We are closing with a number of stamp men in cities and towns in this country—Canada—to regularly supply notes and happenings in their vicinity. As yet, no party in any place has been accepted, so any desirous of sending in notes, by enclosing return postage, can obtain terms. We would like reports from local societies.

In the Dominion Philatelic Association, collectors have a society that fills a unique position in being the only one in Canada, and judging from its steady increase in membership, it is finding greater favor. By reading the report in another column it will be seen that Mr. Humphrys is the Exchange Superintendent, and as he is a gentleman of leisure, no better person could have been selected. Because Canadians are a quiet people, and not given to boasting, do not think they have no good duplicates to exchange. Its a sad mistake. If you are a member, write Mr. Humphrys; if you are not, get a blank filled out, and you soon will be, and then some good will be done to all. We particularly welcome our cousins across the line, as Canadians are so good natured, if they can meet with a fair number of Uncle Sam's children, the latter will have no heart to "war" with such nice people.

Our next number will complete Vol. II, and in it we expect to announce a few changes for the future.

Commencing with next issue a trade and exchange column will be opened for the benefit of our readers. Rates one cent per word.

Dealers looking for customers will find that this paper reaches a good class of buyers. It has a large circulation in the States. Its circulation is 2000 copies monthly—the January issue 4000. In order to encourage advertising, the rates in future will be 50c. per inch.

It is reported on good authority that the Canadian Philatelic Association will at once be re-organized on a solid foundation. It being the senior society of Canada, it ought not to be difficult to again establish it on a successful footing. We wish it every prosperity.

Mr. Walter McMahon will represent buyers at Mr. Clark's auction sale to be held early in March. Anyone who desires a reliable party can reach him by addressing 6 Yonge St. Arcade.
