TWENTY-THIRD YEAR

THE GREAT
DEBATE OF PARLIAMENT
MR. CLARKE ON THE BUDGET

Over a hundred guests for the most part members of the Toronto Liberal-Conservative Association and the Executive of the Third Ward L. C. A. were the guests of Dr. Beattie Nesbitt at dinner in Webb's last night, and a happier affair or a more enthusiastic company it would be hard to imagine. The host himself was the very personification of hospitality and good-fellowship and positively every minute of the evening was full of enjoyment. The menu was excellent, the speeches short, snappy and decidedly interesting, and they were all of them full of encouragement and hope for the success of the party at the forthcoming elections.

Frank Somers, for a generation or thereabouts an active Conservative worker in St. John's Ward, was the first to respond in the toast of "The Boys," after that the King had been honored, and Mr. Alexander Patterson, another old war horse, responded. He said that in a few days' time the conventions for nominating the candidates in the four Toronto wards would be held, and he advised them to choose as their representatives men in whom they had every confidence, and who would stand by the party. As for North Toronto, he for his part thought that Dr. Nesbitt filled the bill to a nicety, and the riding could not do better than offer him the nomination. It did not matter, Mr. Patterson thought, who was chosen, for they would certainly elect him. There was one thing, however, that he wished to say, and that was that they did not want Mr. Master as a Conservative candidate, and wanted a man who would remain loyal to his party and not go back on it as he had done.

Thomas R. Whitesides, John Wilson, W. J. Hambly and John Laxon spoke briefly to the same toast, and all four of them were confident that they had won Mr. Whitney would be returned to power.

Getting Ready for the Fray.
The company was further enthused by speeches from A. Wigmore, J. F. McElroy, J. Castell Hopkins, J. J. Deane, D. E. L. Warren, W. J. Wilson, George Mitchell and S. W. Burns. Mr. Burns explained that Mr. Whitney had sent out a call warning all Conservatives to get in readiness for the elections, and in obedience to that call he, as president, had called the Central Executive for Monday night, so as to fix the dates for the nominating conventions in Toronto.

Dr. Beattie Nesbitt hoping he would be pardoned for saying a few words in common sense, and that his name had been mentioned as a candidate, and he wished it to be understood that he would not accept the nomination. He was a Conservative, and, as such, was always ready to do his duty by the party. He had never given anything but a Conservative vote in his life, and did not propose to change. Their duty as Conservatives was to keep the work going here, and keep the city Tory, no matter what happened. Never at any time when he was president of the Third Ward Association had they failed to assist him, and he was always willing to stand aside.

Plumbers Have a Three-Year Agreement, But Are Sorry They Made It.
The Plumbers, Steam and Gas Fitters' Union were in session for nearly four hours last night discussing wage matters. They have an agreement with the bosses, which is binding for three years. The agreement provides for a minimum rate of wages of 37 1/2 cents an hour. As the many other union tradesmen are out for more wages this year, the plumbers have expressed a desire to ask for an increase of 10 cents an hour. They have suggested that the agreement be made for a minimum rate of wages of 47 1/2 cents an hour. A committee will confer with the bosses on the matter. The local branch of the International Blacksmiths' Union met in Richmond last night and elected the following officers: President, D. Slattery; Vice-President, H. Lee; Recording Secretary, James McEwen; Treasurer, J. B. Ryan; Secretary, J. B. Ryan; Organizing Secretary, J. B. Ryan; and J. B. Ryan.
