QUIET WEEK-END IN THE CAPITAL

Ottawa, Jan. 18.—(By Canadian Press).—With the acting prime minister and several other members of the cabinet out of the city, this has been a quiet week-end in the capital. A meeting of the cabinet council was held this afternoon with about half a dozen members in attendance, but it was stated afterwards that only some routine business had been cleared up by other ministers expected to be going out of town before tomorrow afternoon, and wanted to clear things up before they went. Sir George Foster has been in New York for several days. Sir Henry Drayton and Hon. C. J. Doherty are in Montreal over the week-end, and Hon. N. W. Rowell has just returned from his trip to Port Hope on Friday night. Both Hon. J. D. Reid and Hon. C. C. Ballantyne went home for the week-end, so it was a quiet Saturday and Sunday on Parliament Hill.

NORTH BAY RALLY WILL HEAR DRURY

Delegates to Attend From All Districts—Meeting Opens Tomorrow.

North Bay, Ont., Jan. 17.—The members of the board of trade are busy these days preparing for the big get-together campaign of Jan. 20 and 21. A meeting held last evening to perfect the arrangements showed that outside places were deeply interested. Their biggest expectations re delegates are to be more than realized. Word has been received as far west as Fort Frances from delegates who are coming, and between one hundred and fifty and two hundred are coming. Each delegate will on arrival receive a booklet giving him free access to the places of entertainment and a smoker.

Important Resolutions.

Wednesday will be devoted to the discussion of the numerous resolutions that have been sent in. These cover subjects of great importance to the northern Ontario people. Among them are those in Hydro development, good roads, reforestation, fish hatcheries, development of the French river to make it navigable to Georgian Bay, as well as the development of immense water powers. New methods of taxation by local option, that the T. & N. O. should pay municipal taxes, the colonization of some of these sparsely settled townships and roads to make it possible for settlers to reach central points. There are many others that will be formulated on Wednesday. The convention will on its assembling elect a president and other officers. It is hoped that the organization will be made a permanent one, its object being the opening up and development of new Ontario with its immense resources which are of such vital importance to the whole province.

Drury Arrives Thursday.

Premier Drury and his cabinet will arrive on Thursday morning and during the day these subjects will be brought before him and every effort possible will be made to show the immediate necessity of the work suggested. In these days of reconstruction everything suggested in the resolutions is necessary for the work of greater production in the province. On Thursday evening a mass meeting will be held in the Royal Theatre, at which Mr. Drury will be present to speak on these various subjects. The citizens are intensely interested and hope that some real good to the north country will result from this convention.

CONSISTENT POLICY NEED OF EMPIRE

Cannot Leave Foreign Questions Solely in Hands of Britain, Says Cecil.

London, Jan. 18.—Lord Robert Cecil, one of the foremost advocates of the league of nations, made an effective use in his speech at Newcastle of the empire's need of an organized and consistent foreign policy. It would be foolish, he declared, to rely on the fact that the present empire organization is so imperfect as not to be free from danger. We could not continue to drift in the hands of the mother country, the any blunder in it might affect the prosperity and peace of the empire. Conversely it was indefensible that some Chauvinistic outburst or administrative folly committed by the government of a distant dominion without any consultation with the imperial authorities might plunge the empire into foreign complications. These were difficulties and dangers that had been foreseen by Lord Grey for which he urged closer union as the only possible remedy. It was but an extension of his own ideas to the international sphere that had produced the league of nations.

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

"Tick-Tack-Too" at Royal Alexandra.

What promise to be of the best musical entertainments of the present theatrical season will be the Royal Alexandra Theatre, when Herman Timberg will present his musical outburst in two acts and sixteen scenes, "Tick-Tack-Too."

This is absolutely the latest musical offering of the theatre, and no expense has been spared to make it the best. Mr. Timberg has surrounded himself with the best talent available, each and every member being a headline artist in his or her particular branch of the theatre. Prominently may be mentioned Flo Lewis, Jay Edward, Hattie Darling (who appears in "The Sweetheart Shop" and "The Naughty Wife"), George Mayo, Adelaide Whitrop, Florence Ames, Pearl Eaton, William Bone, Dora Hutton, C. Leland Marsh and many others, including a chorus of young girls, who, for around good looks and ability to sing and dance, will be very hard to beat. This chorus is so nearly perfect that it has been christened "The Tick-Tack-Too" Chorus. There will be the usual matinee on Wednesday and Saturday.

