

Acknowledgments

Special acknowledgments to the members of the Tribunal, Judge Joyce Aluoch, Judge Hélio Bicudo, Judge Emmanuel Cassimatis (President), Judge Adam Lopatka (who was unavailable to attend) and Judge Vicha Mahakun, for their exhaustive work at the First Hearings on the Protection of War-Affected Children as well as for their continued dedication and support of children's rights.

Special thanks to Dr. Judith Ennew, Tribunal Rapporteur, for her commitment and expansive expertise and skills in preparing the Report on the Protection of War-Affected Children: Securing Children's Rights in the Context of Armed Conflict. Dr. Ennew has organised an extensive and complicated amount of information into a readable and comprehensive report. In addition, we thank the Children in Armed Conflict Unit, Children's Legal Centre and the University of Essex for their collaborative support in preparing and implementing the First Hearings. Further, thanks to the witnesses for bringing such valuable testimonies before the Tribunal. This wealth of knowledge and experience provided the means for enriching and enlightening deliberations to take place.

Special acknowledgment to the team of professionals and volunteers of the International Bureau for Children's Rights, and in particular to Pamela Teitelbaum, for their efforts and dedication in planning, coordinating and implementing the First Hearings of the International Tribunal for Children's Rights on the Protection of War-Affected Children.

The results of these Hearings, in the form of conclusions and recommendations, have been achieved with the intention of using them as a primary tool for furthering the international children's rights agenda, advocating and acting against the tragic violations of children's rights during all stages of armed conflict.

The Bureau would like to take this opportunity to express its appreciation of the generous financial support by the Government of Canada through the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade.
