hich the bowels are

time stimulating the arial Affections, Old the Skin, Sore Eyes in all other constitu-ER'S VINEGAR BITTERS d intractable eases. ory and Chronie, Bilious, Remittens vers, Diseases of the s, and Bladder, these l. Such Diseases are Such Diseasos are tases. - Persons ond Minerals, such as as, Gold-beaters, and ce in life, are subject Boweis. To guard

Spots, Pimples, Puses, Ringworms, Scales, Ringworms, Scales, Bringworms, Scales, Skin, Humors and of whatever name or ag up and carried out other Worms, lurko many thousands, are nd removed. No sys-ermifuges, no anthel-system from worms at the dawn of wom-life, these Tonic Bit-ed an influence that cases of jaundice, rest

350 ASS VINEGAR BITinted Blood when titles bursting through Eruptions, or Sores; ind it obstructed and cleanse it when it is I tell you when. Keep e health of the system

The St. Andrews Standard.

PUBLISHED BY A. W. SMITH.]

E VARIIS SUMENDUM EST OPTIMUM .- ('ic.

[$2 50 PER ANNUM IN ADVANCE.

No 12

SAINT ANDREWS, NEW BRUNSWICK, MAY 10, 1876.

AN UNLUCKY NAME.

The Doom that Waited on Lewis Lewis. One Christmas morning I attended service added with an increasing tremor in his in a suburban church, which was as profusely decorated with green boughs as if Birnam Wood had stopped in there on its way to Dunsiane. in names?" The day was a dazzling one, for the glittering "Yes," I replied, "it was once thought that snow literally took the shine out of the heavens. and the variegated windows were in a blaze of that James was a bad name for a King of Scot lodged like a damask butterfly on the hand of macy, or divination by the letters of a name a stranger beside, was the means of attracting the luckiest names are supposed to be those gallows." akin and hair were preternaturally white, like highest sum." those of the Albino, and I was not long in satispremature, and that tears had washed the color from his cheek. For a while he appeared ob "Nothing," I do sooner discovered the red stain upon his hand tical." than he became fearfully agitated, and seizing my hat by mistake abruptly left the church. husky undertone, "that the possessor of such a My curiosity was so excited that I was not sorry name is predestined to be hanged?" his mistake as to the hat afforded me an excuse rubbing his hand with snow, as if for the pur pose of cleaning it. I accosted him in an off-

"No," I carelessly replied, "unless you refer to its being incarnated for a moment by the of your committing a capital crime." reflection from a red pane of glass."

looked to me like blood, and I have some rea- in view of the fact that so many innocent per son to be nervous on that subject."

As he said this he was overcome with emo- evidence. greatest difficulty; so he brought the inter- voyage as a means of diverting his mind. son with whom he would like to talk over a the enchanted horse in the Arabian Nights"- keep bachelor's hall here, and some might gastric juice. If, on the other hand, your premature interment. consider us a little eccentric, as we are some trouble is a bare matter of superstitious employ what radical in our notions, and believe in all in such cases. There is the medical ring, for and after ushering me into the parlor, insisted jasper for dropsy, an amethyst for inebriety. on treating me to something, as the proceeding and a coral for nervousness and causeless fears next in order. While he was absent from the —just the very thing you want. But, to be room for that purpose, I had ample leisure to serious, Mr. Lewis, you may depend upon it look about me, and saw one article at least that all your ghastly apprehensions will prove which I had subsequent reason to remember. to be the merest shadows. That was a vase or urn, evidently modeled . After a little more talk to the same purpose after what are known as cinerary urns, because our interview came to an end, and he present the ancieuts used them for the ashes of their ed me with a token of his gratitude in the shap dead. On it was painted the Genius of Death of a handsome quarto, bound in Turkey more -not leaning as usual on an inverted torch, co and illustrated by Dore; while I, in return but holding one aloft; while the space for the handed him my city address, with the jocula inscription was as yet blank.

United States, and the spirit of Lindley Murry struck with amazement that it was some morn be as cheerful as possible, and I had the satis- village were returning from a political meeting faction of seeing that the face of my hearer late at night, when they observed a tremer that no more potent agencies than those yo any one named Agnes was doomed to go mad; Indeed, a flake of red light, which land; and all that sort of thing. As for one.

"Well," he said with a perceptible shudder a story." fying myself that the whiteness of his hair was amy name is Lewis Lewis -do you see anything The clergyman looked at me as if he doubt

"Nothing," I coolly answered, "except that livious of everything about him, but he no the Christian name and the surname are iden for he has confessed the crime.

