A. Kelly Evans Says International Difficulties May Follow This Western Transition.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 23.—(Special.)—The Conservative meeting to-night was a great success, the opera house being crowded, fully 200 standing thruout.

A. Kelly Evans of Toronto was the principal speaker, and in the course of an hour and a half address he aroused great enthusiasm.

In his opening remarks he expressed the hope that many Liberals were present, as it was to them especially he would speak. He gave great praise to the rank and file of the Liberal party. The faults attached to the administration at Ottawa could not up to date be saddled on the individual voter.

He submitted the undented promises of the leaders of the government before taking office, and compared them with the performance of the government afterwards. This condition of national affairs only emphasized an utterance of Hon. George Brown that when the professions and sacred promises of men on the platform and in the hustings of the country and upon which they were chosen as candidates and elected by the suffrages of the people were not faithfully implemented in parliament, "responsible government becomes a farce."

He then made a personal explanation of the reasons which had forced him to take the stump against the Liberal party. Four years ago he had been instrumental in starting the Ontario Forest, Fish and Game Protective Association with the avowed object, among other things, of endeavoring to improve or save certain of our great natural resources. Gradually, by some four years' hard work, he had succeeded in arousing public opinion to the question of the fisheries of the Great Lakes. The speaker became terribly earnest when he said:

"For four years I have striven at some expense to myself in working out a counting cost of time, by giving addresses thruout the province, by writing articles for the papers, by helping to spread the organization which I may say I represent, to so arouse public attention that by the time railroads reach the great virgin waters of the northlands, the fisheries they contain will not be allowed by the public to be dissipated and ruined as have the fisheries of the Great Lakes, and I had concluded that, judging from the way public opinion was waking to these matters, both in Canada and the States, Hudson Bay and the waters of the immense rivers to the north of us would be when reached by railroads, conserved and regulated wisely for the benefit of the masses of the people."

He must remind you that among the members of the organization I have referred to there are as many Liberals as Conservatives, and in deference to the Liberal section I should not have taken a partisan stand in this campaign had I not wakened up one morning to find that long before the railroads had reached the northland, that, in what I might term a secret and

WARM TIME IN NORTH AND CENTRE YORK

Rival Candidates Hold Many Meetings—North Toronto Man is Generous—News Notes.

WEST TORONTO, Oct. 23.—The cases against the local hotelkeepers were further dealt with in police court to-day, and kept Magistrate Ellis busy from 10 a.m. till 2.30 this afternoon.

Joseph Lenar of the Avenue Hotel, Dundas-street, was fined $25 and costs. The defence of his counsel, Mr. Haverson, was that there was not enough liquor found on the premises to indicate that the local option by-law had been infringed.

Harry Vanzyle, proprietor of the Alhambra, restaurant on Dundas-street, was also dealt with, but Magistrate Ellis reserved decision in the case till Tuesday.

The case against Alexander Neilson of the Subway Hotel will be disposed of on Tuesday.

Fred McEwen of West Toronto used to have a millinery business, and a man to whom he owed some money, a lien note on one of his wagons. Without settling up this account, McEwen had his business to Robert Riley of Toronto, and Riley had the wagon taken from him without knowing why. He soon found out, however, and forthwith charged McEwen with false pretences. The case was heard in police court this morning and an adjournment was made till Tuesday.

Mrs. McTaggart of Gilmore-avenue claims that when she or one or two other ladies were out walking at the Humber, she was ordered to get off the grounds and struck by the proprietor. Police Magistrate Ellis adjourned the case till Thursday.

"I have never said, and I do not say now, that the Swifts have purchased the Union Stockyards," says J. D. Allan, former president of the company. "I'm not saying who is the purchaser is. Andrew Dods, the secretary, says: 'It is not the Swifts who are buying the market. We have dealt with brokers engaged by the Swifts, and the actual purchasers, they are English people.'"

NORTH YORK LOOKS GOOD.

Conservative Hopes Run High in This Election.

NEWMARKET, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—The meeting held here last night in the interest of Reeve Armstrong of King Township, the Conservative candidate in North York, was a splendid success, and the rank and file of the party are greatly encouraged and enthused by the prospect generally. Wardens Wm. Keth and J. D. McKay of this town and Mr. J. O'Connor and A. W. Wright of Toronto were all received with every manifestation of delight.

Everywhere the Conservatives are united, while added to this is the fact that day by day accessions are being made to the ranks by Liberals who express a desire for a local representative.
