

Oberhoffer is not only temperamental out he has an orchestra that reflects his vivid conceptions and fiery moods. His players are artists to a man and in the course of years he has gathered around im performers who are strangely Obernofferian-closely related in musical temperament to the man behind the baton.

A Busy Liar At The Opera House

Everything points to a big success being scored by the local amateurs in the big farce-comedy "A Busy Diat will be presented under the auspices of the Women's Hospital Aid Society at Thursday evening, and the society is enthusiastic over the prospects of a nice financial addition to their efforts, which are so worthy of support. There is no doubt about the humour of "A Busy Liar"-it sparkles with