"Monte Cristo, Jr.," which comes to the Royal Alexandra Theatre all next week, commencing Monday evening, is another one of those famous New York Winter Garden spectacles produced under the expert direction of Mr. J. J. Shubert. It comes from these centres of population, and is on its way to Chicago, where it will create another long run. It can, therefore, be confidently expected that the theatres of Toronto will have this huge show in all its original splendour. The story starts with its famous Winter Garden extravaganza, numbering nearly seventy-five. Seats for all performances will be placed on sale next Thursday morning at the theatre box office.

"The Naughty Wife," which has been a genuine treat in store for them in "The Naughty Wife," at the Grand all this week, it will be seen as an excellent cast of well-known players, among whom may be mentioned Reginald Green, Gordon Elford, C. Edward Harlow, Edward Jay and Irma Heath. "The Naughty Wife" is a story of a young couple fall when the wife, believing herself to have been neglected by her husband, who is a successful business man, and the husband falls to realize the situation until his wife, who is a very clever woman, runs off with the other man. The man in which he meets what promises to prove a tragedy, and the clever scheming of the husband and a worldly-wise widow, provide one long continuous laugh.

The Winnipeg Kiddies, an organization of Canadian child entertainers, have been the recorded stars of the Grand Opera House next week, and theatregoers are promised one of the classiest and best of the season. It is impossible to describe the work of these kiddies. Critics have devoted many columns to an effort to tell readers how wonderful this show is, but they invariably conclude by declaring their pens unable to adequately describe it.

At the Star.
The Broadway Belles, which will appear at the Star this week is under the personal management of Jack Levitt, who has the honor of being the oldest producer of burlesque in the United States. Mr. Levitt owes his success to his ability to keep faith with his performers as well as with the public, therefore, he has been able to secure a large and loyal following. He has secured the services of a popular Broadway producer and his cast of assistants between the two public can rely on getting the very best, as they are both producers and performers. This type of entertainment will surely derive the benefit of their experience.

Mollie Williams' Greatest Show.
Those who go to the Gayety Theatre this week to see Mollie Williams' Greatest Show will see something out of the ordinary in the dramatic playlet, "The Unknown Law," which will be presented by Miss Williams, supported by Frank Manning. In this act Mr. Manning does a sensational death fall which is so realistic that many persons are completely carried away by the effect of it. Mr. Manning has many other tricks up his sleeve, and it is the only man on the stage who is capable of such thrilling character. Miss Williams has the opportunity for some dramatic acting and shows herself in every way capable of a role which demands highly emotional qualities.

At Loew's Theatre.
"The Third Kiss," starring dainty Vivian Martin, at Loew's Theatre and Winter Garden, this week deals with the adventures of a disguised heiress and is one of the most dramatic vehicles in which Miss Martin has yet appeared. Another big film feature is "Fatty" Arbuckle in his latest release, "The Hayseed," described as a comic twin, gale and cyclone of merriment. Variety dominates the vaudeville. Charles Ahern, the noted tramp comedian, and his sextet of assistants, in a hilarious vehicle called "At the High Life Cabaret," introducing a little bit of everything in the theatre, with an added attraction, Hal Johnson & Co. in a farce comedy playlet, "The Recruiter," Chic and Tiny Harvey, in a revue of melodies and dances; Martin and Elliott, in a burlesque of the "Frying Weavers," darline travesty performers; Loew's Timely Tople Pictures, and the "Mutt and Jeff" animal and cartoon, are other attractions booked.

Shilsky at Massey Hall.
Toronto is to have the pleasure of hearing two very fine artists in Massey Hall on Tuesday, Jan. 19, with the appearance of Josef Shilsky, tenor, and Max Gagna, cellist. The seat sale will open at Massey Hall on Friday next. In commenting upon Mr. Shilsky's former appearance in this city, the Toronto press said: "His voice proved an agreeable surprise for those who had not recently heard him. He has a wide register and a soft resonance, reminiscent of Caruso in his middle and lower notes, with no lack of virility in the upper notes." It is doubly interesting to have also such a musician as Mr. Gagna, a cellist of world-wide distinction.

