The subject of this sketch was born in London, June 18, 1794. Her parents were persons of eminent piety, held in high esteem by all with whom they were associated. They were members of the Baptist church then meeting in Carter Lane, Southwark, of which the Rev. Dr. Rippon was pastor, and which is now under the charge of the Rev. C. H. Spurgeon. Her father was one of the deacons of the church. He was also for many years London Treasurer of the Baptist Missionary Society.*

Her religious advantages were of no common order, and were no doubt greatly blessed to her. She was led to give herself to God in early life. The following is her own account of her conversion:—

“I can hardly remember the time when I did not feel some interest in serious subjects—a love to God’s people—
