Ophthalmology, Otology, Etc.

Lecturer and Instructor, . . . D. J. GIBB WISHART.

A dark room has been especially fitted up in the new building, and ophthalmoscopes, mirrors, etc., are provided, so that each student will receive a thorough course of instruction in the accurate handling of these instruments, and in the observation of the normal appearances of the eye, ear, throat and nose.

HOSPITALS.

Women preparing to undertake the arduous duties connected with missionary work, will in Toronto find special inducements in the study of disease. The city being in a central position and connected with so many lines of railway and steamboats, its hospitals often receive foreigners suffering from diseases indigenous to their respective countries, thus affording to students a wide field for the study of rare and peculiar forms of disease.

The Toronto General Hospital.

This hospital, situated directly opposite the Woman's Medical College, includes the Mercer Hospital for diseases of the Eye and Ear and the Burnside Lying-in Hospital. It contains 350 beds and is the largest and best conducted hospital in the Province. During
