On General Matters.

Trinity, 3rd August, 1 815.

Robert Slade, Mr. Garland's "Augustus" began about to sail for Poole, before the opportunity of handing up the last number with the other papers, since the date which nothing very material has will not sell. We have many complaints about the butter also with French marks, it does not keep like the Irish, although it looks well. I am sorry to say by a letter of the 1st ult. from St. John's, I find the fish sent thither by the "Swallow" mentioned in my last letter, was not sold, but remained stored even at that date. Mr. Garland's "Arrow" was loaded with old fish for the same place, and on the return of the "Swallow" the 16th July, Mr. Durrell reloaded it all excepting a little just to bait her and he has still here more than a schooner load. This is certainly rather unfortunate both for Mr. Garland and you (and many others) are in the same predicament, but the effect it will have on the price of new fish is not to be feared. I have heard nothing lately of the threatened lawsuit respecting Rowe's Room, and am of opinion that threats are all it will amount to.

THE DICTIONARY.

We once held Noah Webster in high esteem, his picture occupying the position of honor at the head of the bed in our nocturnal (and Sunday morning) quarters. Our faith in him was childlike and simple. The man who could produce such a work as the Dictionary, we thought, must be a prodigy, and for years he was the unsuspecting object of our delight and admiration. Then, one day, we had occasion to peruse this wonderful work of genius. The word we desired to know the meaning of was "Ancestry." The definition given was "Pedigree." We looked up "pedigree" and found that it meant "genealogy." Determining to see this thing through, we examined "genealogy," only to find it "a race." However, as the sentence in which we had originally come across the word "ancestry" had been, Robert was extremely proud of his own ancestry, we failed to see the sense of it at all. Robert was a one-legged man, while the foot of the remaining leg possessed at least three corners. (all-favourite ones, too.) In the long course of this research work we stumbled against the word "Conjecture," and found its meaning to be the meaning of "guesses" was "to conjecture." We felt, somehow, that the whole Dictionary was conjecture and guesswork. We removed Webster's from our room, made a present of it to our charwoman, and in the place it formerly occupied there now rests the many-and-brightly-hued magazine-picture of "Roaring Rob, the Pride of the Prairie."

NECESSARY QUALIFICATIONS

If you would lift me, you must be on higher ground. If you would liberate me you must be free. If you would correct my false view of facts—hold up to me the same facts in the true order of thought.—R. W. Emerson.

Talent is long patience.—De Mautpasant.

It is the unexpected that gives life its greatest charm.

The Coliseum of Rome, built by Vespasian for 10,000 spectators, was, at its longest diameter, 615.5 feet, and in the shortest, 510. It embraced 5 and a half acres, and was 120 feet high.

GROWING NAILS.

When Capt. Cook first visited

Tahiti, the natives were using nails of wood, bone, shell and stone. When they saw iron nails, they thought they were roots of some very hard wood, and, desirous of securing such a valuable commodity, they planted them in their gardens.

DESPITE SPEED LAWS.

Wild ducks fly at 90 miles an hour; the swift at 200; carrier pigeons, 25; swallows, 60; migratory birds have been known to cross the Mediterranean at a speed of 120 miles an hour.

WISE MAN.

Mr. F. C. Selous takes very little luggage with him on his hunting expeditions. Neither medicine nor soap, its form part of his equipment, but he invariably carries a good supply of tea, of which he is always very fond.

Eugene Sandow was of slight build up to his fifteenth year. He was fond of gymnastics; but was also a keen student, and won many prizes.

ORRRIGHT.

A stranger went into the Perry County State Bank of Hazard, Ky., and said to the receiving teller: "I want to make a deposit." "What is the name?" asked the teller. "Wright," replied the man. The teller took a slip and wrote the name "Wright" on it. The man said: "You wrote Wright 'Right,' that isn't right. Wright is right, but 'Right' is wrong."

