SATURDAY EVE'G, APRIL 11, 1868. The New Postal Law-Its Operations.

If we stated that the New Postal Law gave general satisfaction we should be very far from expressing the popular opinion concerning it. The provisions by which letters weighing ot more than half an ounce are trans mitted from one part of the Dominion to another for three cents is pleasing to everybody, but there are some of the other enactment which are considered, and not without reason, nuisanses and grievances. The part of the bill most loudly condemned is that Cir which regulates the postage on drop letters and transient newspapers. By the term drop letters, is to be understood those letters which are put into any particular post office to be taken A direct therefrom by the party to whom they are addressed. By the new law it has become imperative that these should be prepaid by the parties sending them, otherwise the addressee will not be allowed an opportunity of resing them, for they must at once be laid aside for transmission to the Dead Letter Office. It is not easy to imagine a more absurd enactment than this. Heretofore the one cent postage on drop letters was a perquisite of the postmasters when the money was paid, and of course when the mis sives were stamped the Post Office Department was the gainer. The object of the new law no doubt is to secure to the Government all the revenue thus accruing, but we do not imagine that they will be much richer in consequence. People will come in time to understand the fate of their letters if they be not prepaid, and they will prepay those that they drop, but the number of these will be very seriously diminished, and while the public will be incommoded the Department will not be the gainer. Under the old law we believe that there was but a comparatively small proportion of the unpaid drop letters which were not redeemed. But this is only anoth er verification of the old proverb that, "too much cookery spoils the broth.

In reference to the postage on transient newspapers it is as great a bore as that of which we have been speaking. If we recollect properly, at the time the Bill passed it was left to the wisdom and discretion of the Gover of postage should be one cent or two Fire & Burglar Proof Combined cents, that point not having been determined in Parliament. When the law went into operation we discovered FIRE AND BURGLARS! that the decision had been in favour READER, if you want a reliable safe, purchase of the larger sum, to the end, perhaps that what was lost by the reduction on letters might be compensated by the increased rate on transient news-There is almost a certainty that the design will fail in producing the expected effect—if the three cent system do not pay of itself we quesToronto, April 11, 1868.

The circulation of these between friends and acquaintances is rapidly decreasing, and as there is openly and universally expressed dissatisfaction concerning the rate that has been imposed it is likely to decrease much further. The Hon. Alex. Campbell will A PPLY to MRS. SHARPE, Waterioo Road. add considerably to his present popularity by giving his kind attention to the foregoing obnoxious clauses.

The Reciprocity Treaty.

In reply to a resolution of the Hou. of Representatives, asking for a statement of the trade between the United States and the British Provinces, the Secretary of the Treasury has sent in a communication prepared by George Washington Brega, in which that per son reports favorably to a renewal of CAUSTIC SODA—'Gamble's,' 'Widnes', Reciprocity. The N. Y. Herald, referring to the subject, says:—"The desirableness of some fresh arrangement, akin to that which, for party are not provided to expire in Montreal lat April, 1868 March, 1866, is, we believe, admitted by the great majority of intelligent business Americans. The old treaty may not have been perfect in all its details, but its general operation during the ten years over which it extended was undoubtedly beneficial both to the United States and the Provinces. It was, in fact, much too beneficial. mutually, to be sacrificed at the bidding of high tariff men. Of this the experience of the last two years has furnished abundant proof; and we hope and believe that, either by concurrent legislation or treaty, some plan of Reciprocity will be consummat ed at no distant day. We cannot look for it this year or next, but the interests involved are sufficiently numerous and large to warrant steady effort for the enlightenment of Congress on the subject."

The Toronto Telegraph has a report based on a givate letter received by a citizen, that the notorious highwayman and murd rownes a terror in the state of the sta

States, Prince Edward Island, Newfounder. must prepay their Canadian posabove through the Canadian publisher.
