

Secular Department.

Suburban News.

Mr. George Grey has been re-appointed to the Governorship of the Cape, and will soon return to his charge.

Danger of a New War.

We have not regarded the affairs of Italy as likely to be settled upon a secure basis until further war, since the conclusion of the treaty of Villafranca.

Ch. Protestant.

School Visitation Report for 1858.

This document is now before the public. It is published in the Appendix to the Report of the Board of Education for 1858.

The Report, however, contains some useful information, and many valuable suggestions. A separate account is given of the visitation of the schools in each district.

Although the average daily attendance required by the Act is sufficiently low, being only one-half the minimum number of pupils of school age necessary to form a District.

It is a gratifying circumstance, and one which we are glad to see, that the average daily attendance in the schools is generally higher than the minimum required.

It is a gratifying circumstance, and one which we are glad to see, that the average daily attendance in the schools is generally higher than the minimum required.

It is a gratifying circumstance, and one which we are glad to see, that the average daily attendance in the schools is generally higher than the minimum required.

It is a gratifying circumstance, and one which we are glad to see, that the average daily attendance in the schools is generally higher than the minimum required.

It is a gratifying circumstance, and one which we are glad to see, that the average daily attendance in the schools is generally higher than the minimum required.

It is a gratifying circumstance, and one which we are glad to see, that the average daily attendance in the schools is generally higher than the minimum required.

Ch. Protestant.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1858.

School Visitation Report for 1858.

This document is now before the public. It is published in the Appendix to the Report of the Board of Education for 1858.

The Report, however, contains some useful information, and many valuable suggestions. A separate account is given of the visitation of the schools in each district.

Although the average daily attendance required by the Act is sufficiently low, being only one-half the minimum number of pupils of school age necessary to form a District.

It is a gratifying circumstance, and one which we are glad to see, that the average daily attendance in the schools is generally higher than the minimum required.

It is a gratifying circumstance, and one which we are glad to see, that the average daily attendance in the schools is generally higher than the minimum required.

It is a gratifying circumstance, and one which we are glad to see, that the average daily attendance in the schools is generally higher than the minimum required.

It is a gratifying circumstance, and one which we are glad to see, that the average daily attendance in the schools is generally higher than the minimum required.

It is a gratifying circumstance, and one which we are glad to see, that the average daily attendance in the schools is generally higher than the minimum required.

It is a gratifying circumstance, and one which we are glad to see, that the average daily attendance in the schools is generally higher than the minimum required.

Ch. Protestant.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1858.

School Visitation Report for 1858.

This document is now before the public. It is published in the Appendix to the Report of the Board of Education for 1858.

The Report, however, contains some useful information, and many valuable suggestions. A separate account is given of the visitation of the schools in each district.

Although the average daily attendance required by the Act is sufficiently low, being only one-half the minimum number of pupils of school age necessary to form a District.

It is a gratifying circumstance, and one which we are glad to see, that the average daily attendance in the schools is generally higher than the minimum required.

It is a gratifying circumstance, and one which we are glad to see, that the average daily attendance in the schools is generally higher than the minimum required.

It is a gratifying circumstance, and one which we are glad to see, that the average daily attendance in the schools is generally higher than the minimum required.

It is a gratifying circumstance, and one which we are glad to see, that the average daily attendance in the schools is generally higher than the minimum required.

It is a gratifying circumstance, and one which we are glad to see, that the average daily attendance in the schools is generally higher than the minimum required.

It is a gratifying circumstance, and one which we are glad to see, that the average daily attendance in the schools is generally higher than the minimum required.

Vertical text on the left margin, including dates and small notices.

Vertical text on the right margin, including dates and small notices.