The nearest approach to this record was the figure for January, 1894, a winter long to be remembered, when the mean temperature was 14.8 above zero, the next in line being the month of February in the same year, when the average was 14.9 above zero. In 1909, the total was 30.7 and in 1908, including several days in February, the total was 61.9.

From St. John and various parts of the province it is expected that there will be in attendance upwards of 100 delegates. It may be that two sessions will be necessary to complete the work.

One matter to be dealt with is the appointment of delegates to a dominion congress to be held in Toronto on February 12 and 13 under the auspices of the Dominion Alliance, but the most important matter will be the consideration of a prohibition bill for New Brunswick. As already announced, this was prepared by the St. John executive some time ago. It will be taken up today and discussed and definite action is looked for.
