhal conditions, if they exist, are corrected.

advancement of the village interests and vouching for their cooperation with the Board of Trade in advocating matters for the public weal. The municipal council has its functions, went on the speaker, but the Board of Trade has functions not possessed by the council, and through its influence we are enabled to look after what is coming to us. The speaker referred with pride to the fact that within the past few months five Boards of Trade have been organized. He touched on the question of Moore River water power and thought that Mr. Jos. James' idea of conserving the water and harnessing the power was a vital idea. There was no reason why this could not be accomplished and a great power generated right here in Tweed. He impressed upon the meeting to organize for results and as there was nothing so effective as a good spirit, the efforts of twenty or more men could accomplish what would be impossible for one. A fund was necessary so that when opportunity affords itself it can be taken advantage of. The speaker emphasized that there was no politics or religion in Board of Trade and it was the duty of the members to reach out and make the circle as large as possible. In concluding he said that through the influence of a Board of Trade better roads could be obtained and many other matters gained in the interests of the district.

A nominating committee was then appointed and while deliberating in the clerk's office, Mr. Chapman favored the motion with a solo "O Canada." This unexpected treat was greatly enjoyed and Mr. Chapman who possesses an excellent baritone voice, was heartily applauded. Having completed their work the nominating committee filed back and took their seats and the chairman called on

MR. ELLIOTT

In opening his remarks the speaker said that had he not known the population of Tweed he would have concluded from the number present that he was in a town with a population of at least 5000 inhabitants. The attendance was a credit to Tweed and the Local Board of Trade should, judging from the interest being taken, be one of the best in Eastern Ontario. He shared of the money that is being expended throughout the country. Northern Ontario has an associated Board of Trade and they have been successful in securing what they have asked from the government and the speaker thought that Eastern Ontario should take a like advantage through a similar channel. He wanted to feel that your board of trade is an advisory council said the speaker and he corroborated the statement of the organization and should not be allowed to interfere with business. Mr. Elliott said that considerable work devolved upon the secretary and that a good selection should be made to fill the office at the same time. He said that the secretary of the Belleville Board of Trade wrote 800 letters during the year 1913. He spoke of our beautiful lake, our excellent location, our leading banking institutions and our many natural beauties. He said that with a co-operative spirit and judicious advertising Tweed could and would come into its own. Belleville Board has done considerable advertising and he wanted to urge the Hasting's County in the line of it. The speaker exhibited a magazine published in the old country in which appeared several views from the city and county, the Belleville Board being responsible for the publicity given. In closing he promised assistance from the Belleville Board and hoped that the Tweed organization would develop to the leading Board of Trade of the Province.

MR. CHAPMAN

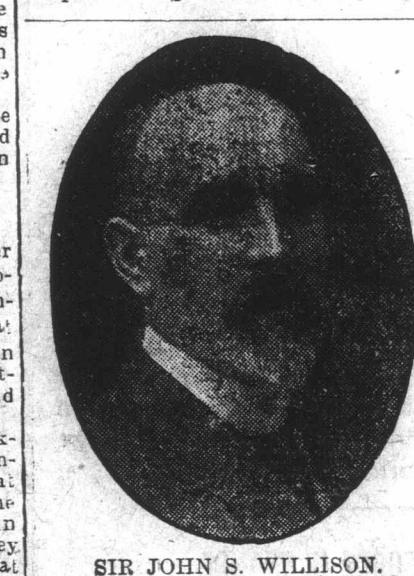

In coming before the meeting Mr. Chapman expressed his pleasure at being present, but said he least expected to be called on to make a speech. He jokingly remarked that his mission was ostensibly to act as chaplain to the other members of the Belleville Board of Trade present. He referred to the close relationship of the Board of Trade to the merchants and its efficiency as a tribunal at which to take up grievances. He was very much impressed by the beauties of our lake and surroundings and expressed the belief that Tweed could be made a summer resort of and in this particular the Board of Trade could make its presence felt by forwarding such a movement. He spoke of the great power possibilities of Moore River, and our excellent railway facilities and cited Oshawa and Gananoque as growing towns which could not boast of as many advantages. He could see no reason why Tweed should not develop into a center of industrial activity and advised the Board to reach out for the smaller industries which could be developed. He closed his remarks by urging his hearers to be boosters not knockers.

