

PROVINCIAL NEWS

HOPEWELL HILL, Jan. 4.—The death occurred at Curryville yesterday morning of Willie Smith, the eighteen year old son of Chipman Smith, death resulting from a complication of diseases with which the deceased had been afflicted for several weeks.

Celia Peck, daughter of C. A. Peck, Q. C., has gone to St. John to spend the winter. Miss Peck has been organist of St. John's Church of England for several years, and will be very much missed. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Peck, who have been living in Boston for a number of years, returned to their home here this week. Mr. Peck's many friends regret that his health is unsatisfactory, but hope the change may prove beneficial to him.

HOPEWELL HILL, Jan. 9.—The remains of the late Mrs. A. H. Kinney, whose death occurred in New York last week, were brought here for burial, and yesterday afternoon were laid to rest in the new cemetery, a large gathering of friends and acquaintances being present to pay the last tribute of respect to the deceased. The service was conducted by Rev. F. D. Davidson, pastor of the Baptist church, S. B. Barrett of New York, the deceased's brother, accompanied the body here.

A largely attended Baptist church social was held at the residence of Asah W. Peck, Riverside, on Monday night, by the Hill section of the church. Through the creek and river are mostly closed, the bay remains remarkably clear of ice for the time of year. A schooner passed up by the island this week to the Cumberland Basin and the light station people are still able to get off for the mails, something unusual for this time in the winter.

The price of hay is gradually advancing, being now $8, loose, in the barn, and $10, stacked. The school house on Lower Cape has been closed inside with matched spruce sheathing. W. E. Callahan was the contractor.

Messrs. B. & R. Milton, lumbermen, are now erecting a store at Memel, near which place they have logging crews at work. Otis Tingley of Midway is engaged in pressing hay on the great marsh for Lieut. Gov. McElean.

UNIVERSITY ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE, Jan. 12.—Tomorrow the boys will enjoy a holiday, occasioned by a visit from Very Rev. G. A. Dion, C. S. C., Provincial of the Holy Cross Order for Canada. Speeches were delivered, one in English by Harry McInerney, and one in French by Maximilian Cormier. The Rev. gentleman responded in a graceful manner, announcing his intention of donating two special prizes for the study of Christian Doctrine.

Many of the students yet figure as absentees. They are apparently afraid of the smallpox, which is not within thirty-five miles of the college. MILLTOWN, Jan. 16.—The united prayer meetings on each side of the river are very much better attended than last year, and are deeply interesting.

W. H. Nichols, who has been since the mill commenced in the employ of the cotton mill as bookkeeper and paymaster, has resigned, and the place has been filled by the appointment of Alex. Adams of Merriton, Ont.

Mrs. Heaney, who has been very ill with pneumonia, is able to be around the house again. Alex. Baxter is improving rapidly from what was feared would result in blood poisoning. Mrs. Henry Peck is quite ill with gastric fever. Her little daughter, who has also been very ill, is recovering.

Frank McCurdy, who has been visiting his parents, has returned to Toronto. Miss Myra Andrews entered the graduating class of 1900 on Wednesday.

W. H. Nichols, who has left the employ of the cotton mill, will enter the insurance business in Calais. Willie Kirby writes home from Sackville that he had to submit to vaccination while travelling on the cars last week. Rev. Hammond Jobson also submitted to the same operation at the same time. They were travelling to Mount Allison to resume their studies.

On New Year's day Mrs. Henrietta Bean died in Calais, aged 77 years and 8 months. On Sunday in Milltown, Me., Mrs. John Conboy died, aged 65 years, relict of the late John Conboy; and Frank A. Stevens, aged 71 years, 11 months, was buried.

H. Ripley of this town is building a lath mill near the side of the saw mill on the Board road. Frank Shipp and Mrs. Nell Morrison of this place have been called upon to mourn the loss of their father, William Morrison, who died in Waterville, Maine, Dec. 27th.

Miss Annie Pomeroy, eldest daughter of Samuel Pomeroy of Upper Littleton, was buried on Sunday last at Pomeroy Ridge. Rev. Mr. Peacock officiating. She was a young lady very much beloved by all who knew her. Consumption was the cause of death.

WHITE'S COVE, Queens Co., Jan. 10.—An interesting event took place on Monday evening at the residence of Isaac Farris, Mill Cove, when his daughter Bertie was united in marriage to Arthur Marshall of South Dakota, U. S. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. B. McDonald in the presence of a large number of friends.

Lemuel O. Farris of Mill Cove, who was recently married to Miss Knox of Marr's Hill, Maine, arrived home on Friday, accompanied by his bride. The many friends of the young couple wish them bon voyage.

A. D. McLean of Cambridge, Queens Co., a popular commercial traveller, was united in marriage Jan. 2nd to Miss Minnie C. Farris, daughter of Nathaniel Farris of Briggs Corner, Queens Co. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. McD. Clarke, Gagetown, held service here in St. John's church last night. A large congregation was present. The Rev. gentleman preached an eloquent course from the 15th chapter of Matt.

and 26th verses: "For what is a man profited if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul, or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?"