"And have you not heard," he asked in

"I have heard something of the kind," I refor following him, and I must say that I felt plied, "but I never supposed such an absurd fense, as he must inevitably be hanged" still more inquisitive on finding him nervousiy idea could give a moments uneasiness to any hand way, so as to restore his composure, and lieve that events as much beyond me as the tion of his old belief that any effort to oppose moonlight one, and without a cloud, exthe exchaige of hats was duly effected; but in procession of the equinoxes, will yet place the his destiny would be like a nautilus comings cept those rose-colored ones which help to spite of my nonchalant air, he saw that I took a black cap upon my brow. It was once the into collission with a man-of-war. deep interest in his case, and as I turned to go custom to bury murderers with a stake through he asked with an affectation of indifference, the heart; but mine is pierced in advance all?" said I. whether I had observed anything peculiar about whenever I think of the deep damnation of my

"But," I reasoned, "consider the impossibility

"I have taken all that into consideration," he "Was that all?" he eagerly demanded. "It responded, "but it affords me little consolation sons have been the victims of circumstantial tion, and the muscles of his jaw became so con. Nothing could be said to that, so I started off tracted that he could only articulate with the on another tack by advising him to take a sea view to a close by begging me to call upon him "For," I continued, "when "re once get to the following day, as I was just the sort of per-riding a particular hobby, it soon becomes like instance, in which they wear a hyacinth stone He then thanked me for being so punctual, for sleeplessness, an agate for eye diseases, a

On the return of my host he resumed the onversation as follows:

"I was speaking a moment ago of 'the isms assurince that I would be happy to procure his acquital whenever he was placed on trial for his life.

I returned to the city a day or two afterward, assurance that I would be happy to procure his of the day.' Do you believe in any of them?" and had forgotten all about my friend Lewis. "I can't say that I do," was my reply, "and I when his spiritual adviser came to me one regard the majority of them as humbugs of the morning by the early train and brought the most colossal proportions. Take spiritualism, appalling intelligence that he (Lewis) had most colossal proportions. Take spiritualism, apparing intelligence that he (Lewis) had for example; how can any intelligent person put faith in that, when the ghost of Daniel of such exceptional atrocity that threats of Webster misquotes the constitution of the lynching were openly indulged. I was so thought, a guilty look, and made strenuou efforts to prevent any one from descending into Here he hesitated for a moment, and then the cellar, from which proceeded an odor as of burning flesh. But, pushing him aside, they surried down to see a most sickening sight. "You have heard of such a thing as a fatility A furnace of unique design had cracked with the heat, exposing to view the calcine I remains of poor Andrews. The murderer fled in the dark and at the time of his gapture was en gaged in burying a bloody razor, and a will by which his victim left everything to him. Of course, all he can do now is to prepare for the my attention to his general appearance. His in which the numeral letters amount to the 'The case certainly has a desperate look," I remarked, "but there are always two sides to > ed my sanity, and said in a caustic way : "The other side of the story is not wanting, confession?" I asked. "I can," he replied, "I was asking him whom he wished to retain as counsel, and he said it for thus considerately bringing him within would not be worth while to interpose any de-

I was much encouraged to find this so called I was much encouraged to find this so called such a change. After thus getting rid of organist and a boy to blow the same!"

"Nevertheless," he rejoined, "I solemnly be"Nevertheless," he rejoined, "I solemnly betion of his old heliof that any official to conserve the same that the evening of his life will be a whole and the same that th

"Then he concluded to send for me after

"No. what brings me here is this. Shortly ended envelope with directions to open it not interesting is an ancient coach, said to period having elapsed, we may as well examine

It read as follows :

"October, 1874. "To Whom it May Concorn: Crema tion is now an accomplished fact, and the chariot of fire is again called into requisition. The body of the wife of Sir Charles Dilke, Member of Parliament, who died Dilke, Member of Parlament, who does recently in London, was burned at Dresden in the furnace invented by Herr Signers. The brother-in-law of the deceasements. The brother-in-law of the deceasements of life. At the dissection of the necessaries of life. At the distance in the property of the period of the necessaries of life. matter which had distressed him for a long and with a levity which was perhaps ill-timed, mens. The brother-in-law of the decease time. I had not the heart to refuse, although I added—"You have no reason to fear the ed and many scientific gentlemen were present, and in the seventy-five minutes six pounds of ashes were placed in an urn as all that remained of Lady Dilke and the Within the past for drawed."

