

THE Public are requested, to beware of a Spurious 3d Edition, advertised to be published by JOHN STOCKDALE, Piccadilly, but which is, in fact, only his FIRST EDITION.

It is hoped, that as the original Editor of the Pamphlet devoted the Profits of the Sale to the exclusive benefit of the PHILANTHROPIC SOCIETY, that the Public, nor any of the Booksellers, will give countenance to the sale of such spurious edition; such conduct being very illiberal in itself, and injurious to the Charity.

And it ought to be known, that the Editor had, in the first Instance, actually offered the American copy to Mr. Stockdale, to publish for his own benefit; but apprehensive then of the risk, he rejected it,—now finding it to have such an extensive sale and call, he is, for the sake of a little paltry profit to himself, violating the confidence reposed in him by the Editor, when he agreed to sell it for the benefit of the Society.

N.B. THE EDITOR of Mr. HARPER's Observations, &c. cautions the Public, that whoever purchases Mr. Munroe's History of his Diplomatic Mission to the French Republic, as advertised by Mr. Ridgeway in various shapes, under an idea, as he asserts, that it materially affects the credit of Mr. HARPER's Observations, will find themselves egregiously deceived; for neither in the Title Page, or Body of that Pamphlet, is Mr. HARPER's name to be found, or even alluded to, nor any one of his facts controverted, except in the frenchified Preface of its Editor, who labours hard to lessen its extensive effect on the public mind, and promote his own sale of that minister's curious production, who, preferring the interests of the French Republic to that of his own country, has been justly recalled by the American government, against which he is now acting and writing in professed opposition
