ANNUAL BANQUET OF CENTENARY BROTHERHOOD

The annual banquet for Centenary Brotherhood was held last evening. About seventy men and music was rendered by an orchestra led by Morton L. Harrison. Addresses were delivered by Mr. Barbour, pastor of the church; Mr. Justice McKewen, Rev. F. S. Porter, Rev. Gilbert Earle, A. M. Belding, W. B. Tennant, Senator Daniel, R. G. Murray, and W. E. Earle. During the evening Dr. Leonard sang Mrs. Flagler's song to the air of Tipperary, with a chorus of the St. John the Baptist Church, subject, "Magna Charta." The orchestra played the air of J. S. Knowles' song "The Soldiers March to Berlin." Rev. Mr. Porter made the invocation. The idea was to raise a fund to become responsible for collecting or providing a certain sum, and it was hoped to raise at least a thousand dollars. W. E. Earle offered to raise fifty dollars, and several others agreed to be responsible for smaller sums. The Brotherhood will formally deal with the matter tomorrow.

LOCAL WAR NOTES

Another field battery is to be mobilized in Fredericton.
J. B. Rainford, of the first contingent, has been invalided home to Fredericton.

A well-dressed man evidently from the country, the man 60 and the woman 40, appeared before Municipal Judge Hart at Battle Creek, Mich., and asked if he would marry them for $1.2 bushels of cake, as they had more "spuds" than cash. When the court refused they went away, the woman in tears. They also tried to obtain a marriage license from City Clerk Thorne on the same basis.

ON MAIDEN VOYAGE

MISSANABIE, FINE C.P.R. STEAMER, HERE

The Missanabie, the fine new passenger steamer of the C. P. R. line, docked this morning at No. 2 and 3 berths after her maiden voyage across the Atlantic. Captain G. C. Evans is in command with H. L. Waite as chief officer and W. H. Haywood as chief purser.

Head winds and heavy seas made the trip longer than was expected. With only a thousand tons of cargo the steamer was light and could not stand up against the elements as she would with a better load.

Apart from the weather conditions the voyage was uneventful. A watch was kept for cruisers, although there was little fear of alien vessels, but no warships of any nationality were sighted. The passengers were kept informed of the progress of the war by wireless, the Thursday morning bulletin containing the news of the naval battle, the Kaiser's illness and a general summary of the land fighting.

The passengers numbered 301, including 125 cabin and 176 third class. In addition to the passengers and cargo the steamer brought seven carloads of mail matter.

The following are the principal particulars of the Missanabie: Length, 520 ft.; breadth, 64 ft.; depth, 41 ft.; gross tonnage, 13,000 tons; displacement, 18,300 tons; cargo capacity, 400,000 cubic feet. Below the level of the main deck the space is devoted to general cargo, three of the lower 'twain decks are fitted for the carriage of refrigerated merchandise. From the main deck upwards through no fewer than six separate decks, the entire space is devoted to passengers. Cabin passengers (berthed in large, airy rooms), 520; third class (all in large rooms), 1,200; crew, 300; grand total, 2,020.

The famous cruiser stern which is also the feature of the new boats placed on the Pacific is introduced on the Missanabie. The new ship has six complete steel decks. In order to ensure safety the hull is sub-divided by watertight doors and bulk-heads, so as to be capable of floating when three compartments are open to the sea. These water-tight bulkheads and doors are automatically controlled from the bridge. The speed of the vessel in 16-1/2 knots with a draught of 27.5. As for the interior, each cabin state room is fitted with a wardrobe and chest of drawers, folding lavatory with mirror, and all conveniences. The public rooms include dining saloon, smoking room, lounge and drawing room. The domestic refrigerator plant is capable of making 300 l of ice per eight hours. The vessel heated and ventilated on the therm tank and Critch system, changing eight times each hour. There is also printing plant on board each vessel. The wireless plant to have Babcock-Wilcox patent davis, which enable boats to be launched from other's of the ship even when at a consider distance.

Wanamakers Turkey supper tonight with cabaret from 5 to 7.

GOOD WORK OF TRAVELERS' A

(Continued from page 1.) to my home for the night and next sent her to the West Side. A good young girl, travelling from Halifax Montreal, upon landing here was told by the brakeman that she had an hour to wait. After getting her lunch she placed her trunk on the train. She placed her trunk on the train and in going for her for the night, and next placed her on the Montreal train. She helped her locate her trunk. One of a squaw travelling with her baby daughter of fourteen weeks, which enable her to stay in the depot all day. Food and lodging were provided for them and a morning they left on the early train. From the few cases which I have related there is no doubt but that work undertaken by the Travellers' will be felt by all to be a most necessary one, and will be much appreciated by many persons passing through city, who in any way need help in way of funds, or who are desirous locating lodging or finding friends. Several letters and cards of thanks I have received.

Respectfully submitted, FLORENCE A. HO