At eleven o'clock this morning Queen Victoria Park looked like a vessel of the Olympic class, ten times multiplied, steering for the open sea with a hundred funnels belching out smoke. There was some dead grass which was not wanted and fire was applied to get rid of it. From upper Front street it looked as if the whole wharf front was ablaze.

DISTINGUISHED SPEAKER TO ADDRESS CLUB

After due opportunity is given for the members, the list will be open to the citizens if there is any extra room, and persons who wish to join as members for the year may by paying the usual fee of $1.00 have the same privilege as members of this year's standing. The committee expect to have one of the most successful sessions yet held. Messrs. John Elliott, Robert Templeton and P. C. McLaurin are the members in charge of the tickets. Messrs. Sneyd, Hess, Campbell, Rev. C. G. Smith and O'Flynn were appointed the committee to take charge of the banquet. The Canadian Club is one of the best institutions in our city and throughout the country. The splendid addresses given the club during the year have been very much appreciated. It is to be hoped that the members and citizens will rally to the closing session and make it one of the most successful in the history of the club.

MOTORISTS TO PRESENT CASE TO LEGISLATORS

Ex-Mayor H. W. Ackerman presided at a meeting of the Belleville Motor Club yesterday afternoon in the City Hall. Dr. Doolittle, representing the Ontario Motor League, addressed the gathering. The plan is to get all the clubs to combine for the purpose of presenting the views of the motorists to the legislature on the question of good roads, the motor law and the archaic of motor licenses between the United States and Ontario.

APPRECIATIVE LETTER FROM H. E. TURNER

Prominent Winnipeg Man, a Former Resident of This County, Compliments The Ontario Upon its Enterprise as a News Medium.

The Ontario is in receipt of the following valued and appreciative letter from Mr. H. E. Turner, of Winnipeg, who now holds the important position of provincial manager for Manitoba of the Travellers Life Assurance Company of Canada whose head office is in Montreal. Mr. Turner is a native of Sidney township who left this district thirty-four years ago to try his fortunes in the new and improved West. Since that time Mr. Turner has not only attained to prominence in the business world, but he has also risen high in the fraternal world, having been Grand Master of the I.O.O.F. of the Grand Lodge of Manitoba as well as Grand Patriarch of the Patriarchs Militant.

Following is Mr. Turner's letter.—Winnipeg, April 27, 1914. Messrs Morton & Herity, Belleville.

Dear Sirs.—In renewing my subscription for the Weekly Ontario, I wish to compliment you upon the excellent paper you produce. Although away from the old birthplace for nearly thirty-four years it is wonderful how closely we can keep in touch with the events transpiring in the Bay of Quinte district. You have an excellent system of gathering news from the various districts, and not even the small items are overlooked. This means considerable to those of us who look upon Belleville as the dear old home city where our happy boyhood days were spent. Recently we formed a Belleville Club of Winnipeg, and at our annual banquet where some 180 men were present, many complimentary references were made to Belleville. We are glad to report the progress of the Bellevillians who have made good and who occupy many important positions in this, the greatest city of the West, and who are still loyal to the old city of their birth, which contains so much that links the past with the present.

The weather conditions are good here and seedling conditions are ideal. In full blast for the past three weeks. We have many things for which we are grateful, and one that gives us great joy is the prospect of defeating the present notorious Roblin Government during the year. I remember very well that the head of this government was a resident of Prince Edward County, which should commend him to the support of the Belleville boys. But I doubt whether he gets any of them when he has the courage to face the electors.

Again thanking you for giving us such a splendid paper as The Weekly Ontario, and wishing you continued success.

Sincerely Yours, H. E. TURNER.

The plastering of the new Queen Mary school is in full swing, although the contractor, Mr. Geo. A. Bennett, has not yet returned to the city. This part of the work will be finished by the first of June.

Mr. Leon Ostrom, of Winnipeg, paid a short visit to relatives here on the way to Montreal.