Some of the necessaries of life. At the distribution of the necessaries of life. At taken such a sangulary tim; and my condition of the churches on Sanday dence in him was not increased by the fact that "I have never experienced the slightest casket. Within the past f.w days, cremain directing me where to find I im he had been benefit from travel," he replied; "for in my indirecting me where to find I im he had been benefit from travel," he replied; "for in my indirecting me where to find I im he had been benefit from travel," he replied; "for in my indirecting me where to find I im he had been benefit from travel," he replied; "for in my indirecting me where to find I im he had been benefit from travel," he replied; "for in my indirecting me where to find I im he had been benefit from travel," he replied; "for in my indirecting me where to find I im he had been ordered at Viennation of the clear of the churches on Sanday Langstroth. With in most year, 144, and brought it with him had just the furnace of Dr. Reclum has dence in him was not increased by the fact that in directing me where to find! im he had been to divulge his name.

"By the way"—I called after him—"What as the country of the garrote, and upon France name shall I ask for."

But he pretended not to hear me, and thurried off faster than ever.

The next day I called upon him pursuant to my promise, and when he appeared in answer to my knock, addressed him as "Mr. Andrews"—that being the name on the door-plate.

"Mr. Lewis," said I, "the morbid condition to you describe might be occasioned by as simple to the plied, "and I only wish, it was for a reason which will presently appear. Mr. Andrews and I only mish, it was for a reason which will presently appear. Mr. Andrews and I only mish, it was for a reason which will presently appear. Mr. Andrews and I will presently appear. Mr. Andrews and I nothing more nor less than a deficiency of wer are no longer tormented by the fear of to walk. The family records show, how city be given to the facts of my case in order that something of a practical charac ter may thereby be given to the cremation movement in America.

CALEB ANDREWS."

United States, and the spirit of Lindey Aury is not aware that prepositions govern the obis not aware that preposition to lynch him, and to ask the particulars of the tragedy.

You know it is still the tendency of human
The reader will preceive that I was trying to

"Well," he began, "several residents of our nature to drive the nail to its head and to prospects he replied;

stepping on a rope which had been placed nd his neck

Calling on the clergyman to corroborate my statement. I succeeded in convinc ing the majority of the crowd that they draw his picture and to represent him were almost as much indebted to me as standing behind a tree. from committing one of those blunders which are said to be worse than crimes.
"But how about the bloody razor and this world to one do."

the will? asked one of the most incredu-

Lewis explained that as follows : "Mr. Andrews made me promise that after his death I would sever his jugular vein before committing his body to the flames, so as to preclude the possibility of his being burned in a trance. t'a I was suspected of murder, I was anxious to conceal what would be likely to afford additional grounds for that suspicion."

1 have done with the unpleasant part of my story. Mr. Lewis was set at liberty, "Can you recall the precise language of that is a matter of course, and found that the onfession?" I asked. tion that he changed his namethe act authorizing a charge of name on ted with the following object in view: "Wo its being shown to the court that the petibeautify the sunset.

An Interesting Relic.

sealed envelops with directions to open it not interesting is an ancient coach, said to less than three days after his death. That have been made for the good Queen Bess, when she ascended the English throne in 1492, now on its way to this city from Boston. It was the state coach during the whole of her long reign. During the reign of James I. it was probably but little used. but Charles, during the war of the Commonwealth used it as his travelling car-riage while with the army, and the dilapidated covering inside, even now, shows astrons battle of Marston Moor, in 1643, the news we are no longer tormented by the fear of premature interment. Let it go on until we no longer have reason to imagine that every churchyard rose has once bloomed upon some cheek, and that every churchyard rose has once bloomed upon some cheek, and that every churchyard rose has the look of some blue e.c. "Having been assured by the best media" without that I am liable to die at any moment of heart disease. I have had a furnace constructed in my cellar something on the principle of the one for which Proper fessor Branetti of Padua, exhibited models to the Vienna Exposition; and Mr. Lewis in March 1773. From that time its history realigion and telling disagreeable stories. fessor Brunetti of Padua, exhibited models at the Vienna Exposition; and Mr. Lewis has consented to perform for me the same service which Lord Byron and Leigh Hunt performed for the post Shelby by the bay of Spezzia.

