Uncle Walt
THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

Oh, Johnson, Langford and McVey loom up in dark but brave array. The dead game sport in sorrow gropes among our stock of white men's hopes, and finds them all devoid of charms—they're COMFORT STILL all passed up as false alarms. Alas, we might as well admit that in the ring the black man's it. Long years may pass before we find a white man who can strip the rind from Joe or Thom or Same or Jack or 'tothermost "gigantic black." But let us not, my friends, despair, or rend our beards or paw our air. In other avenues we rise, we whites, triumphant to the skies! In poetry our Laura Jane can give the Ethiopes a pain; in science we have but to look upon the works of Dr. Cook; in art a white man spreads the ink immortalizing Hink and Dink; and we have Winifreds and Maes who fill with sunshine all our days, with little essays which impart a genial warmth to every heart. Go to, my friend, we are not lost, though in the ring we're double crossed. In all the gentle arts of peace we still remain as slick as grease.

No Indigestion, Gas, Sourness or Headache five minutes later.

The question as to how long you are going to continue a sufferer from Indigestion, Dyspepsia or out-of-order Stomach is merely a matter of how soon you begin taking some Diapepsin.

If your Stomach is lacking in digestive power, why not help the stomach to do its work, not with drastic drugs, but a re-enforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach.

People with weak Stomachs should take a little Diapepsin occasionally, and there will be no more Indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, no heartburn, Sour risings, Gas on Stomach or Belching of undigested food, Headaches, Dizziness or Sick Stomach, and, besides, what you eat will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. All these symptoms resulting from a sour, out-of-order stomach and dyspepsia are generally relieved in five minutes after taking a little Diapepsin.

Go to your drugist and get a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin now, and you will always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and what you eat will taste good, because your stomach and intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will know there are not going to be any more bad nights and miserable days for you. They freshen you and make you feel life is worth living.

Hr. Grace Notes.

Another fierce snow storm with very high wind raged on Saturday night and all yesterday. Very few people ventured out of doors and the services in the different churches were very poorly attended.

Another moving picture show will be placed before the public here this week. It will be under the management of Mr. P. J. Hatton. Our own Please U will also be in full swing during all the week.

Mistakes in calendars are very rare, but we know of one big insurance company whose calendar says there are two 23rd days in February this year and no 24th. A joker said it was unavoidable and that it was over a hundred years since the like occurred before.

The play "Among the Breakers" was placed on the boards on Friday night. A crowded hall greeted the performers at the rise of the curtain. The plot was well-worked out, and reflects much credit on the whole company.

The C. C. C. are holding a concert in the Academy Hall to-night at which a very laughable piece will be acted, entitled "Dye know me now." It is said to be full of fun from start to finish.

We regret to say that Mr. George Pynn is still very weak and his friends are very anxious about him. They had him removed to town last week so as to be near the doctor and to receive the constant care of his many friends. We hope we will soon be in a position to say he is improv-

Parliament Opened by the King.

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, Feb. 14. The second session of the second Parliament in King George's reign, was opened to-day by the King, in person. No speech for many years has been awaited with such absorbing public interest. Blank disappointment, however, was read on the faces of the hearers, owing to the colourlessness of the King's references to the historic legislation mapped out by the Government. The speech was a short one. Referring to the measures to be brought before Parliament, the King said: "A measure for the better government of Ireland will be submitted to you. A Bill will be laid before you to terminate the establishment of the Church in Wales and make provision for its temporalities. Proposals will be brought forward for the amendment of the law respecting the franchise and the registration of electors." This is all that the King said concerning measures which, if they become law, will radically alter the constitutional history of the Kingdom. The speech made no mention of British relations with Germany, and did not allude to Lord Haldane's visit to Berlin. The most interesting reference to foreign affairs was in the clause relating to China. "I trust the crisis in China will soon be terminated satisfactorily to the establishment of a stable form of Government, conforming with the views of the Chinese people. My Government will continue to observe an attitude of strict non-intervention, while taking all necessary steps to protect British life and property. It fully recognizes that both sides in China have shown every desire to safeguard the lives and interests of foreigners residing in the Empire." The Speech stated that the Government was ready to associate itself with the other Powers in mediation with a view to terminating the war between Italy and Turkey, and was striving with Russia to enable Persia to re-establish order. There was a brief reference to the wide-spread labour unrest—"I firmly trust that a reasonable spirit will prevail on both sides in order to avoid a development which will seriously affect the trade of the country and the welfare of the people." No intimation was given as to the magnitude of the coming naval estimates. The Suffragettes were not even mentioned.

