SIXTEENTH YEAR

WILL REDUCE THE PERMANENT FORCE.

200 Men and Officers to Be Lopped Off.

CRAZY CRIMINALS TO BE GAGED FOR.

Proposal To Assist the Export Fruit Trade.

Mr. Charles Tupper on Practical Methods of Assisting Immigration - How's Separate School Commissioners Regain - Expert Evidence to be Taken on the Cheese Branding Question - The House Pages Keep Sir John A.'s Memory Green - General News from Parliament Hill.

Ottawa, Ont., June 6.—Government business monopolized the attention of the House of Commons all day, but it cannot be said that much progress was made. The Minister of Militia made the important announcement that with the coming fiscal year the permanent force will be reduced from 1000 to 800 men, and that inferentially more attention will be paid to the active militia. With the evening session considerable time was spent in a useless discussion of the Curran bridge affair. Some of the Opposition evinced a disposition to worry Sir Charles H. Tupper, but the Minister would not be worried.

There was only a thin House this afternoon, and proceedings were not of great public interest. The bill to amend the Penitentiary Act was passed through committee after some discussion. The chief provision of the measure is to enable the Federal Government to enter into arrangements with the various provinces for the confinement of criminals. Hitherto the only course has been to pardon them, and prisoners successfully feigning insanity have thus got free before their sentences have expired. Hereafter they will be confined in provincial asylums and sent back to prison on their recovery being certified.

The House went into committee on resolutions providing for the salaries of certain provincial courts. Some opposition was offered to the increase in the salary of Chief Justice Davis of British Columbia, who will receive a total salary of $6000, while his predecessor, Sir Mathew Begbie, received $4600.

Permanent Force To Be Reduced. The House went into Committee of Supply on the estimates. Mr. Mulock asked if the Department had adopted a policy as to the expenditure upon the permanent corps. There was a feeling, he said, throughout the country, that too large a portion of the grant for military purposes was spent on the permanent corps.

THE MACDONALD MEMORIAL.

UNVEILED IN MONTREAL BY LORD ABERDEEN.

Speeches by His Excellency, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Hon. G. E. Foster, Other Cabinet Ministers, Sir Donald Smith and Sir Robert Borden.

Montreal, June 6.—The unveiling of the monument erected in Dominion Square to perpetuate the memory of Sir John Macdonald took place to-day amid the greatest pomp and enthusiasm. There must have been 30,000 people massed around the memorial, and over a thousand ladies and gentlemen occupied seats on the platform in front of the monument of the departed Chief.

The members of the Ottawa Government present were: Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Sir Adolphe Caron, Hon. Messrs. Foster, Costigan, Ives, Oulmet, Curran, besides Lieutenant-Governors Chapeau and Mackintosh, Premier Talbot, Sir Henri G. Gull, Hon. John Macdonald, Sir William Higginson, the Mayor of Montreal and others.

At 2.30 His Excellency arrived, and was received with cheers, the band playing "God Save the Queen." Sir Donald Smith, the Chairman of the Citizens' Committee, made the opening address, in which he eulogized Sir John Macdonald, referred to his great labors for Canada, and paid a high compliment of the people of Montreal, and especially to Mr. Joseph J. Robitaille, the secretary, for the splendid memorial that would be unveiled.

Travelled by Lord Aberdeen. His Excellency called on His Excellency to unveil the statue, which Lord Aberdeen proceeded to do amid the thundering cheers of the thousands within and without the hearing of His Excellency's voice. All remarked the great features of the memorial figure. His Excellency's address did not last more than five minutes to delivery. He said that he did not know that the representative of our beloved sovereign could be employed in a better or more patriotic mission than in unveiling a monument to a man who had done so much for Canada, and the Empire.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell. Sir Mackenzie Bowell followed, and met with a splendid reception, as it were. The Premier's first appearance in Montreal since he became the leader of the Government of Canada. Sir Mackenzie described himself as the last link connecting the present Cabinet with one formed in 1878, when Sir John Macdonald returned to power. Sir Mackenzie referred to Sir John's first battles in Kingston, and his subsequent success as a member of the House, as a leading statesman of the Government of Old Canada, and later as Premier of the Dominion of Canada.

The orator of the day was then introduced in the person of Hon. George E. Foster, and the people of Montreal have perhaps never listened to a more powerful or eloquent address than that delivered to-day by the Canadian Minister of Finance. Hon. Mr. Foster spoke for half an hour, and at every point was cheered to the echo. Montreal that great city, he held, was a most fitting place to build a monument to the old leader who loved the metropolis and her people so well. What was the meaning, asked the Finance Minister, of this great and representative gathering of people here to-day? It was not that they had come to mourn a death, to count our losses, or to weep over an open grave. To-day the Canadian people turn their faces once more towards the sun, and full of life and hope we set to work to count our gains and profit by the great lessons of the life of Sir John Macdonald.

Victim of a Bank Thief. L. B. Colborne came from Port Huron almost a month ago, and went to board at 128 Church-street. Some time between 1 and 4 a.m. yesterday a burglar secured ingress to the house by means of a window, and entering Colborne's rooms carried off his trousseau. These he ransacked of $74 and left them in the hall. He then departed by the front door.

