HAS INVESTIGATED CITY'S WATER SUPPLY.

Officer of the Geological Survey Department Says That London's Water Is Good.

The water commissioners met at the city hall today to confer with Dr. Robert Chalmers, of the geological survey department, Ottawa regarding the water supply. Dr. Chalmers has been doing field work in Ontario since the early sur her, investigating, particularly all wells—of water, gas, oil and salt. Since Monday he has been in London and has made a careful examination of the water hereabout. London water is very good, he says, and he is of the opinion that the supply can be increased. When he returns to Ottawa he will prepare a report that will embody his suggestions and send it to the commissioners. Though there is no immediate danger of shortage, the future must be safeguarded, and Dr. Chalmers' experienced suggestions will be appreciated by the board.

There Are Thousands of Them Who Believe as This Woman Does.

Mrs. Ira Knowlton, of Butte, Mon-tana, is a most enthusiastic convert to the virtues of Stuart's Dyspensia Tablets as a cure for obstinate stomach trouble. She says: I had poor digestion nearly all my life. It now seems to me that for years I never knew what it was to be hungry, to

"I was troubled with gas in stomach, causing pressure on the heart with palpitation and short breath. Nearly everything I ate soured on my stomach, sometimes I had cramps in my stomach which almost resembled spasms.

"Doctors told me I had catarrh of the stomach, but their medicines would not reach it, and I would still be a sufferer had I not, in sheer desperation, decided to try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"I knew they were an advertised remedy, and I didn't believe anything I read about them, as I had no confidence in advertised remedies; but my sister, living in Pittsburg, wrote me last spring telling me how Stuart's Tablets had cured her little daughter of indigestion and loss of flesh and appetite, and I hesitated no longer. "I bought a 50c box at my drug store and took two of the large tab-lets after each meal, and found them delightful to take, being as pleasant to the taste as caramel candy. When-ever during the day or night I felt any pain or uneasiness in the stomach or about the heart, I took one of the small tablets, and in three weeks it seemed to me as if I never knew what stomach trouble was. "I kept Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in the house, and every member of our family used them occasionally after a hearty meal or when any of us had a pain or ache in the digestive organs."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the safest as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, bloating after meals, sympathetic heart trouble. Figures of Production and Consumption in Canada-Ontario Makes More Whisky Than All the Rest of Canada-Quebec Smokers Head the List.

Ottawa, Nov. 15.-The excise returns for the fiscal year ended June 30 afford an idea as to the nature of Canada's drink bill and the extent to which alcoholic and spirituous liquors are indulged in by the population. The returns denote that beer is the popular beverage among drinkers, the consumption per head amounting to 4.737 gailons, as against .765 gallons of spirits, and I gallon of wine. Last year the consumption per head was: Beer, 4.364 gallons; spirits .701 gallons, and wines, .085 gallons. The consumption per head of tobacco was 2.404 pounds, as against 2.3 pounds for the previous year. Although there is less spirits than beer drunk per head of the population, it yields a far larger revenue. The revenue per head last year from spirits was $1.593, compared with $0.198 for beer, $0.048 for wine and $0.875 for tobacco. Taking the last 33 years, the average per capita consumption of spirits has been.983 gallons; of beer, $0.048 for wine and $0.875 (or tobacco. Letters to the Editor

DR. JENTO DEFENDS DR. BALFOUR. To the Editor of The Advertiser: At the last meeting of the hospital trust quite a lot was said about Dr. Balfour, superintendent of the hospital. It is not my intention to claim Dr. Balfour as one of the few in this world without faults, but what I do claim is that it will be hard for the hospital trust to replace him. He may not be as polite as the average dancing master—he is not there er-he is not there bow and shake hands with people as e "four hundred do"; he is there for the "four hundred do"; he is there for his professional attainments and those of manager.
Dr. Wilson especially calls attention to the nurses attending medical and surgical cases not answering the bell at once; a treated when they have typhoid, why did not the doctor remain there and partake of that treatment?

Dr. Balfour has a lot to do, and I have always found that he did it well; almost every day I found him in the wards asking about the patients. He has always been faithful to the trust in getting the public patients out as soon as possible, thereby lessening the cost of running the institution. It is not Dr. Balfour's duty to look after the linen on the beds, whether the rooms are properly swept and dusted; nor is it his duty to train the nurses in all the branches of their course. Nurses go there to learn the art of nursing, and some of them must be green at their work; although a senior and junior nurse are always together, the senior their work; although a senior and junior nurse are always together, the senior nurse having charge and instructing the junior nurse what to do. I think the junior nurse what to do. I think the nurses at the hospital are an overworked and much abused lot of girls.

