Among the large number of members and ex-members of the Woman's Art Association of Canada who were present yesterday afternoon at the reunion tea and celebration of the 25th anniversary of the society, were many who have attended its functions and taken part in its work thruout the whole period of its existence.

Among the patronesses who received were Lady Gibson, Mrs. Robt. Sullivan, Lady Mortimer Clark, Mrs. Nordhelmer, Mrs. G. A. Arthurs, Mrs. Willison, Lady Mackenzie and others.

Mrs. Austin, the first vice-president of the association, read a letter from Miss Pelly, lady-in-waiting to Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Connaught, honorary president of the association, after which a short musical program was rendered.

The historical sketch of the association written by Miss Florence Deeks, giving interesting defails of the growth since its inception in September, 1887, was read by the first secretary of the association. Mrs. W. D. Gregory, whereupon Mrs. Dignam, the president and founder of the association, spoke feelingly of all that had been done, by the members, much or little, as being fell to Mrs. Richey, Mrs. Hawes engagement of the members, much or little, as being fell to Mrs. Richey, Mrs. Hawes engaged to the section with a little heading left at each edge. and founder of the association, spoke feelingly of all that had been done by the members, much or little, as being equally appreciated, and finding reward in the hope that something had been done for art in Canada. Many had been loyal members for all these years; others woh had been strong and earnest workers had now taken up new fields of endeavor, but were still considered by the association as co-workers and sharers in any success or permanency that the W. A. A. may have attained as a national force, the recognition of which the executive had in view when they invited the ex-members of the reunion yesterday. There also a multitude of others who, the never having been connected with the never having been connected with the association by membership, still had responded to all requests for support, and to those also the association paid tribute of thanks. During the afternoon, a delightful surprise was give nto the popular president. Mrs. Dignam, by the presentation of a purse of gold from the members as a token of appreciation for her inestimable services to the association. Miss -Dennis, the wonderful child and some state of the guests, and tea was served at 5 o'clock from a table decorated with beautiful flowers. Mrs. R. L. To Keep the Face

Fie h, Clear, Youthful

(National Hygienic Review.)

More important than the cosmetic care of the complexion is its physical care. To keep the face clean, fresh, youthful, there's nothing better than common mercolized wax. It absorbs the soiled or faded worn-out skin particles. Using cosmetics simply adde unwholesomeness to the complexion. That's the difference. By all means, acquire the mercolized wax habit. It's so easy to get an ounce of the wax at the druggist's, apply at night like cold cream and wash it off next morning. There's no detention indoors, the old skin coming off so gradually no one suspects you're using anything. When in a week or two the alluringly youthful, rose-like underskin is fully in view—well, you won't want, or need, a make-up complexion after that.

For obstinate wrinkles, a face bath made by dissolving an ounce of saxolite in a half pint witch hazel, surpasses massage cream for results. (National Hygienic Review.)

thru love to give up his will to others; and for the sake of others to learn to submit to unpleasant things. By early and constant endeavor to attain this end the mother prevents all danger of disobedience. It is only after selfishness has crept into the love that a child becomes hard to discipline.

Madam Marenholtz says: "All work, all exercises which awaken the active powers' which form the capacity for rendering loving service to fellow-creatures, will help to lay the groundwork of religion in the child. The awakening of love goes before that of faith; he who does not love cannot believe. Never refuse your child's offer to help. Even if it really hinders you, let the little one be of service. It is love that prompts the action, and love turned away nourishes selfishness; and profered help refused leads to idleness. If you are working at something that you cannot let the child help with, find some other little service that he can perform. It is not difficult to turn a child's natural activity into helpful channels; and the little one can save mother many steps if he is trained to be of service. He can put his toys in place after his games, he can pick up things and lift and carry and straighten Experience has shown that metal embroideries have a fatal effect on bodice linings. However little gold or patinum thread may be used on a gown, the doublure is certain to require renewal before freshness of the work is in the least impaired or the rest of the lining worn out. A careful dressmaker, however, places a firm linen background on work of this description, this being interposed between the metal threads and the rich lining.
