

ARTICLE X

The Government of Bangladesh shall not use or permit to be used any funds provided by the Government of Canada under any subsidiary arrangement or loan agreement for the payment of taxes, import duties, customs tariffs, inspection fees or storage charges or any other levies, duties, fees or charges on funds, equipment, products, materials including spare parts and accessories and any other goods or services imported into Bangladesh for, or related to, the execution of projects established under any subsidiary arrangement or loan agreement.

ARTICLE XI

The Government of Bangladesh shall grant Canadian firms and Canadian personnel and their dependants freedom from currency exchange restrictions in respect of the re-exportation of their funds brought in or received from sources outside Bangladesh. In addition, authority shall be granted for the exportation of funds realized from the sale of goods originally imported by Canadian firms and Canadian personnel where such goods have been disposed of according to Bangladeshi laws and regulations.

ARTICLE XII

The Government of Bangladesh agrees to extend the privileges and exemptions referred to in Article VII, VIII, IX, X, XI and paragraph (13) of Article I of Annex "B" to development assistance projects established by Canadian non-governmental institutions or organizations working in Bangladesh and to their Canadian personnel and their dependants.

A Canadian non-governmental institution or organization means a Canadian non-governmental institution or organization which is funded in whole or in part by the Government of Canada and governed by a contribution agreement between the Canadian non-government institution or organization and the Government of Canada.

Canadian personnel of the Canadian non-governmental institution or organization means Canadians or non-Bangladeshi or other non-permanent residents of Bangladesh working in that country on any development assistance project established under a contribution agreement.

Dependants of Canadian personnel of the Canadian non-governmental institution or organization shall have the same meaning as given in Article IV of this Agreement.

These contribution agreements shall be transmitted to the Government of Bangladesh by the Canadian non-governmental institution or organization upon the request of the institution or organization for the privileges and exemptions set out in Article VII, VIII, IX, X, XI and paragraph (13) of Article I of Annex "B".
