Dr. H. D. Lamater Says He Believes There Should Be Much Asthma Here.

Dr. H. De Lamater, assistant health commissioner of Kansas City, was the guest of his father-in-law, Mr. Henry Taylor, "Chaworth," on Saturday afternoon, and in an interview with The Advertiser gave expression to many views concerning questions of public health vital to London, as well as all avenue, had passed the council, and had never been rescinded. He main-

"During the last five years there has been a wonderful reawakening among the health forces of the North American continent," said Dr. De Lamater.
"Canada has felt its influence as well as the United States. The reason is that the entire reputable medical profession is behind the movement to prevent disease rather than cure it. By this determination they are actually reducing their practices, but they are doing humanity a great service greater than any other that could be done-and I am proud to say that the medical profession is made up of men who are willing to make any sacrifice that is necessary. In 25 years we will be paying our physicians to keep us well rather than to cure our ills

No Meat Inspection. "I am surprised to learn that London has no regular inspection of the meat it consumes, and I trust that action will be speedily taken to bring about a change. The inspection of the meat supply is quite as vital to community's welfare as the inspection of the milk supply. I would advise that the city should act at once to secure an abattoir. Wherever they have been in operation the butchers have been their best friends."

In expressing an opinion of the city the Kansas official stated that while he admired London for its profusion of trees, and its wide streets, he thought that there were too many "I should think so many trees would keep the sunlight out of your homes," he said. "Wherever dampness is there the disease germs flourish, and I would not be surprised if there was a good I think that everyone should have sleeping porch built on his house. LAURIER'S ONTARIO TOUR WILL START AT CORNWALL TONIGHT

Ottawa, Sept. 30 .- Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Messrs. Fisher, Graham, Murphy and King, leave the capital this afternoon for Cornwall, where the opening meeting of Sir Wilfrid's tour of the older part of the province will be held tonight.

Hon, Sydney Fisher has joined the other ex-ministers for this week's series of meetings, and will speak especially matters of interest to the agriculturists of Canada,

Hon. Geo, P. Graham will have more to say in regard to the really startling disclosures as to the present Government's manipulation of the National Transcontinental Railway and the grade increases and deviations from original plans east of Cochrane now under way. Apparently the Government, to serve temporary political ends and private railway interests, is deliberately departing from the real interests of the country, and is nullifying the original plans to make the National Transcontinental an unrivalled through route for export grain and other commodities between Winnipeg and the seaboard.

It is worthy of note that no official denial has yet been made by the Government to the charges already made by Hon. Messrs. Graham and Murphy. When Parliament meets a thorough investigation of these charges will be insisted upon by the Opposition, and some sensational developments may be