"I have written this to show that Mr. Lewis has acted with full authority from the same service with full authority from the same service which Lord Byron and Leigh Hunt in a barn on Fort Hill, in Boston, and restod unused till 1830, when, the barn again 7° said the leader of the band. "Bedistinguished archaeologist of Salem, who cause I am a prison chaplain, was the re-Lewis has acted with full authority from has preserved it with great care, with plyme, and to request that the widest publi- Mehitible Higginson's harpsichord and A some sort of low fever, and the physician clamprons calls of a craving appetite, until attended him a month without noticing the manifest sense of an internal fulness. "Hurrah!" I shouted, waving the paper above my head, "Your great murder has literally ended in smoke, and our friend to lose practice. If the man died on his lands, the physician decided to abandon the case, Calling the wife out doors he wave you hever noticed as mostly all the places on this line begins with a H?—Aw, beg your pardon?—Irok at 'em?' Amp-dip the sponge in the gall. At all events we had better make the explanation at a case before. I commenced with 'A' in other day to a lady, in whose parlor he saw the alphabet of medicine, and have run a portrait of a lovely woman, of, say, five and haven't moved and twenty. Upon the entrance of the lady-

When she asked about her husband's don, 'Arrow, Olloway,' and 'Orney,' I speak proper Hinglish.

Vol 43

An Irishman once ordered a painter to

VARIETIES.

An old farmer once said, with more truth than elegance: "There are two talks in

A Washington physician argues that love proceeds from the stomach, and that heart has nothing to do with it. He says that corned beef and mealy potatoes beget

A Granger writes to a rural paper to ask "how long cows should be milked?" Why, the same as short cows, of course.

brend, and the baker says he won't trust you any longer!" Irate Hibernian-"The mane baste!" No bread? Bedad, then, I must have toast!

tioner will derive a pecuniary benefit from our names for the purpose of paying the What a mother lacks in skill she makes up in enthusiasm when she cuts her boy's hair. The back of his hair may look like

A si b cription paper was lately circulathunder, but every scollop is a bright vision of devoted affection to the understanding mind. - Danbory News. An elderly Wicklow maiden, who has conceit and boots. Woman-the waiter, perforce, on the aforesaid animal. A Western paper announces the illness, of its editor, piously adding "All good subscribers are requested to mention him in their prayers. The others need not, a

A Trenton editor makes the statement. for the good of correspondents, that they need not commence their communications "I take my pen in hand," as he don't care sitive. At one of the churches on Sanday

Mehitible 'Higginson's harpsichord and many other ancient relics for many years.

A Lucky Move.—A Western man had A Lucky Move.—A Western man had have already indulged the

"I can't come any more; I'm going to beg your pardon?—Look at 'em? 'Amparaland to live."

faction of seeing that the face of my hearer had already lost something of its paller.

In the alphabet of medicine, and have run down to and so forth, and haven't moved the chimney of the house occupied by Andrews and the chimney of the bose occupied by Andrews and the chimney of the bose occupied by Andrews and the chimney of the bose occupied by Andrews and the chimney of the bose occupied by Andrews and the chimney of the bose occupied by Andrews and the chimney of the bose occupied by Andrews and the chimney of the bose occupied by Andrews and the chimney of the bose occupied by Andrews and the chimney of the bose occupied by a man whose open that the same popular superstitions in much the same the best in the alphabet of medicine, and have run down to and so forth, and haven't moved the alphabet of medicine, and have run down to and so forth, and haven't moved the alphabet of medicine, and have run down to and so forth, and haven't moved the alphabet of medicine, and have run down to and so forth, and haven't moved the alphabet of medicine, and have run down to and so forth, and haven't moved the alphabet of medicine, and have run down to and so forth, and haven't moved the alphabet of medicine, and have run down to and so forth, and haven't moved the alphabet of medicine, and have run down to and so forth, and haven't moved the alphabet of moved the alphabet of moved and twenty. Upon the entrance of the lady.

We were not a moment too soon. A the sum of the mouth of it is an anext day, and have run down to and so forth, and haven't moved the alphabet of moved and twenty. Upon the entrance of the lady. The patient fell out of bed and broke the Mississippi, had already taken Lewis his arm next day, and therefore the saw the best of a lovely man, and twenty. Upon the entrance of the lady. The patient fell out of bed and broke the visitor asked her it we wish a social provided the entrance of the lady. The patient fell out of bed and broke the Mississippi, had already taken Lewis his arm next day, and there