The representative of the private idea is the Scott syndicate. It wants the city to lease 20 acres of land for the business at $60 a year, and re-lease them to the company at a yearly rental of $1.

According to the scheme the city is to drain the property, supply it with water free for five years, and exempt it from taxes. DOWN-HILL."

People wonder why their teeth seem to go all at once. It is because they let them get a good start on a down-hill course. If you have been blessed with good teeth all your life, you are the more likely to be careless of the blessing, and to trust them to take care of themselves. When they start "down hill" you may be the last to take warning and consequently the first to lose them.

The condition of your teeth is worth knowing. We will gladly examine them and advise you—quite free of charge -any day.

Promotor Scott, on being asked where the city was going to get anything out of the deal, replied, in the development of the cattle business in Hamilton and the advertisement of the city. The company, he says, will also put up all the buildings, scales, etc., and then if the venture turns out well the syndicate will purchase the 20 acres and repay to the city all it has paid out in the way of rental.

An Actor's Lecture.

Actor William Owen of the Owen Company, ow playing at the Grand. lectured before the Women's Musical Club this morning on "The Women of Shakespeare." The audience got a delightful insight into the beautiful creations / of Desdemon, Juliet, Ophelia and Portia and an unanswerable defence of the elevating influence of the theatre. Rev. Dr. Lyle, the learned theologian, who is pastor of Central Presbyterian Church, moved a vote of thanks. He went on to say that the church was the mother of the theatre and that the drama was the highest expression of idealized

To see progress and quick development of new towns, one requires to take a trip through the district of East Kootenay (British Columbia). A gentleman who has just returned from this section via Crow's Nest Pass Railway, called in our office and informed us that it is surprising how this part of the country is coming to the front. He said he would strongly advise parties going West to have a look at this section before locating ebsewhere. There would, in his opinion, be a vast immigration to British Columbia this season, and East Kootenay had not hitherto been sufficiently recognized, but now that the Crow's Nest Pass Railway will be finished in a short time, this section would prove to be more desirable, both for agricultural and mining interests, than those localities which in the clear of the towns he said that when passing through the Wardner townsite nine of limited capital.

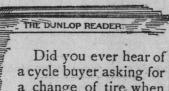

In mentioning the wonderful progress of some of the towns he said that when passing through the Wardner townsite nine months ago there was not a house to be seen, but to-day Wardner is a live, bustling place, with numerous dwellings, stores, hotels, mills, school house, and with business locks being erected, and industries in course of -establishment.

This town, he informs us, will be the chief one on the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, will will be the chief one on the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, will will be the chief one on the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, will be the chief one on the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, will be the chief one on the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, will be the chief one on the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, will be the chief one on the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, will be the chief one on the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, will be the chief one on the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, will be the chief one on the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, owing to its position, as it is at this point where the railway crosses the Kootenay River, and catches all the river trade, both and own the proposition of the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, owing to its position, as Yukon Territory.
