TORNADO AT LOUISVILLE. Loie of Life Greater than Anticipated. SOME OF THE HEARTRENDING SCENES

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 28 -Between eight and nine o'clock last night a torpado struck this city from the southwest, passing northeastward, outy from one southweet, passing normalesoward, leaving death and destruction everywhere. Outside of the clearly defined limit, the citizens knew only of a heavy rain accempanied by a high wind. Soon came the slarm of fire by a high wind. Soon cans the starm of his from a dozen different stations, and the horrors of the calamity began to dawn upon the people. Great stone ware-houses, halls of amusement, railroad stations and dewelling-houses all went resurces stations and dewening-houses all went before the mighty powers of the air. The shorm soon passed on, the clouds scatbered, and the moon cast its light over a sorely stricken city. Relief parties were soon organized, and the whole force of the fire department was at work. At this writing no definite statement can be made of the loss of life, but it is large. It is impossible that so wide a sweep of territory, overed with ruined house, with wrecks of halls and buildings of every character, does not contain many dead. Enough is known to show that Louisville has been visited by

A MOST APPALLING CALAMITY.

A MOST APPALLING CALAMITY. The wrecked portion of the city lies between Eighbeenth, Brodway, Seventh and Main screets, the destroying elements passing diagonally across the section, which is probably a mile square. At the least two hundred houses are in ruice and it is believed several hundred lives were loto. Probably the greatest loss of life occurred at the Fall Oity Hall, which was in the centre of the tornado. In the lower rooms of the hall were from fifty to seventy-five children with their mothers and other was unable to pull the trigger, and he was relatives taking dancing lessons. There were at least 125 persons on the lower floor, and 75 more attending lodge meeting on the upper floor, when the terrible wind swooped down upon the building. The structure is less tĥan that the watchers were frantic, and acreamed and ran about like wild. The terrible suffering which they were unable to alleviate driving them to despair. Several lines were soon throwing water on the flames, but it was more than an hour before the work could be prooseded with, and then it was carried on with much more difficulty than before, on account of the heat.

Up to 12 o'clock only about 35 dead bodies and 25 wounded and dying were taken from the wreck. The corpses were laid in the various houses across the street, and in Dougherty's and Keenan's undertaking establishment on the block below.

At the latter place people paced to and fro. HUNTING FOR FRIENDS AND BELATIONS.

In a short time the body of a man was discovered and he aftewards proved to be Hon. T. Henry. Mason, of Hawes-ville. Only Return to the Tory Ranks.

While they endeavoring to smooth matters. While they deplore the action of Lord Randolph and for a time winked at the condemnatory resolution rassed by his constituents and others, they have become thoroughly awakened to the certainty that if he his dissiplined to the extent of driving him from the party, his following will become much more numerous than it possibly can be if he is permitted to remain; therefore it is unlickely that any further proceedings will be taken against him.

The Labot Problems.

LONDON. Murch 28.-A congress of working men, composed of delegates representing over 100,000 laborers of all industries, is shortly to be convened in London. The main purpose of the congress is to take measures to the end of increasing the representation of the working classes in Parliament, but other questions equally vital will be exhaustively discussed and means devised for the settlement in such a manner as to ameliorate the condition of the laborer, in many respects hitherto regarded as beyond the reach of legislation.

Honors to a Faithful Priest.

PRILADELPHIA, March 25.-Vicar General Nucholas Cantwell, the oldest Roman catholic priest in Philadelphia, was to day elevated to the dignity of a member of the papal household amid the promp and splendor of ritual that the Roman catholic church prescribes for great the Roman catholic church prescribes for greats occasions. The cermonies took place at the old Church of St. Philip de Neri, on Queen street, below Third, of which the new prelate has been pastor for nearly forty-five years. Montignor Cantwell has been intumately as-sociated with the growth of the Roman catholic church in this city, and was esteemed by the late Archbishop Wood, as a man of sagacious counsel, and his advice has been frequently south in the most important undertakings. counsel, and his advice has been inquestry sought in the most important undertakings. His own views respecting questions of method are well formed, and the relization of them in his own parish is manifested by the schools and charities that flourish under his care. He came to this country as a student, and was ordained priest at St. Mary's Church in 1841. He spent the first three years of his mission at Pottsville and Reading, before the days of railorads in those parts.

