

THE JOY OF MOTHERHOOD

Came to this Woman after Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Restore Her Health

Ellensburg, Wash.—"After I was married I was not well for a long time and a good deal of the time was not able to go about. Our greatest desire was to have a child in our home and one day my husband came back from town with a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and wanted me to try it. It brought relief from my troubles. I improved in health so I could do my housework; we now have a little one, all of which I owe to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. O. S. JOHNSON, R. No. 3, Ellensburg, Wash.

There are women everywhere who long for children in their homes yet are denied this happiness on account of some functional disorder which in most cases would readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Such women should not give up hope until they have given this wonderful medicine a trial, and for special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of 40 years experience is at your service.

ARE MEN SHY OF THE EDUCATED WOMAN?

As Afraid of Them as Child is of a Bugaboo, Says One Who Ought to Know

A worldly wise woman was speaking of her young daughter the other day, writes Dorothy Dix. "Oh, yes," she said, confidently. "Mabel will be sure to be a great belle and will probably make a fine marriage. She's just the type that men admire most—very pretty and not very clever; brains mostly in her heels and hands, you know, so that she can dance and play tennis and golf with them and do things to make them comfortable and make them feel like Solomon, because they know so much more than she does."

"Lucky girl!" exclaimed a pretty young woman who was listening to this description of the masculine ideal. "There's nothing that the average man has such a horror of as intelligence in a woman. He's as frightened of it as children are of bugaboo. Now, I'm still in my sweet-and-twenty's. I'm not bad looking. When it comes to dancing, athletics, and even to flirting, I can tread a measure with even the silliest debutante."

Consequently when I meet a young man we get along amicably together until by some chance he discovers that I am a college professor, whereupon he withdraws from my presence as expeditiously as decency permits and I see him no more. The knowledge that I was a leper would not quarantine me more surely from the society of the majority of men than does the knowledge that I have several college degrees and teach higher mathematics for a living.

"I wonder why. It isn't because I'm a peevish bore who backs a man up against the wall and asks him what he thinks Browning thought he thought, or who insists on confining her conversation to high-browed subjects. I'm willing to chime in on any talky-talk key a man wants to strike if he will only permit me. But he won't. He flees from me in a panic."

"Of course there are exceptions to this rule. There are some bold and adventurous men who have the hardihood to 'go over the top' and marry college-bred women, and even school ma'ams—but they are the iron-cross heroes of their sex." Why are men so afraid of cleverness in women? Why has it always been a reproach to say of a woman that she is "strong-minded," thereby implying that feeble-mindedness is a feminine virtue? Why do men prefer feminine brains in half portions and scrambled at that?

There is no use in saying that they don't, because all common observation proves the contrary. It is the babyish girls who, not the intelligent, cultivated college graduate. Any little puny fool of a baby-talk lady can marry all around a sensible woman. The first question a man asks about a woman is whether she is good-looking or not. It apparently never interests him to know whether she has any intelligence. He is concerned solely with the outside of her head. Not with what is inside of it.

DETROIT GOES DRY.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

DEAF MAN HEARS MUSIC THROUGH SOLES OF FEET

Says Josef Hofmann's Playing Thrills Along Nerves of His Feet

New York, May 1.—That a highly sensitive deaf person is able to "hear" music through his feet was demonstrated at the last piano recital given recently by Josef Hofmann in this city.

A deaf young man from a New York institution sat on the platform near the artist, and with his nervous alert he followed the movement of the selections which were played.

Subject Totally Deaf

Although the subject of the experiment is totally deaf, he distinctly "heard" the music and was thrilled by it to a degree exceeding that of a person with all his faculties. The young man, whose name is Jean Paul Gruet, gave this impression of the occurrence: "The main emotion I felt from the floor standing again in the unsupported, lighted parts of the body, such as the arms and finger tips. The muscles in the upper part of the lower leg also vibrated. The lower tones of the piano, being heavy on the sound waves, are strongest felt, and when loudly and quickly played may be experienced inwardly, causing an exciting sensation. Such feeling seems to thrill one and cause a quickening of the circulation." He likens these times to a moderate electrical charge affecting every part of the body and causing a swelling sensation to be felt in the ears.

Expressed Preference

The experiment is of considerable scientific interest, and those who followed it were especially surprised to note that the deaf man was able to express a preference for such selections as Mendelssohn's "Rondo Capriccioso" and Chopin's "Scherzo in B Minor." The succession of vibrations when Hofmann played the "Star Spangled Banner" was familiar enough to the young man to enable him to recognize it. The heavy sound waves of the lower tones of the piano were most easily grasped, and the selections of higher register were very difficult to follow.
