

Gleaned by the Way.

It makes a man a lot madder to have to pay a $5 gas bill than to lose $50 at poker.

It is pretty hard to realize that some of the things that now annoy us dreadfully used to seem very entertaining.

An Extraordinary Case.

For three days my wife hovered between life and death with pneumonia and inflammation of the lungs, writes Mr. Fred Hawkins of Hinton, Ont., Canada. I then got Dr. Chase's Syrup of Licorice and Turpentine and this brought her relief the first night. Complete cure was soon effected and I cannot praise this medicine enough.

Hiram Green—'What did your sister say when you told her I was going to make a speech in the town hall to night?'

Willie—'She didn't say nothing; she just laughed till she had hysterics!'

Chafed and Irritated Skin.

What mother is not tired of using unsanitary soap-dragging powders to relieve the chafing and skin irritation of her baby? Dr. Chase's Ointment is so admirably adapted for this purpose that it relieves the itching and stinging, and makes the skin soft, smooth and velvety. Dr. Chase's Ointment is also a positive cure for baby eczema from which so many babies suffer during the teething period.

Now Johnny asked the gentleman who had killed him.

There can be no doubt.

Life when you are dead.

Of Jonah and the whale teach us?

'It teaches us,' said Johnny, 'that you can not keep a good man down.'

Visitor at Salvation Army Barracks—Excuse me for saying so, but—

—ah—most of the ladies here seem to be rather plain.

Adjutant—Oh, that's easily explained. All the pretty ones are out selling the War Cry.

DR. A. W. CHASE'S 25c CATARRH CURE.

It cures the diseased parts by the Improved Blower.

Two village worthies were discussing a mooted point in grammar, as to whether a hen 'sits' or 'sets' when she takes to her nest.

'Sits' to me it's a heap more important,' interrupted a bystander, 'whether she 'lays' or 'lies' when she cackles.'

'Eva—she never had a bean in all her life.'

Katherine—'And yet she has the nerve to declare that her face is her fortune.'

Eva—'Gracious! It must be one of those unclaimed fortunes' we hear so much about.'

A little girl's mother attended a number of card parties, leaving the child at home with the nurse. On one occasion, the child's attention was attracted by the plaintive cries of a young calf. Running to the window, she exclaimed, 'Poor little calfey has your mamma gone to the card party and left you, too?'

Mrs. Bubbles—'Joseph, I am afraid Johnny has caught the measles. He's been playing with those Ikestein children.'

Mr. Bubbles—'If the children are anything like old Ikestein, Maria, they won't give Johnny the measles or anything else without our being charged twenty per cent. for the accommodation.'

One day Mary, the charwoman, reported for service with a black eye.

'Why, Mary,' said her sympathetic mistress, 'what a bad eye you have.'

'Yes'

'Well, there's our consolation. It might have been worse.'

'You might have had both of them hurt.'

'Yes, or worse's that I might not have been married at all.'

A minister accepted a call to a new church in a town where many of the members had been and sometimes read there. A few weeks later he was asked to invite the prayers of the congregation by Lucy Gray. Willing and glad he did so for three Sundays.

On the fourth, one of the deacons said the minister had read the same prayer for three Sundays.

'What?' asked the minister, with an inquiring look. 'The same prayer for three Sundays.'

The Moose a Great Animal.

There is a thrill of excitement in hunting the moose which does not come to the hunter in the pursuit of any other of the big game, in Maine.

One of these great animals, standing higher than an ordinary horse, and with high forequarters, bristly mane, and huge head adorned with heavy antlers, presents a spectacle which is well calculated to shake the nerves of any hunter as he sights at his game along the barrel of a rifle.

A moose killed in Maine frequently weighs 1,000 pounds, and it is a small bull indeed which will not tip the scales at 500 to 600 pounds.

Cutting Both Ways.

A company promoter who advertised for an office boy received a hundred replies. Out of the hundred he selected ten, who were asked to call at the office for a personal interview.

His final choice fell upon a bright looking youth.

'My boy,' said the promoter, 'I like your appearance and your manner very much. I think you may do for the place. Did you bring a character?'

'No, sir,' replied the boy. 'I can go home and get it.'

'Very well. Come back to-morrow morning with it, and if it is satisfactory I dare say I shall engage you.'

Late that same afternoon the financier was surprised by the return of the candidate. 'Well,' he said cheerily, 'have you got the character?'

'No,' answered the boy, 'but I've got yours, and I ain't com' in.'

'How to Cure a Cold.'

Be as careful as you can when you will occasionally take cold, and when you do, get a medicine of known reliability, one that has an established reputation, and that is certain to effect a quick cure. Such a medicine is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

It has gained a world wide reputation by its remarkable cures of this most common ailment, and can always be depended upon. It acts on nature's plan, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. During the many years in which it has been in general use we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of the grippe having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by Rand's Drug Store.

Apply glycerine to a scald directly the accident happens, and cover it up with strips of rag soaked in glycerine. If the glycerine is not at hand apply salad oil in the same way.

INDIGESTION IS SLOW STARVATION.

Food is to the human body what fuel is to a furnace. Without the aid of food the body starves and dies, just as a furnace fire dies, grows cold, when not supplied with fuel. Indigestion is slow starvation. So long as it lies in the stomach it is fermenting—giving off noxious gases and acid fluids that poison the blood and flow with it all through the system.

You cannot be healthy in such a condition. You must surely lack the snap, the energy of mind and muscle, and the vigor of body, which are necessary to the enjoyment of life's good things—its work and play. There is no enjoyment for the man or woman whose stomach is out of order.

When your food fails to supply nourishment through rich red blood, you are being starved in muscle and nerve—starved as truly as the man who has nothing to eat—only yours is slow starvation.

Mother Seigel's Syrup, the great remedy for indigestion, has had 25 years of unvarying success all over the world. By aiding the organs of digestion to perform their work naturally, it has given health and comfort to millions. We have thousands of letters attesting such cures. Here is one:

Mrs. James A. Placey, of Davenport, P. O., Drummond Co., P. I., who writes August 27th, 1908, says:—'For over ten years I have been troubled with nervous headaches, without obtaining any relief from prescriptions. I was advised to try "Mother Seigel's Syrup," and the trouble ceased after taking a course of your valuable preparation.'