Visit Made at Germany's Request.

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, Feb. 14. The opening day of the Parliamentary session, which deals with Home Rule, Welsh Disestablishment and Electoral reform, was marked by a statement from Asquith, that the visit of Haldane to Berlin was made at the invitation of German Authorities, and had reference to a desire on the part of both countries to relieve the existing tension. Interest in this statement completely overshadowed the Government's huge legislative programme. Since Haldane's visit to Berlin, the English people had been prepared for an announcement that it had to do with Anglo-German relations, but they hardly hoped that conversations proceeded so far as the Prime Minister's guarded speech shows. Speeches on domestic affairs dealt only generally with the Government's legislative programme. Bonar Law, in a fighting speech, promised to offer a stubborn resistance to Home Rule and other measures; while Lansdowne intimated that Home Rule will meet its fate from the Lords and will, therefore, have to be re-passed in the Commons. Only a passing reference was made to Electoral reform, and the possibility of woman suffrage. These measures will come in for longer debate when the amendments to the address, proposed by the Opposition Leader severely criticised the Home and Foreign politics of the Government and the changes of the Government in India. As to Home Rule, he insisted that the Premier had adopted an unusual course in leaving the explanation of the measure to Churchill, instead of making the explanation himself.

Cascarets Insure Inside Cleanliness

The million of Cascarets users never have Headache, Constipation, Billiousness or Sick Stomach.

It is more necessary that you keep your Bowels, Liver and Stomach clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil. This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your drugist will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

Tubercular Test Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon the farmers of the whole countryside, milkmen and others, assembled at the Agricultural stables to view the slaughtering of a cow and heifer which were believed by a veterinary surgeon to be affected with tuberculosis. Dr. Brehm was present for the Board of Health, Dr. McNairn for the Agricultural Society, Dr. Stewart for the farmers, and Dr. Donnelly, who made the test. Dr. Tait, who was also present, witnessed the proceedings with interest. The lung of the cow, which had been guaranteed good stock by the party who sold it in P. E. I., was found to be tubercular, but as far as could be seen, that of the heifer was sound. However a further test will be made to-day. Dr. Wakefield, superintendent of the proceedings, which were of supreme interest to those present.

Strong Desire for Better Understanding.

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, Feb. 14. The first official glimpse of the progress made in Anglo-German negotiations was given by Premier Asquith, in a debate in the Commons this afternoon. He said that the British Government received, last month, an intimation that the visit of a British minister to Berlin would not be un-welcome, and might facilitate the attainment of the common object of the two nations. Lord Haldane was consequently sent to Berlin. Perfect freedom of statement and frankness of explanations had prevailed. I genuinely believe that these conversations, said Asquith, may have more than a merely negative result. There is unmistakable evidence of a sincere desire on both sides for the establishment of a better feeling between us, and it is in that spirit both nations are now engaged on a careful survey of the practical possibilities. Referring to the overclouding of Anglo-German relations as a most lamentable fact, he took occasion to deny the story that the British fleet last autumn was preparing for an aggressive attack on Germany. Concluding, he said: "I cannot at this stage enter into matters of detail, but I may say that in the course of Lord Haldane's visit there was unmistakable evidence of a sincere and resolute desire on both sides for the establishment of a better footing between us, without either side in any way sacrificing or impairing the special relationship in which each of us stands to the other Powers."

Changes in British Cabinet

Special Evening Telegram.

LONDON, Feb. 14. Earl Carrington has resigned the office of Lord Privy Seal, and the Marquis of Crewe succeeds him. Lord Pentland has resigned as Secretary of State for Scotland, and is succeeded by Thomas McKinnon Wood. The changes were officially announced this evening, and caused surprise as it was thought that Crewe had decided to retain his portfolio of Secretary of State for India.