POLICE ON WHEEL AND WATER.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF THE COMMISSIONERS YESTERDAY.

Plain Clothes Men to Watch Bicyclists - A Police Boat to Patrol the Bay - Ten New Men to be Added to the Force - Ald. Graham Succeeds Rev. J. E. Starr as the Citizens' Aid.

The Board of Police Commissioners had a lengthy session yesterday, transacting an unusually large amount of business. A deputation from the northwestern suburbs asked for more efficient police protection, complaining that horses and cattle were allowed to wander at will in the streets, and that petty thievery was on the increase. The commissioners promised to do their best with their limited number of men.

Owing to his acceptance of a pastorate at Kingston, Rev. J. E. Starr, resigned the agency of the Children's Aid Society. Ald. J. Graham will be sworn in as a special constable, at the instance of St. Vincent's Church.

It was decided to put into force the regulations of the City Council relating to bicycles "scourching." Special constables, attired in civilian clothes, and mounted on wheels, will be placed at stated points, with instructions to overhaul all wheelmen whose speed exceeds the limit laid down in the bylaw.

A deputation of East-Enders complained of life being made miserable every evening by the noise of a brass band practising at 621 Gerrard-street east. It was explained to the deputation that the police had no power to prevent the practice of the band, but an effort will be made to have them remove the infliction to some other point.

The strength of the force will be increased by 10 during July. The new men will be selected from the applicants of four years ago, so far as these are eligible. Any further vacancies will be filled from the list of new recruits, which is already largely in excess of prospective vacancies.

The City Council will be asked to amend the bylaw relating to those who are arrested on the first offence of drunkenness, so that subordinate officers may be vested with the power of discharge now confined to inspectors.

A Police Boat For the Bay. As soon as suitable arrangements can be made the Board will purchase a boat with which to detect and capture offenders of the laws relating to bathing and fishing. Under present conditions it is found difficult to lease a boat for such purposes.

Livery Drivers and Bips to be Tamed. The draft of the cab and livery law prepared by the City Solicitor will be taken to a public meeting. By its provisions, liverymen will be required to submit to the police the names of the men employed by them as drivers. All livery bips will be numbered. The Toronto Ferry Company's watchman at Haulan's Point will be sworn in as a special constable for the better protection of the property of the Ferry Company. The City Council will be asked to pass a bylaw which will require the owners of stray cattle a penalty in addition to pound fees.

Several Persons Drowned in Wartburg - A River Overflows Its Banks.

Stuttgart, June 6.—The Black Forest district of Wartburg was deluged by a cloudburst last night, inundating a vast tract of territory. A large number of persons were drowned, and almost incalculable damage done to property. The volume of water falling caused the River Eyach to overflow, and 100 or more houses in Ludau and several in other villages were swept away. One house at Ballingen, with nine occupants, was carried away last night, and earned by the flood. Four houses were destroyed in Frommern, and 15 of the persons who occupied them are missing.

Ten persons are known to have been drowned in Ballingen, seven in Frommern, and several in Ludau and other villages. Besides these, many others are missing.

THE ROAD FURNISHED THE CLUE. And the East Toronto Sleuths Won't Get the Reward. Constable D. Booth addressed the East Toronto School Board at its last meeting regarding the reward of $100, which was claimed as offered by the village for the apprehension of the perpetrators of a school fire last night, and earned by Constable Tidbury and himself, according to the agreement, Constable Booth having obtained the confession of one of the boys concerned, after a searching examination, before the authorities had failed to secure the necessary proof. The board, however, takes the ground that the discovery in question was worked out from a clue brought to light by themselves and previous to the making public of the offer of a reward.

THIS DEATH A RELIEF TO HER.

Charles Field Found Dead in Bed - Had Allowed His Wife to Support Him For Years.

Charles Field, 876 Bathurst-street, was found dead at his home last evening by his wife. Field had been drinking heavily of late and was out of employment. His wife supported both her husband and herself by her own hands. She usually left her home at 8 o'clock in the morning, but yesterday her departure was made half an hour earlier than was her custom, owing to the state of her husband's health.

When she returned at 8 p.m., her husband's body lay on the bed. He had apparently been dead for some time. There were no signs of violence. It is thought death was due to alcoholism. Coroner Johnson was notified and has issued a warrant for an inquest.

But let us have a little more of the smile on any venture of enterprising firm and success is assured. 'Tis so this month with English yachting hats. Ladies and gentlemen are wearing hats of all water fashions, and once having appreciated their neatness, gracefulness and grateful coolness they are introduced at lawn tennis, garden parties and that very comprehensive function termed socials. The latter includes church outings, family parties, birthday and wedding celebrations, to say nothing of the thousand and one forms of semi-religious, joy-making and other picnics. Discern' read the signs of the times in England, and in order that Canadian gentlemen wear them for the large enjoyment of the finest English yachting hats, and what is better news, opened yesterday a large installment of these hats for ladies and gentlemen. Before midsummer day these superior straws will be seen wherever youth and beauty meet, whether on the cooling water or in society's harmless yet entrancing social circles. Known generally as yachting hats they are of varied makes and styles; but there is only one emporium for them, King and Young-ets., though a trinity of prices—$1, $1.50 and $2.