The parishes of Cambridge and Waterville have been without rest since the departure of Rev. A. J. Gollmer to Waterville, Kings Co., last summer.

HAMPTON, Jan. 11.—Last night the Branch Bible Society of Hampton held its annual meeting in the Agricultural Hall, which was fairly well filled with an audience that evidently enjoyed the form and matter of the programme. First there was an excellent choir, composed of members of the Episcopal, Baptist and Methodist churches, that, under the administration of the organist, Miss McLean, sang two anthems, one a Gloria with recitative and chorus, the other a Christmas anthem by Stearns to the hymn, "Hail! What Mean Those Holy Voices." They also led the people in four noble hymns suitable to such an occasion.

The report of the secretary, Wm. Frost, was cheery and encouraging, for did it not show an advance on the collections last year, with "more to follow from the collectors who have been a little dilatory in making reports?"

A third element which seemed to take the meeting out of the ordinary run, was the fact that there were no set resolutions for the respective speakers, and, secondly, but in a delightful uniformity which, however, proved better than the more set and precise rule.

The president, Rev. Mr. McNeill (Baptist), led off with a few remarks, and then proceeded to read a brief introductory words as to the various speakers took their turn. Rev. W. W. Lodge (Methodist), waxed warm and eloquent over the literary excellence of the Book of Books, quoting its sublime passages, and its grandeur and its power as to win the enthusiastic applause of his hearers.

Rev. Mr. Weddall (Methodist), of St. John, in his calm but forceful style, reviewed the work of the parent Bible Society, and in eloquent words told of what great things had been wrought.

Mr. McKelvie, the general agent, gave some interesting experiences of his in moving about the country on his arduous errands, and encouraged us, as to the outlook of the auxiliary for the opening year of the new century.

Rev. C. D. Schofield (Episcopal), wondered how it had come about that the meeting had produced all the leading elements of a well prepared sermon. In order that he had listened to the "introduction," the "divisions," the "body," and now it was left for him to make the "application," which he did in an earnest appeal for a greater love for and closer study of this priceless treasure, and by personal application of its truths and precepts to daily life, help to bring on the day when the great central fact of the book should be known in all lands and the Christ life be the life of every Christian.

In addition to all this there was the election of officers, which resulted as follows: President, Rev. C. D. Schofield; vice-presidents, Rev. Messrs. McNeill and Lodge; secretary, Wm. Frost; treasurer, J. W. Smith, and an executive committee, the same as last year.

Many of the regular attendants at these gatherings for years freely expressed their views that "Thursday" was the best held in their experience.

GREENWICH, Jan. 12.—The ladies of Greenwich, recognizing the successful work of the Young Liberal Conservative Club of that parish in the recent election, gave the members of that association, and a few invited guests, a very enjoyable treat on Tuesday, 8th inst. The genial host and hostess of the Rockdale Hotel, at Brown's Flats, opened their spacious premises for the occasion, and the evening passed away under the enjoyment of the occasion. About forty couples sat down to a splendid supper and gave practical demonstration of their appreciation of the good cheer so liberally proffered.

The president of the club, Albert McKelvie, presided, with Obed Flewelling in the vice-chair. The secretary, Frank Seely, read a letter from Geo. W. Fowler, M. P., regretting his unavoidable absence. The usual loyal toasts were given and heartily responded to. The history of the club and its splendid success in the recent campaign was most entertainingly portrayed by Geo. T. Seely.

W. Ludlow Belyea, one of the prominent conservatives of Greenwich, expressed the deep satisfaction of the association at the action of the ladies who honored them.

Fred M. Sproul, the opposition candidate in the local election now pending, was called on for a speech, and in a hearty outburst of applause, which for some minutes prevented him from being heard. He dealt with the issues before the people in an able and interesting manner, and evoked at times vigorous applause and scored points after point against the administration. He pointed out the errors which have crept in and asked the mandate of the people to have these wrongs remedied. The liberal conservative party in Kings had no sturdier, more reliable supporters than in the club of Greenwich. The prospects in the approaching election were bright and he trusted in the good sense of the people of the county, who ought not to be misled by the theories and utterances of the attorney general and his associates.

The ladies of Greenwich and the host and hostess were duly toasted, and after suitable responses, the assembly dispersed, all highly pleased and thoroughly determined to meet again next year.

HAMPSTEAD, Queens Co., Jan. 8.—Stephen Hamm, Geo. C. Watson and Dr. McDonald have put in the supply of ice. C. H. Watson has begun hauling out his cow dung.

Mrs. C. H. Watson died some time ago. Her funeral, which took place yesterday at Central Hampstead church, was quite largely attended. W. H. Perry, pastor of the church, conducted the services. She was fifty-nine years old. Her remains were interred in

Geo. Byard Shipp and Fred W. Palmer are visiting Carleton Co.

