Lord Stanley's Son Reported as Slightly Easier.

Late Ottawa News-Mr. Costigan and the Hemo Rule Revolution-The Evanescence of Public Life.

Special Editorial Correspondence by Tele graph.]

OTTAWA, Feb. 13 .- I learn to-day from the Government House that a cable just re-ceived states that Hon. Arthur Stanley, lying at the point of death in London, is slightly easier.

X X X
This forenoon, Chas. H. Ivey, solicito for the Cleveland lossess of the London and Port Stanley Railroad, returned to this Port Stanley Railroad, returned to this city from Montreal. He tells me that the company has now completed its arrangements for establishing a line of boats netween Port Stanley and Montreal. The monster ferry boats are to be enlarged at the cost of $30,000 each so as to be able to stand all sorts of weather and to ferry twenty carloads of coal respectively. Mr. Ivey is here to submit to the Minister of Public Works a plan of the proposed slip-dock at Port Stanley, which the company proposes to construct at its own expense, estimated at from $12,000 to $15,000.

I interviewed Hon. John Costigan, Secretary of State, as to a rumor that he intended to follow Hon. Edward Blake's intended to follow Hon. Edward Black advice and introduce a home rule resolution this session. Mr. Costigan said he had not received formal letters on the subject, but he had been urged by an M. P. in a note sent from the floor of the House.

Hunter, the famous Toronto cartoonist. arrived in the city to-day to make Parli-mentary faces for the News.

Hon. Frank Smith came to the city today to attend a meeting of the Cabinet.
The New Brunswick Governorship is the great trouble. Mr. Smith's Catholic friends think this is their turn to get the job.

Mr. Lariviere, M.P., is now the only surviving member of the Manitoba Governwithing memoer of the was a member eight years ago. Of 40 members of Parliament who first entered Parliament from Ontario in 1878, only two—Dr. Sproule and Clarke Wallace—now remain.

The Citizen (Government organ) hints to-day that the duty on coal oil will come to-day that the duty on coal oil will come down. It alleges that the duties now imposed are exorbitant, and adds: "The oil men say that 2,500 hands are directly or indirectly employed in this industry, and that $22,000,000 of capital are invested in it, but these figures form no justification whatever for protection running from 130 per cent. unwards." per cent. upwards."

Lady Stanley leaves at once for the bed-side of her sick son in London. She sails by the steamer Majestic, from New York, on Wednesday. Hon. George Stanley is now reported to be progressing favorably.

I asked Mr. Laurier to-day what he thought of the proposal to interfere with the coal mines development in Nova Scotia the coal mines development in Nova Scotia as arranged by the Government of that Province. The Liberal leader said that if the Dominion Parliament could interfere with the right of the Legislature to lease their mines then the Provinces might as well be asked to give up control of their local affairs. Nevertheless some attempt might be made to thwart the development under the new barrain. under the new bargain D'Alton McCarthy arrived back to-day. He will have an amendment of his own on the taxation proposal of the Govern-ment.
