SCOBIE'S CANADIAN ALMANAC.

THE CANADIAN ALMANAC for 1852 is the fifth annual issue of the series—the first having been published in the Fall of 1847, for the year 1848. Of that publication there were 15,000 copies printed, which met with ready sale. The next year the edition was enlarged to 20,000, and each year, in consequence of the growing demand, there had to be a corresponding increase in the quantity, until 1852, when the number has reached the large amount of 40,000 COPIES.

The utmost care is taken in the compilation of the Almanac to give information only which is derived from authentic sources. In collecting the materials for the Almanac of 1852 no less than 1,000 Circulars were sent out, and the information got together by this means is now presented in a connected form for the work, which for quantity and variety and cheapness, is not surpassed by any publication in North America.

As an advertiser's medium, the Canadian Almanac presents advantages not to be elsewhere secured. The wide-spread circulation, which an edition of upwards of 40,000 COPIES insures, is a very great attention of persons in business, of whatever description; and the prices charged for the insertion of advertisements in the Almanac are less in proportion than the rates usually paid to Newspapers with limited circulations. The following are the Almanac rates for Advertising:

 All letters to the publisher must be post-paid. The Almanac for 1853 will be issued on or about 1st Nov., 1852.