SALISBURY, N. B., Jan. 12.—A sad case is reported from Pollet river, some six or seven miles from this village, where a farmer, named Josiah C. Martin, a farmer, had his house and furniture totally destroyed by fire. No insurance.

Councillor J. W. Carter, on behalf of Court Salisbury, L. O. F., went over to Aulac on Wednesday to identify the body of their late brother, C. S. Bulmer.

Lumber operations in and around Salisbury are quite lively this winter. A. L. Wright & Co. are getting out several million feet of logs on the Little river for their Coverdale mills, while the North river, some three miles north of this village, is a regular hive of industry.

Humphrey & Trites of Petticoat are carrying on several large operations on this river. Among their heaviest operators are Gilbert Steves, Luther Taylor and Hicks Bagles. Truman Jones of North River Platform is also bringing large quantities of logs on the North river, which in spring will be floated up that to Petticoat through Humfrey's mill pond into the Petticoat river and thence down to Mr. Jones' mill. Among Mr. Jones' operators are William and George Lewis, Howard Lewis, O'Brien Brothers and others. In addition to lumbering along the rivers large quantities of lumber are being shipped by rail from this station. Messrs. Jordan, Rogers, Taylor brothers and others are shipping some splendid looking heavy birch, which is it is understood will be used in the manufacture of railway barriers. In addition to these heavier operations R. L. Blake and Stephen Steves from the Albert Manufacturing Co.'s works, Hillsboro, have rented a shop here from Mr. Foster, and are manufacturing large quantities of barrel hoops, which will be shipped in cars to the company's mills at Hillsboro. Then there is rather more than the usual amount of activity in the output of railway ties, namely, to identify the excellent winter for working, good roads and plenty of snow, the prospects are that the different operations will pan out better than for several years.

The Baptist people are placing a large furnace in their new church here this week. The work is being done by the Amherst Stove and Heating Co. of Amherst, N. S.

Albert J. Kay, in the employ of the Boston and Albany Railway Co., as ticket agent at Boston, is spending a couple of weeks here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Early Kay.

There is a strong feeling in this place on both sides of politics, and might be said regarding the politics of J. Gray, who has so successfully performed the duties of station agent during the illness of the late Mr. Bulmer, should be permanently appointed to the position. Mr. Gray is a Salisbury boy and has been in the railway employ for some years.

SHEFFIELD, Jan. 11.—But two schools opened on Monday last, the opening of the term, those in No. 2 and No. 3 districts. Miss Ida Barker continues charge of No. 2, Sheffield academy, and Miss Cambridge of Burdock has taken charge of district No. 3, Lakeville Corner.

John Harrison, second son of the late William Harrison of Sheffield proper, after an absence of fourteen years in British Columbia, is now visiting the home of his youth.

POHAQUI, Jan. 10.—The funeral of the late George Pearson took place on Thursday afternoon from his late residence to the Church of the Ascension. Rev. Scovell Neales officiated. The deceased leaves a wife and four children. His wife died five years ago. Dr. G. N. Pearson of Sussex is a son.

NOVA SCOTIA MEN HONORED. KINGSTON, Jan. 11.—Rev. A. D. McKinnon, B. D., graduate of Queens University, and now pastor of St. Andrew's church, Boston, has received the degree of doctor of philosophy from Gale College, Wisconsin. He is a Nova Scotia man.

SAD AND SORROWFUL

Widow of W. Woodbury Wells, M. P. Had to Break Quarantine

To Catch a Last View of the Face of Her Husband, Who Had Died in a Distant Land.

The Sun's Point de Bute, Westmorland Co., correspondent writes under date of the 10th inst. as follows: The remains of the late W. Woodbury Wells, M. P., the remains of the late Charles Bulmer were today laid away in the old cemetery at Point de Bute. Both bodies came on the same train to Sackville. Mr. Wells died at St. Agatha, Quebec, whither he had gone seeking health. Mr. Bulmer died in a city in Mexico. He left New Brunswick a little more than a month ago, in the hope that the dry air of the southern city would restore his health. On account of the quarantine at Port Edgar, Mr. Wells' body was taken to his father's home in Upper Point de Bute, and was buried from there. His wife came to take a last look at her husband, but it is understood did so contrary to the order of the chairman of the Board of Health, who at once placed constables to prevent any of the friends attending the funeral from entering the house, and have since placed it in quarantine for the usual number of days.

A number coming from Moncton, Dorchester and Sackville. The service at the grave was conducted by Dr. Chapman and Dr. Steele. Rev. Mr. Howard of Bale Verte was also present.

Mr. Bulmer was non-in-law of Station Master James Sutherland, and the funeral was from his home at Westmorland Point. The clergymen present were Dr. Steel, Dr. Chapman and the pastor of the Salisbury church, of which Mr. Bulmer was a member. Mr. Bulmer was 47 years of age and a son of George Bulmer of Westmorland Point. His mother, who was a Miss Fowler before marriage, has been dead some years.