NEW NORTH PROVINCE IS MUCH TALKED OF

the east the people become. The other day a visitor, during a discussion about the kind of folk we are said:

"Yes, I found that out about ten years ago, when I went to the Soo for a political meeting. On the street the mayor, who I had been told, would take the chair in the evening, met me. I said something to him about seeing him later."

"Yes, the mayor said, heartily, I expect to be there, with my hair greased and my ears tied back."

"You couldn't produce so candid and original a chief magistrate as that, on the Lake Ontario or Lake Erie watersheds. In Old Ontario you are so darned proper that all you can do is to regard the north as your backyard—a backwash, a backwash, a backwash, all the same. But what is an incident, a possession to the south, is our very existence. We come to love the north, and as it produces distinct characteristics in its men, it must have its chance of making a unique record among the provinces."

"Ontario is too big anyway, to be run by one local government. What local community of interest is there between Glenora and Kenora? There are five hundred miles between where the C. P. R. enters Ontario and where the C. P. R. leaves Ontario. Travel along the Ontario boundary and you march with the states of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. There is as much difference between eastern and northwestern Ontario as there is between New York and Minnesota."

"Southern Ontario, generally speaking, has no forests or mines. Creative work in agricultural settlement is out of date. Your pioneers are nearly all defunct. Ours are only just beginning to come in. We have of our own just what you choose to let us have. Everywhere else in Canada the communities of small population are strongly represented in parliament. We, the most sparse of all the populations in eastern Canada, are the most weakly represented. In proportion to the rest of Ontario we ought to have eight members of the house of commons. We have six. Our under-share is equivalent to Ontario as a whole having 60 members instead of the 52 she now has. If we were represented as many of our Ontario counties are we should have twelve members. You will find that in 1911, for instance, when we had four members, Brockville, Cornwall, Dundas, East Elgin, Grenville, East Grey, the Hurons and Ontario county had twelve M.P.'s. Their population then exceeded ours by about ten thousand."

"The situation is better with regard to the legislature, for we have eleven members. But what are they among so many? Eleven in a hundred and eleven! The real development is here. Our area is 112 million acres against Old Ontario's 44 millions. We have very much heavier population than Prince Edward Island, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia had when they became provinces. Our rugged and treeless prairies give us a distinctive character, and we should run on our own."

Brantford.—(Special).—To boost the American relief fund here which on Saturday reached $1500 the local committee of women will conduct a drive on Tuesday.

name, with Miss Bergere writing the scenario. There will be a very amusing "Fatty" Arbuckle comedy entitled "The Hayseed."

On Thursday next seats will be placed on sale at Massey Hall for the famous lecture, "Old Bill and Me," to be given by the renowned cartoonist, Capt. Bryce Balmfater. The indications are that this event will prove one of the most popular of the season, and it is expected that there will be an exceedingly heavy attendance. This is no doubt due to the fact that Captain Balmfater is one of the best-known men in the world today, coupled with the fact that in the most critical period of the world's history this man succeeded in making people laugh. It is stated that if he could do that in times of war, how much more humor will he originate in times of peace. The originator of "The Better Ole" will tell a story that will add interest to his well-known character, "Old Bill."

Under the distinguished patronage of the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire.

Elsie Ferguson at Regent.

In its review of an earlier picture in which Elsie Ferguson starred, a leading New York newspaper concluded with these words: "We hope Miss Ferguson will get right on the screen, and that she will be a director." But the star didn't need this tip to apprise her of Mr. Loew's capabilities. He has done an excellent piece of work in Miss Ferguson's new picture, "Counterfeit," which is holding the screen at the Regent this week.

Mr. Fitzmaurice started his motion picture career as a scenarist. At this time he met Ouida Bergere, now his wife, and the two collaborated on several productions. So rapid has been his advance in the direction of the field that Mr. Fitzmaurice is now to make special pictures under his own
