ONTARIO.

At the last session of the Parliament of Old Canada, 1866, Sir John A. Macdonald introduced resolutions providing for the Local Governments of Ontario and Quebec; the resolution for one chamber for Ontario of the question.

In the Auditor General's report for 1879 is the following:
Leg. Council allowance & travelling expense, $6,442
Leg. The amendment was carried by a vote of 10 to 1. Mr. Young alone voted against it, the Government revolutions were appointed to the Council at the opening of the session, when members of the House sustained them on divisions. The merits of a question depend largely with some upon the stand point where it is viewed from.

THE VACANCIES IN THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL. As the session of 1879 members received $300 each for their expenses, with $700 additional to the President of the Council. As the session continued thirty-nine days, the pay of the members was $8 per dien, and the President over $25. In addition to legislative, executive duties. When its number was increased to over twenty, its quorum was eight.

As the session continued thirty-nine days, the pay of the members was $8 per diem, and the President over $25. In addition to this, they received ten cents per mile for travelling each way by rail; if otherwise, twenty cents.

THE FARMERS' PARLIAMENT.

At the session of 1880, an Act passed at the instance of the Government creating a Board of Agriculture or "Farmers' Parliament." The following is section 6: "The members of the Board shall receive $2 per day for each day's session, and ten cents travelling expenses per mile one way."

Agricultural Grants.

In 1879 fifty four agricultural societies of New Brunswick received $10,964. In 1879 fifty four agricultural societies of New Brunawick received $10,964. When the contingencies of the Legislative Council are added to the $9,974 requested by the Auditor, its cost to the country will be greater than the aid given to its most important interest—the one more than any other the hope of the future. Since the Union the Legislative Council has cest not less than $150,000.

Had the Council been abolished, at the session Governor Chandler called attention to the question—the last ever held in the "Old Province Hall," rich in noble works and doings of patriotic men, ranking among their number not a few of the most gifted for New Brunawick's sons—to-day the old building might have been standing, the oldest and most historic in York, and the erection of the edifice occupying its ground been avoided, and the expenditure saved of over $80,000.

The question of the Capital excited an interest certainly unequalled since the agitation culminating in the Union of the Provinces. The Government was in great peril, from the division of its members, as shown on the journals, yet throughout the lengthened contest at no time was the Legislative Council consulted on the question of the define consulted on the question. On what ground can the Legislature of New Brunawick longer continue the present state of things. Are its representatives less patriotic or less intelligent than representatives of shew seem the work. If British Columbia finds a Legislature connect consulted on the question of the confederacy. As in the Dominion Parliament New Brunawick has no per, so any the provincial Governments and Legislatures, she must not be allowed to coupy a second place.

If British Columbia finds a Legislative Assembly with an Executive of three, Manitoba a Legislature, she must not be allowed to coupy a second place.
