

say," is to be believed we understand that he is equally successful in another important undertaking, having yielded to the conviction that it is not good for man to be alone. We tender our congratulations.

GAVIN HAMILTON after spending a few months in a mission field in New Brunswick, accepted a call to the congregation of Brookfield, N. S. There, as among his fellow students his sterling qualities are appreciated. His success in his new field is very marked, and there is every reason to expect that it will continue.

GEORGE A. LECK is to be found ministering to the spiritual wants of the people of La Have, Lunenburg County. The position he holds in the estimation of his parishioners is best shown by the fact that it is the wonder of the people how they ever got him. He is making use of his talent as an architect as well as his talent as a preacher, having drawn a plan of, and issued tenders for a $4,000 church, thereby saving a considerable sum to the congregation. We are convinced that his young wife is no small means of strength in his work.

A. W. LEWIS, B. A., B. D., is giving the people of Carleton and Chebogue the benefit of his services. This is a mission field which needs working up. With his characteristic energy, Mr. Lewis went to work and the first sign of progress appeared in a few weeks in the shape of two Y. P. C. E. Societies. Doubtless his work will be productive of good results, for whatever Mr. Lewis undertakes he does thoroughly.

J. M. MACLENNAN on graduation paid a visit to P. E. Island. The charms of the garden of the Gulf were irresistible, and receiving and accepting a call from Brookfield, he is now settled over that congregation. Many are the expressions of regret among
