

Country	Project Title	Project Description	Applicant/Recipient
Mozambique	Arms for Tools	Arms collection and destruction in exchange for tools and other items for income-generation activities is being promoted through public education on peace and training for volunteers. This is an initiative of the Mozambican Church Council and successfully builds on local capacity to tackle the proliferation of small arms.	CUSO
Rwanda	Conflict Resolution Training	A train-the-trainers project in conflict resolution techniques for Rwandans. It involves training in Rwanda and a fellowship at the Canadian Institute for Conflict Resolution. The participants will disseminate the training upon their return to Rwanda.	Canadian Institute for Conflict Resolution
Somalia	Rebuilding a War-Torn Society	Country study and analysis on the challenges of rebuilding Somalia's war-torn society. The project brings together local research and analytical capacity and builds bridges between communities formerly in conflict. It also builds on local capacity to analyze and find solutions to their own peacebuilding challenges.	UNRISD-War Torn Societies Project
Kwazulu-Natal	Survivors of Violence Programme	Reinforcement of the Network of Independent Monitors and the Kwazulu-Natal Programme for Survivors of Violence to offer crisis intervention facilities and paralegal assistance, training and prevention to sectors of the population affected by the conflict, especially the youth. The program includes mediation activities, training courses and public awareness campaigns.	Oxfam-Canada
Western Africa	Programme for Coordination & Assistance for Security & Development	Establishment of an international advocacy body for a moratorium on small arms. Activities include diplomatic efforts, advice on legislation to ban small arms, conferences, training to increase border controls and databases on small arms.	UN Institute for Disarmament Research UN Development Program Department of Political Affairs
Burundi	Women's Voices for Peace	Meeting in Cape Town in August, 1998 convened by Graça Machel to bring together Burundian women leaders and make their voices heard in the current peace process.	Femmes Africa Solidarity