The Brooklyn Eagle's London correspondent writes as follows: "I am able to announce definitely that King George will visit Canada in 1914. Only some such unexpected event as a Eu ropean war involving England or a family bereavement will prevent this trip taking place. The King and his advisers are taking somewhat unne cessary pains to keep the proposed visit a secret. They are so afraid that Canadians will be disappointed that they dread the King's attention being announced at this distant date. The meeting of King George and President Wilson at Niagara Falls will likely be arranged within the near future. King George intimates his willingness to open the Toronto Exhibition in August 1914. Prepar ations for this event are already be ing made in English Court circles England has visited Canada, and it i oped the Queen will accompany the King; but nothing yet is definitely settled as regards to this. The Princ of Wales is quite likely to be with his father on this interesting trip. It is understood that the Duke of Connaught cordially endorsed the earnest solicitation of the Canadian Government and people, to which the

As the yacht races for America's Cup takes place n September, 1914, there is just a chance the King on his return trip home may be a spectator of Sir Thomas Lipton's fourth attempt to lift the cup. It has been suggested that the warship in which the King makes his trip to Canada should be diverted to Sandy Hook so that King George can see in person what happens to the Four Leafed Shamrock. It is not likely the King would go ashore at New York, but if it can be suitably arranged, he would be gleat to see the second service of the s be glad to see one or two of the races for Amerca's cup. During the King's absence from England the Royal pre-regatives will be invested in a commission similar to that which was appointed when he was in India to receive the homage of His subjects in that Empire. For reasons of State is may be decided that the Prince o Wales shall stay in England while his father is abroad. This trip to Canada is only a forerunner of others. King George's ambition is to be the first King to visit not only Canada bu also Australia and South Africa.

King has now accorded, so far as his plans can be arranged in advance, a welcome assent:

VIENNA, To-day. The official Fremdenblat discussing Scutari says: "If Austria-Hungary is to be really tranquilled, the Grea Powers must not stop at a platonic declaration and their unanimous in tention. They must convert their good-will into deeds without delay this connection. Constant talk in this connection. Constant talk abroad of compensating Montenegro for her military services, makes especially a bad impression of the political and military prestige Europe suffered by the fall of Scutari. If this injury to their prestige, this check to their ambitions, is a matter of indifference to the Powers, Austria cannot follow them along such maths. not follow them along such paths. She must insist with all emphasis her command on a remedy being found as speedily and thoroughly as possible. • The minimum she demands is an immediate presentation by the protect an immediate, presentation by the Powers at Cettinje, of the protest they have already decided upon in the form of a vigorous demand for the evacuation of Scutari at once. In the event of a refusal the adoption of further military measures for the forci-ble carrying out of the will of Eune carrying out of the will of En-rope, will be made. Any hanging back on the part of Europe from this action would excite feelings of dis-satisfaction and bitterness in Austria-Hungary. It will be Europe's inter-ests to prevent this.

LONDON, To-day.

According to a report published at Berlin, an Austrian naval division left Trieste with ten thousand troops with the intention of occupying Antivari, Dulcigno, San Giovanni and Dimedu, advancing against Cettinje. The trassberger Post asserts that the German Emepror received a telgram to the effect that the Austrians had already entered Montenegro. This is robably premature, but little doubt If you have a leaden dime. s now felt that Austria is determined o act alone, unless the Ambassaderial conference at London on Monday resolves upon European action.