"Well," demurred the teller, "if 'Right' is wrong, what is right?" "Here," said the man as he took the pen, "I'll show you how to write Wright right right now."

So the teller wrote Wright right, and the man said: "That's right!"

THE CONQUEROR.

Some men with swords may reap the field, And plant fresh laurels where they kill; But their strong nerves at last must yield; They tame but one another still: Early or late They stoop to fate, And must give up their murmuring breath, When they, poor captives, creep to death.

—Shirley.

"Getting tired! No fear! Why bless you, sir, they are quite used to it by now. Every time they hens see a furniture van arrive they run into the yard and lie on their backs with their legs in the air, waiting to have them tied."

A PROBLEM.

The proprietor of a tanyard was anxious to fix a suitable sign to his premises. At length a happy thought struck him. He bored a hole through the doorpost and stuck a calf's tail into it with the tufted end outside. After a while he saw a serious-looking man standing near the door looking at the sign. The farmer stepped out and addressed him. "Good morning sir!" he said. "Good morning!" said the other, without taking his eyes off the sign. "Do you want to buy any leather?" asked the tanner. "No." "Perhaps you've got some hides to sell?" "No." "Are you a farmer?" "No." "What are you, then?" "I am a philosopher. I've been standing here for nearly an hour trying to find out how that calf got through that hole!"

Man Missing.

The Deputy Minister of Justice received the following message from Magistrate Wells, of Little Bay, yesterday: "Frederick Hillier, of Grignon, herring fishing at Boot Harbor, Hall's Bay, came to Springdale on March 14th to attend a Salvation Army meeting; left again at midnight to cross Hall's Bay on ice to Boot Harbor. The night was showery and rather dark; friends tried to persuade him from going, but he persisted; he has not been seen or heard of since. Mr. Taylor, with whom Hillier was fishing, fearing something had happened his man, came to Springdale on Saturday, the 8th inst., and reported Hillier's absence. Search parties started out immediately and searched all over the bay ice and woods around the shore but found no trace of the unfortunate young man. It is supposed he must have walked over the edge of the ice in thick weather. The Bay ice extends only a short distance outside Boot Harbor. His father is fishing at Springdale."

Suffered Since Childhood

Kidneys at the Root of the Evil

Think of it! The joys of youth marred by agonizing pains, and all hopes of a bright future blotted out by thoughts of a life burdened with backache and other sufferings.

Such was the case of Mr. A. Cail until a good friend advised him that there was a remedy for his trouble and he would find it if he used Gin Pills. Read what Mr. Cail says:

"I was troubled with my kidneys since childhood and spent a large amount of money on doctors trying to get cured. Instead of getting better I kept getting worse until a friend of mine advised me to try Gin Pills. I did so, and after taking one box I was able to get out of bed and walk around. Two more boxes relieved me completely and since then I have had no return of the trouble."

This remarkable testimonial was written by a man whose statement cannot be doubted. Mr. Cail's reason for writing this history of his case was gratitude for the relief that Gin Pills brought him. Wouldn't you do the same if your case was similar? If you suffer now—don't suffer any longer. Use Gin Pills and obtain relief from Kidney or Bladder Trouble, and the pain, suffering and inconvenience that they cause.

Your humble servant.

NOTE:—With regard to the House of Penrose that failed, I happen to know a little about them. They were Quakers or Society of Friends in religion, and were strictly honest, upright and trustworthy people and were well liked by the citizens and business people in Waterford. My maternal ancestors came from Waterford, and Penrose started business again, and paid his creditors to the very farthing, and I think even with the latest. The Quakers are very peaceful people, and one day a fellow stole a pair of boots from a number hanging out-side Penrose's the redoubt, and the proprietor addressed him as follows: "Fried thou wilt have to pay for these boots at the Judgment Day, as it will be recorded against thee." "In that case," replied the thief, turning back, "I had better take another pair," which he did and ran away. I have often heard the old folks relate this little episode.—H. F. S.
