There are of course many details of civic policy over which differences of opinion must arise, but on the fundamental points of preservation intact of communal powers and privileges and the establishment of the right of every municipality to own and operate and, if necessary, reclaim its own public services there should be no room for discord. If the municipalities of Ontario will act together in demanding a general enatling act, giving power to exproprite franchise grants on fair terms and operate utilities for the common good, the legislation required could not be withheld. Nothing short of this will serve the purpose and nothing less than this is sufficient to control franchise-holding corporations and compel efficient service. Power of expropriation was the practically unanimous recommendation of the commission appointed by the National Civic Federation of the United States, a body comprising both supporters and opponents of municipal ownership. Armed with this power, municipalities could protect themselves from inefficient public services and rom the attempts continually being made to procure legislation inimical to the communal interests. The president's suggestion that someone be specially appointed to watch the proceedings during the session of the legislature on behalf of the municipalities was an excellent one and should be acted upon. There is need for a competent representative charged with this duty, but it is of equal importance that the municipalities themselves be ready and instant in vindicating the public interest. The association can focus and voice the general demand and the greater the

Political Intelligence

Things political are very much in a turmoil, or rather, the turmoil is coming good and fast. There is more independence in the air, more dissatisfaction with the easy-going party organizations. The following letter in The Port Hope Guide (Liberal), published on its first page, under a big heading, is quite significant:

To the Editor of The Port Hope Guide:

Dear Sir,—Now that Mr. Borden has formulated his platform for the coming struggle for supremacy in Canada, we may expect the political pot to begin to simmer, and soon, perchance, it may boil during the coming by-elections. It is to be hoped that the opposition will have something more definite and substantial in the forthcoming parliament, probably the last before an appeal will be made to the high court of the people.

The last session was noted for its disagreeable insinuations, innuendoes. It was Foul, Fowler, Foster.

Mr. Borden's platform is full of truisms that have done yeo-man service for centuries. When Sir Wilfrid appeals to the people he will have the honorable leader of the Conservative hosts nearby -in fact he will have an iron collar round Borden's neck, and attached with a silver chain to the Liberal band wagon. Hence, the milk-and-water program, that is hailed with acclaim by The Mail and Empire and the dyed-in-the-wool Tories.

What man is it in Canada to-day that has the eyes of the people upon him, and politicians of every shade that have their ear close to the ground to learn his next move? And it is with shame that I have to confess that it is not any member of the Double of com-the Ontario government, but a private member of the house of com-mons, dubbed by the Crits "Billy Maclean," and sneeringly referred that I have to confess that it is not any member of the Dominion or to by The Mail and Empire and its claquers as "the man with knife." Without any help from members of either political party, he has, by his strenuous fighting qualities, brought that financial giant, the G.T.R., to his knees, and the same Maclean, aided and abetted by his paper, The World, single-handed and alone, challenged the admiration of every fair-minded man in the Dominion, and earned the hatred of the parish politician, whether Grit or Tory; and if the electors of the Dominion are wise, they will see that Maclean has some backers in the next house, with brawn and brain to help him to fight the people's battle. Ten men like the member for South York, catching some of the indomitable spirit and the irrepressible goaheaditiveness of "Bill," could make even Sir Wilfrid stand up and recognize that he is, to use a slang phrase, "up against it," and make Borden, Fowler and Foster eat humble pie.

What good or sufficient reason is there to hinder Durham sending an independent member to represent us? What member of East Durham, since the days of John Shuter Smith, has left a single act upon our statute books, in either the Dominion or the Ontario house? Not one! And now that the political parties in Durham are at sea, is it not time that the independent electors of the grand old riding should rise in their might and select some man, in or out of the riding, that would not eternally be a dummy? It is true that the Liberals have a man "ostensibly" in the field, one who Mrs. Grundy says is merely looking for a judgeship, and could, perchance, have his wishes gratified by being a defeated candidate! The Conservatives have not as yet picked out their man. It is understood that H. A. Ward will not be a candidate, and "Jonah" Thornton, that first-class incapable of West Durham, has been promised the nomination, but without consulting William Henry, the white-headed boy of Clarke. I wonder if it has ever begun to dawn upon the Tory electors of Port Hope and elsewhere the gigantic mistake they made in turning down Avlesworth. Perhaps it has. I remain, Mr. Editor, A Liberal Free Lance.

F Maclean wants 2 cents a mile, Mr. ernment are getting ready a bill in out his knowledge or sanction. Personally he has escaped blame for the interest of policyholders. These big interests will, therefore, be more or less active in the next election. If they are it will be to look out for No. 1; it follows that the people can Ottawa he would have charge of the great spending department in which his predecessors were Messrs. Hyman and Sutherland. Will the new minisonly get a square deal by insisting on every candidate for parliament stating on the stump, still better, expressly in writing, where he is on each of these questions. The issue is sors for example or warning? Both were able men and dexterous of poso clear that if a man straddles, or "doesn't quite know," or tries to get litical fence. We hope Mr. Graham may be able to administer his departoff with the declaration that "I am with my leader or my party," you can put him down at once as a corporation man and as one who expects to be helped in his election expenses cut of some convenient "barrel." It will be the corporations that will provide the "barrel," Mr. Bourassa said some months ago, and it has never been contradicted, that over 90 per cent. of the members of parliament, "helped" by some "angel" other in this way.

The Globe, for its leading editorial extracts a text from Mr. Borden's Halifax speech, which calls for "men pledged * * * to uphold honest government and no other and to enforce decency in public life," and declares spite the fact that it is throttled at Montreal. Extended to the west and properly handled, it would serve the Canadian people as several kinds of that "we must judge by a man's present actions as to what he is likely to do in the future."

"Judged already" is the caption of the article. Mr. Borden, The Globe says, "must be well aware that Mr. Foster is a shadow on his enterprise; if he has not the courage to suppress him now we must believe that if he had the opportunity of forming a cabsystem as a national asset.
