

Flying Boat

Defeats Death

IN RACE TO SAVE WOMAN. Details of a race participated in by a slow sailing schooner and a high-powered flying boat with a woman's life one hundred miles away on an island staked against time and saved by the plane were given today by C. F. Redden, President of the Aero-Marine Airways, Inc., Times Building, New York. The news came to Mr. Redden by wire from Miami, Florida, one of the air bases of the Aeromarine Coy. "The schooner 'Lilly' put into Nassau after four and a half days," said Mr. Redden "in travelling at her best speed from Norman-Castle, on the island of Little Abaco in the Bahamas. It brought the word that Mrs. Lottie Russell, wife of Roy Russell, manager of the Bahamas Islands Importing and Exporting Corporation, was in a critical condition and unable to live unless immediate aid was rushed to her. There were no physicians on the island and the skipper asked that one be rushed there on the fastest boat available. Even then, her condition was desperate and he considered the odds greatly against the sick woman. He gravely doubted if aid could reach her in time. Every minute might mean life or death.

"While the Capt. of the schooner was seeking a swift boat to make the return trip, and others were summoning a physician and nurse, Dr. Graham and Miss Nellie Burns, he chanced upon Duke Schiller, pilot of the Aeromarine flying boat 'Florida,' who had just entered the harbour from Miami. Schiller at once tendered the use of the plane and volunteered to put off immediately. When the physician and nurse arrived they were bundled into the big plane and began a race to save a woman believed to be dying.

"The hundred miles they covered in one hour and a half—as against the four days and a half of the Musick, piloting the big eleven passenger enclosed cabin Aeromarine flying cruiser 'Columbus' line went out of Miami. Musick flew his ship to the island and found Mrs. Russell recovering and in such condition that the physician was able to return, leaving the nurse to care for her."—Aeromarine Airways Inc.

Henry T. Waite Dead.

WAS SECOND OFFICER ON SCOT-TISH KING.

A dispatch to the Halifax Herald states that Mr. Henry T. Waite had died of appendicitis on the C.P.R. liner Melita two days before her arrival at Southampton. Mr. Waite was second officer on the Scottish King when that steamer went ashore at Seal Cove, near Fergus, some 12 years ago. The ship, it will be remembered, was towed into Fergus after lying on the rocks for 13 months. She was later repaired at this port.

Branch Lines Opening.

ALL WILL OPERATE.
The Trepassy, Bonavista and Bay de Verde branch lines will open on Monday, when the first trains to run over them this season, will leave the city. The work of clearing the Bonavista branch is now progressing, but there is a considerable quantity of snow to be removed. The other lines will be cleared next week. How often the trains will leave St. John's each week to operate on these branches, has not yet been decided.

Daylight Saving.

CLOCKS MUST BE PUT AHEAD ON SUNDAY.

All clocks must, at 10 p.m. on Sunday next, 7th inst., be put on one hour, for that is the day on which Anderson's time begins. The gun on Signal Hill will be fired to advise citizens of the time to advance their clocks. The Daylight Savings Act has proved a great boon to St. John's, at least, and it will be very welcome when it comes around again?

Community Theatre.

ST. JOHN'S SHOULD OWN ONE.
A Community Theatre in which plays would be performed, by either a resident stock company, or amateurs, would be a great benefit to St. John's, said Mr. J. Murray Anderson, the revue writer to the Telegram today. Mr. Anderson says that many towns in Canada and the States have similar theatres, in which citizens own the stock, and in every case they are a great success.