From the report of the meeting, it appears Dr. Balfour is blamed for the condition of everything—food, nursing, linen and lack of male attendants. I have always considered the new hospital as an elephant on our hands. It is entirely wrong in its construction, and, considering the amount of money spent on its maintenance, I think it is a very well-run hospital. If the trust can give Dr. Balfour more money to spend, I feel sure he will manage affairs to please the vast majority of people. majority of people. C. P. JENTO, M.D., C.M.

A PERMANENT CURE

This Case Demonstrated That Dodd's Kidney's Pills Cure Absolutely and Permanently.

Quebec, Que., Nov. 11.—(Special.)— Away back in May of 1898, the papers published a statement made by Mr. Sam Desrochers, of this city, stating that he had suffered with Diabetes for five years, and that he had been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills. At that time some people seemed in-clined to believe that he was not permanently cured and that the disease would return when he left off taking

Mr. Desrochers was heard from again the other day in an interview published in one of the papers. He is as well as he ever was, and states positively that he has not had the slightest return of any of the symptoms of Diabetes since he was

Draining the Zuyder Zee

The ministry of the Netherlands has withdrawn from the States General the project for draining the Zuyder Zee, on the ground that the present condition of the Dutch budget renders the undertaking undesirable for the present. The enterprise has been discussed for a very long time and it seemed about to enter into an active stage. A be advantageous to the country thus to add 750 square miles to the agricultural area of Holland. A bill was accordingly introduced into the second chamber of the States General authorpractical politics. Unfortunately it reached this stage about the time that sulted in the resignation of the cabinet The new government declines to assume the responsibility for the large expense involved, and therefore the project is indefinitely shelved.

It was estimated that the entire expense would be 57,000,000 florins. A dike was to be built across the entrance to the Zuyder Zee which would effectually bar out the North Sea. It was not expected to reclaim the whole of the lake for 560 square miles of water surface would still remain. But the Zuyder Zee would cease to be an arm of the North Sea. The water courses now draining into the Zuyder Zee would continue to empty into the remaining part of it; as a canal would be dug for the escape of these waters the remaining lake would gradually be changed from salt to fresh water. It was expected that about a third of a century would be required to carry out the whole improvement, the money for which was to be raised by a loan and paid off, principal and interest, in 60 years or less.

The enormous advantage of the improvement to Holland is admitted by all writers: still, as the financial burden would be large, the present ministry has decided not to saddle the debt upon the country at a time when its political affairs are somewhat unset-tled.

Disfiguring Railways.

Chamonix, the classic gathering place of Alpine climbers, is now, like Zermatt, connected with the rest of Europe by a railroad. The traveler can leave London about 10 in the morning or Paris about 9 in the evening, and reach Chemonix station in the forenoon of the following day. That great numbers will avail themselves of the privilege of so easily reaching the foot of Mont Blanc there can be no doubt. Some trains arrive at Chamonix, and five leave the enormous station which has been built be hind the English church. The carriages are for the most part overcrowded with travelers, and many have to content themselves with standingroom on the end of the cars. It is evident that the energy of the P. L. M. Railway Company will be rewarded, and that a rich harvest will accrue to the innkeepers, guides and muleteers of the village. We may sympathize with the moans of the Alpine

Club, the regrets of sturdy pedestrians, and even the lamentations of the heavy diligence, with the tinkling horse bells and cracking whip. It is impossible to deny that the valley of Chamonix is sadly disfigured by the railroad. The village itself has long since ceased to be more than a collection of huge hotels; and one large ugly building more can pass unnotic ed. But though the valley is spoilt in one respect, can we expect the commune of Chamonix to resist the introduction of a railway? Picturesque valleys and secluded gorges are disfigured one after another, all over the Alps, that the inhabitants may earn an honest living.-London Telegraph.

Ignorance is a Curse.

"Know thyself" is a good admonition, whether referring to one's physical condition or moral habitudes. The man who is acquainted with himself, will know how to act when any disarrangement in his condition manifests itself. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is a cheap and simple remedy for the eradication of pain from the system, and for the cure of all bronchial troubles.

The lord mayor of London's fund for the national memorial to Queen Victhose who enjoyed the long drive up toria amounts to £156,200.
