Products/Services

Microbiological test systems for identification and susceptibility testing of pathogenic bacteria • Urine pregnancy test system • Enzyme immunoassay test kits

Current Export Markets

Europe

Company Summary

Totem Diagnostics Inc. was incorporated in 1989, following the sale of the Diagnostics Division of Quadra Logic Technologies Inc. to the Totem Capital Corporation. Totem Diagnostics is actively involved in developing and manufacturing immunological and microbiological test systems. The latter system includes a software package that interfaces with most computer systems. All products are marketed through an exclusive distribution network. Currently in the developmental stages are detection kits for reproductive biology and infectious diseases, and a microbiology reporting/epidemiology software package.

Easy to use and affordable, Totem's urine pregnancy tests produce unequivocal test results in just two minutes.