SALES BLOWN OUT BY VERY HEAVY STORM

Capt. Fagan and His Crew Tasted Danger For Time—Had 400 Tons on Vessel.

Capt. "Joe" Fagan and his crew are safe in port after having experienced the roughest sea they have ever known. The "Grace M. Flier," now owned by Capt. Fagan, has in addition to her head officer four men who would have been at the mercy of the waves had it not been for the stout timbers of the vessel and the heroic heart of her captain. These associates of Captain Fagan are Frank Smith, mate; Sam Bowler, cook; Wm. Gallagher, "before the mast"; and "Bill" Smith, "before the mast."

Only the eye of the sailor sees anything amiss with the Grace M. Flier. A "readers" will tell a "landlubber" after a glance at the rigging that four sails were blown out in the terrific storm which lashed the waves of Lake Ontario on Tuesday night and Wednesday.

Yesterday afternoon when an "Ontario" interviewer visited the water front he found Capt. Fagan and his crew aboard. The former was on deck engaged with the windlass, cables, and other things which have nautical names that mean Greek to the uninitiated. The cook was in the cabin and a couple of men were seated on deck sewing away at the torn sails. These were the only signs of the storm on the three masted schooner. Capt. Fagan has been through many a severe turmoil of the elements, when the main truck and pennant have seemed in the heavens, but he never experienced greater danger than on Tuesday and the following day of this week, so he told the interviewer yesterday.

At one o'clock Tuesday afternoon when the "Flier" left Oswego for Belleville with her consignment of coal, the weather was calm and nothing foretold what would spring up. Seven hours later by which time the schooner had made about 30 miles, the storm descended. The keel was leading and the William Jamieson was leading. The keel was in the upper part on the north shore and made for the bay for shelter but the Grace M. Flier was about half a mile too late. Four of her sails were blown out and it took the experience of Capt. Fagan with what canvas he had to save the vessel by coasting along the lake. So terrible a gale was blowing that in four hours the ship ran 50 miles. Finally Brighton was reached and the boat was anchored.

Under the feet of the crew was a cargo of 400 tons of coal, equal to eight carloads and weighing close on one million pounds.

There is a special rivalry among the mariners of this port, Harbor Master George Dulmage contributes a new hat to the first captain to enter the port with a cargo at the opening of navigation.

"You may say," said Capt. Fagan, laughing, "that I won the hat." He enjoys having beaten his fellow captains, even though his ship was towed down the bay yesterday by the John Rolph.

DRAMATIC CONCERT AT OLD ALBERT

From Saturday's Daily. The dramatic concert at Albert College last evening attracted a large audience, all of whom were delighted with the charming play "Camping at Breezy Point," presented by the Girls' Dramatic Class, under the direction of their teacher, Miss Jessie Tuile.

The play consisted of three acts, and represented a number of girls from a boarding school, who camped at Breezy Point, and had various experiences during their summer vacation. Pathos, humor, and eloquence, tragedy, camping pleasures, a gipsy and unexpected visitors appeared in the play, and interest never flagged for a moment. The characters were well chosen, and cleverly sustained. The cost of characters were as follows:

Aunt Debbie Mrs. Jones
Eleanor, her niece Zenta Keetch
Bernice, camper Ida Dawson
Edith, camper Eva Mitchell
Clarice, camper Sabra Bonsteel
Laura, camper Madeline Haight
Ashford, maid Ruby Hagley
Fantine, French maid Miss M. Young
Mrs. Hardcastle Olive Robinson
Bertha Hardcastle Isabel Adams
Sophia Hardcastle Jean McIntosh
Mehitable Doolittle Jean Sacellman
Clem, a gipsy Edith Moorhouse

The concert opened with a piano solo "The Two Larks" by Miss Edwards, and a duet by Professors Staples and Burrell and closed with a quartette by Messrs. Staples, Schryver, Burrell and LaVoe. At the close of the play, Miss Tuile was called before the curtain, and presented with a magnificent bouquet of American Beauties.

Iroquois Dance.

A delightful "at home" was held last evening under the auspices of the Iroquois Club in the Ramsey Academy. The young people who formed the membership of the organization were present in goodly numbers and one of the most successful events of the club resulted.
