COMMENCEMENT CONCERT AT KING'S COLLEGE UNIVERSITY.

This concert came off with great eclat on Thursday, the 22d with one of Beethoven's exquisite Quintettes, which was uncommonly well played, infinitely better than we could have expected, considering the difficulty of execution and the necessarily short practice; reflecting great credit on the good drilling of Mr. Marks, the celebrated violinist from New York, and who of course took the first violin, and gave it most effectively.—

This was followed by an Aria from "Le Chalet," sung

The Duet by Donizetti was exceedingly well sung by Mddle.

The Glee " Hail beauteous May," the composition of Mr. J.

The commercial news is very important, flour having advan-

The British Go-vernment has protested against the marriage of the Infanta to the Duke of Montpensier, on two grounds—first that it is a breach of the treaty of Utrecht, which forever excludes the Orleans family from the throne of Spain, and secondly, because it is a violation of the understanding come to on the same subject between the Sovereigns of France and England at the Chateau d'Eu, in the presence of their respective Ministers. The Times and Morning Chronicle are quite furious on this subject, and are loud in their denunciations of Louis Philippe's conduct

Throughout the emergency, Captain Hosken behaved with admirable self-possession, energy, and with the greatest kindness; and immediately after the ship struck, went down below, and, by his assurances, quieted the excited apprehensions of the passengers. A portion of the passengers returned to their berths and slept till morning. Of the captain and ship the passengers speak in the highest terms. The ship, previously to her striking, displayed in the gale the most admirable qualities as a sea-boat; and the captain afterwards acted as well as man could act in a situation such as his. The wires should be placed along the mail route, so that when a breakage occurred, it might be discovered easily. The liability to accidents is the strongest objection which we are aware of, to the construction of a line of Telegraph from Halifax. A great portion of the country between Quebec and Halifax, is uninhabited and little travelled; and should any breakage occur, the delay and expense in repairing it, would be a great drawback. Such breakages by the falling of branches of trees, for instance, would no doubt be numerous, and until a Railroad is constructed, a Telegraphic communication with Halifax, through British bags with which he proceeded to Liverpool, via Belfast. It is highly important, in a commercial point of view, that number of the passengers proceeded to Warren Point, others to Downpatrick, with the intention of returning to Liverpool; the Western section of the Province should be connected by Telegraph with Kingston. From the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser. PROGRESS OF ANNEXATION-ELECTION EXTRAORDI NARY.—The Telegraphic report yesterday afternoon, announced that the people of Santa Fe had chosen a new Governour. We did not see clearly how they had done it, considering that of Mr. Marks, the celebrated violinist from New York, and who of course took the first violin, and gave it most effectively.—
This was followed by an Aria from "Le Chalet," sung steadily by Mr. Hecht, but we cannot say we much admired the composition; this gentleman possesses a good voice appertaining in quality to that of a full tenor.

The beautiful Romanza from "Anna Bolena," introduced Mddle. Korsinsky, a young German lady, the Soprano engaged Mddle. Korsinsky, a young German lady, the Soprano engaged in this Lady's voice, as also in Mr. Hecht's, attaching vable in this Lady's voice, as also in Mr. Hecht's, a foregoing remark, which we feel assured the amiable artiste will take in good part.

Mr. Mark's violin solo was beautifully performed; the subject (No. 7 De Beriot) is one of De Beriot's happiest, and the variations unexceptionable for elegance and fancy. Mr. Marks played the slow movement with great expression, and was most deservedly greeted with warm applause during his performance.

"My Father's Old Hall," a pretty ballad, the music composed by himself, introduced Mr. Chapman, (Gentleman of Her Majesty's Chapels Royal). This was most chastely rendered, and produced an unanimous call for its repetition. Mr. C. possesses a legitimate bass voice; his lower tones are particularly fine, and, what is of rare occurrence, possessing softness larly fine, and, what is of rare occurrence, possessing softness and delicacy. terference in said elections, "and to be vigilant in securing the peaceable and undisturbed enjoyment of the good citizens of the Territory in the exercise of their invaluable privileges autho-Korsinsky, and Mr. Hecht, and was honoured with an encore. We do not call upon the Whigs, but we ask the free men of the North, without distinction of political differences, who be-lieve that this government was intended to be a constitutiona representative republic, what they think of a President and National Administration, that thus openly and contemptuous-y trample upon every form of constitutional restraint; plunge he nation into war; with more than kingly indifference to popular rights, order an army officer under penalty of cashiership on the part of the vocalists who sang it, would have enabled pular riguts, order an army omeer under penaity of cashlership, or death for disobedience, to annex an empire in extent, and make its people, at one swoop, citizens of the United States, proclaming them traitors if they do not deport themselves as such, and crown all these acts of judicial, executive, and legisces, our remarks with regard to the Quintette will equally apply, and we only regret that it was curtailed of its "fair proportions." The old favourite Ballad "The Pilot," was beautifully given by Mr. Chapman, and loudly encored.

The Romanza Deh! Non voler, as we have previously remarked was sung with much feeling and expression by Mddle. Korsinsky. We may soon expect to hear of similar proceedings in California, which was taken and annexed by Com. Sloat, in terms almost precisely like those used by Gen. Kearney. That those ther the gentleman is not appreciated by, or not a favourite two officers acted without instructions, in matters of such vast moment, is inconceivable. They are both accomplished, experienced officers, and would sooner have cut off their right hands than usurped such extraordinary powers. The identity of their acts and language show that they are mere executive instru-ments of what had been resolved upon in Washington, and that they had precise, specific authority, for all they have we fear Handel is not yet much understood on this Continent, Shall these things be ? Has our constitution and our well defined representative government, become nothing but a farce?

Has the President—our democratic President, save the mark

What can this difference arise from? All must undoubtedly act under special orders, and these orders from the President must be different in the case of the first from those in the two Talo route being in the microstromagnetic formula and the miles of water communication between Kingston and the latter. We received by the American mail yesterday, the confirmation of the intelligence that Santa Anna has put himself at the head of the war party in Mexico, and that every exertion is eing made to raise forces, the inhabitants every exertion is orward with the greatest alacrity. It is said that Santa Anna will take the command of the army in person, that is to reindiately. It is also reported that five thousand Mexicans are marching to attack Gen. Kearney, and that Parades with fifteen thousand men is destined to attack Gen. Wool. Under these circumstances it is expected that Kearney will endeavour to effect a junction with Wool. A letter dated from Ceralvo, and published in the Commercial Advertiser, but which is too long for us to copy, gives a frightful picture of the enormities perpetrated by the American volunteers in Matamoras. Neither man, woman nor property, volunteers in Matamoras. Neither man, woman nor property, is safe from their violence, and it is impossible to keep them in any discipline. We should conceive that the Mexicans must have horribly degenerated from the character of their Spanish ancestry if they do not find out some way to avenge themselves for these injuries. Had it occurred in Spain, the knife, poison, or the fusee would have used up all these ruffians long ago. With such men as these for enemies it is of no use to attempt to observe the rules of civilized warfare, and the thing is to get rid of them in any way that is most convenient and effec-