The Newfoundland Difficulty.

LONDON, March 29.-The Chronicle, referring confesses that is sees no way out of the diffi-culty. It says: "It is easy to talk of buying France but she will not sell, and if she would sell, Newfoundland is unable to pay her price." The Times trusts the colonies will recognize England's difficulty and try by moderation to lessen it, time, it says, is on our side. The French fisheries must tend to decline and the colonists' industries to expand.

The market partakes of a somewhat quieter tone, owing to a cessation of cable orders at former limits, and 10% is probably the highest price that could be obtained for a lot of ficest white, but it should also be stated that the bulk of that class of goods held here could not be bought under 11c. Under priced goods range from 910 to 101c.

Ontario shippers are afraid to hold, and are placing their stocks on the market as they get them in. Receipts from the west are therefore liberal.

from Falls Oity Hall, where there were hund-reds of people at the time of the accident. The most destruction took place in the main part of the city. The west end came in for a big share. The awful tornado did not take a straight course, but jumped up one block and down another and here and there. Port Royal, Henry county, 40 miles from Louisville, is re-ported as being entirely demolished. At Pendleton, 33 miles from L uisville, a $1,000 insurance policy was found hanging on a bush near the railroad track. The policy belonged to a man in Louisville and had been blown all the way from the city. All sorts of clothing, pieces of timber and debras of all sorts were scattered along the line.

The correct list of dead is as follows :---

Even after the force of the wind had been broken it lifted a street car from the track and blew it fifteen feet. Be-tween Tenth and Eleventh streets no one was killed, but a few wounded. The stores and buildings between Eleventh, and Twelfth, opposite the Fall City Hall, are comparatively unhurt. On the south side the damage was greater, but all the force of the cyclone seemed centred on the Falls City Hall. One of the harrowing incidents of the dis-aster was the killing of Rev. S. E. Barnwell, set or fist. John's Episcopal Church, adjoining the double house, was shattered throughout, and nothing but a mass of brick and splintered beams ase left to tell the tale. The rectory was next to this, and here THE BEOICE MET HIS AWFUL DEATH, side by side with his child, Dudley. Cardinal Manning's Views on Ohurch Policy

LONDON, March 25 .- The Pope's letter to Emperor William of Germany in regard to the labor question is about to be published. It is awaited with some curiosity, especially in Eogland, where there is much interest taken in Cardinal Manning's radicel attitude in favor of steps to ameliorate the condition of the working classes. It is well known to be Cardinal Manning's great desire to influ-ence the Church in that direction. He bilieves the time has arrived when the Roman Church chould array itself boldly on the side of the poor and oppressed of all nations, and that this is the only way to restore her ancient prestige. His utterances on this point have of late been so frequent and aggressive that it is thought possible the Pope may have adopted the occasion of his reply to the invitation to sanction the labor conference to take some official netics, either favorable or staerwise, of the great English prelates views.

LONDON, March 26.—Among the impedi-ments with which the Queen started on her continental tour on Monday may be mentioned, three coachmen, nine grooms, eight horses, one donkey, three carriages, seventy-two trunks, three special beds, a special cooking stove, wine, two doctors, one surgeon, one surgeon ac-coucheur for the Princess Beatrice, three ladies in waiting, nins women servants, one lord, two equerries and seven dogs. Her Majesty was in an unusually gracious mood and on the Dover train smiled sweetly on Prince Henry of Batten berg, now completely restored to Royal favor. Indeed, she addressed him twice as "Lieber Heinrich" (Dear Henry), in such a loving tone of voice that the Queen evidently intended that those of her lieges within earshot ahould
