sonable one-suppression to be cortainly interpole of Jesti Extance Act to be cortainly interpole and periaps unconstitutional should not be deteried from any legitimate opposition to to by the fear of exciting serious discussions in the body politic. Such a position is perfectly consis-tent with that careful counting of the cost which The Globe has recommended. In truth the greatest possible cost must have been taken into consideration by a grave, wise man who says: Let us refrain from nothing that may constitutionally be done to wipe out the obnoxicus measure. At worst the Confed-eration may be destroyed and political union with the States brought about. Would that worst be worse than maintaining a political household in common with a partner very much controlled by the Roman Catholic Church and likely to be more and more con-trolled in future by thas church ? Globe, Feb. 14. If Ontarians wish to perpetuate the Confed-eration they will quietly accept Sir John's al-lowance of the Jesuits Bill. If they can's stomach that allowance they may as well face the truth, like honest men and acknowledge that they freally do not think the Confedera-tion mouth preserving. tion worth preserving. The end can be nothing else than the destruction of the Confederation.

For two more full days The Globe continued to write in the same strain, professing itself perfectly certain that annexation must follow disallowance, and noreover, maintaining that That is, Annexation is a small price to pay about Annexation. Could anything be more absurd on the part of a journal representing itself to be a leader of thought ?

Globe, Feb, 14. Sensible Protestants are commonly patriotic people sincerely desirous to maintain Confed-eration, sincerely anxious to stave off annexa-tion, perfectly well aware that the Federal compact of Canada leaves, and was intended to leave. Quebec free to bestow her money ac-cording to the sole will of her Legislature, and equally well aware that a breakup of the Dominiou would probably result from a per-sistent attempt of the Protestant provinces to force upon Quebec their idea of what is right and what is wrong in the Jesuit Estates mat-ter. No man who is not fully presared to groon even to the smashing of Confederation can logically call for Federal opposition to Quebec's will in the matter. We say that any man who calls for a Pro-pestant aliance on the strength of an assertion that a serious, persistent attempt of the other provinces to force their opnion on Quebec by the Federal veto in this matter could end'ex-cept in complete vistory for Quebec, or in the disruption of Confederation. We say that man is foolish if honest and a most dangerous kuave if Insincere. We Must Demand the Veto. But worse remains. The process of self-stultification was not completed by The Globe men esting up a whole series of articles by way of apology for the insult put upon Principal Caven. Because it is impossible that free men could voluntarily make such donkeys of themselves we say that The Globe writers have been compelled by outside pres-mire to take back everything they had written on the Jesuit subject. On Saturday last The Globe was made to cry aloud for the imme-diate and total disallowance of the Jesuit Act! We append its words : Globe, March 16.

Woman's Protest Against "Father Chiniquy's Teachings.

In Shaftesbury Hall yesterday afternoon "Father" Chiniquy delivered an address on Rome and the Bible. He said Rome and the Bible are the greatest enemies under heaven. In every page of the Bible Rome reads her ndemnation. The Church of Rome deals with the Bible as Judas did with Ohrist. In public she expresses towards it feelings of the greatest respect and adoration, yet in her heart there is a deadly hatred towards God's Holy Word. When men are consecrated to the priesthood they are conjucted to take an oath that they will read and study the Bible. This is where Rome throws dust in the eyes of the whole world. For priests must take a second oath commanding them not to take a single word of the Bible and interpret it ac-cording to their conscience or their judgmeit t except by the unanimous consent of The Holy t Fathers, The Holy Fathers being a work of 300 volumes and disarreing in al-most everything. If this oath be proken by the priests they are condemned to hell. In the Romish circles a law has been pased several times forbidding Catholics to read the Bible under penalty of excommuni-cation, and excommunication means death. with the Bible as Judas did with Christ.
